First analysis of figures received from the 1961 study among beef raising producers in the county of Lacombe are contained in a recent press release from the provincial department of agriculture.

During the survey, agriculturist consultant T. A. Petersen questioned a representative sample of Lacombe's beef producers on their management practices. The effect of each on economic returns was then measured by an IBM electronic computer at the University of Alberta. When the data had been processed and tabulated, it was found:

● Quality of the sow and the weight of hogs when marketed, on that order, were the management practices which had had by far the greatest influence on carcass grades.

● While 84% of the farmers surveyed used a good quality and type of purebred boar, only 11% ... purebred sows. Furthermore, 28% of the producers were using sows with a non-recommended breeding background. A program of straight breeding was practiced by 64% while 19% used recommended cross breeding systems. On the other hand, 89% of the producers were using undetermined cross-breeding methods, not recommended for quality carcass production.

● Only 2% of the farmers questioned indicated that they made use of performance records when choosing sows for their breeding. Over 94% used their own visual methods of selecting sows, boars and 4% used no particular method.

● Regarding market hogs, the survey showed that 55% of the farmers estimated weights by shipping a few pigs per load to market their animals at this range and 45% estimated the 200 to 210 range or 24% supposed their hogs weighing over 210 pounds.

Recommendations

As a result of the survey, farmers of the Lacombe county were found lacking in certain areas and to the type of breeding systems they used. It was also pointed out that more emphasis should be placed on the importance of using some method of systematic performance testing as selecting breeding sows. This would enable the producer or to choose his animals more objectively with regard to carcass grades, feed conversion, litter size weights.

and on on. Mr. Petersen feels that swine extension agencies would be well advising to supervise and emphasize such a program on a provincial basis.

More attention should also be given to market weights, especially in larger hog enterprises where a scale could be recommended ... notified in large operations ... could be used for weighing feed and for weighing hogs on performance testing programs, as well as for determining marketing weights.

Announce New Healing Substance: Shrinks Piles

Enhances healing substance prevents shrinkage and regrowth of tissue.

A renowned research institute has announced a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids, relieve pain, itching and discomfort in minutes and speed up healing of the injured, irritated tissue.

In tests on over 1000 cases, while greatly relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) occurred.

Most important of all — results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured skin and stimulates growth of new tissue.

New Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment, suppository form under the name Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores — money back guarantee.

Former Clive Businessman, Harold Cox Dies in North

CLIVE — Friends and acquaintances of Harold Cox, former Clive business man, will be sorry to learn of his death recently at Dawson Creek, at the age of 64 years. Mr Cox owned and operated the general store where he sold to E. Dilley some years ago.

Mr Cox was very active in all town affairs while residing in Clive. He was prominent in sports about seven years ago. Mr Cox was buried at Dawson Creek.

Mr. R. Heslop is hospitalized in Lacombe where he underwent surgery last week.

Oh, Welcome Thaw!

The February thaw was most welcome after the cold months of January. Even the sparrows which had hidden somewhere during the summer cold, have been taking baths in the pools of water made by thawing. Clive and Lacombe there was a race. The first coming out of hibernation of highway although the ground is rapidly emptying streets and highways.

The sparrows were non-existent during the cold snap. As the days continued, sparrows flocked out and the snow melted very quickly on the main street down to the gravel surface.

What a wonderful preview of spring the past week has been. In fact, it was much nicer than some spring weather experienced in past years. It was quite a "lift" to whatever the remainder of the winter is like at least we have had a whole week in succession without a chinook.

The fog and the frost of the past few days transformed bare tree, etc. into white lacy beauty. Strange aspects of the icy Clive sparrows which had hidden somewhere during the summer cold, have been taking baths in the pools of water made by thawing. Clive and Lacombe there was a race. The first coming out of hibernation of highway although the ground is rapidly emptying streets and highways.

The sparrows were non-existent during the cold snap. As the days continued, sparrows flocked out and the snow melted very quickly on the main street down to the gravel surface.

What a wonderful preview of spring the past week has been.

County Chairman Reports on Activities

"We are pleased to see so many people out for your annual ratepayers' meeting here today. This is your meeting and we want you to feel free to talk any questions pertaining to county affairs

"I am pleased to say that the second grid as a county has been I believe, a satisfactory one As the financial statement shows, we have some $50 000.00 surplus, after an expenditure of $2,785,000 which is not necessary Much better than why than to be in the red

The municipal work has been comparable with other years road building, bridge building and graveling We are grateful to the bridge department for the number of new bridges given to the county this year This is a big help to our county

Again we contracted the contingency grant work which was put on the road west of Black falds at the hill just east of the new bridge on the Blindman its self The amount of the grant was $35,000.00 We have finished that portion in the east

The total resources grant was worked out by our county crew This work was done in the south west corner of the county on the Diamond Valley road and the amount of this grant was $18 000.00 This covered 75% of the work the county handled the other 25% Total road grant for 1962 was [illegible]

The county road crew work report is as follows 71 miles of graded and re-graded with considerable work on the county roads We have graveled 21½ miles and re-graveled 300 rods

We are again using the fed eral-provincial winter works program for hauling gravel this spring and summer We have had good co-operation in most parts of the county in the removal of fences and telephone poles We appreciate this because it helps to speed up road building and makes it possible for us to build a better type of road – a road which needs much less snowplowing in the winter months

"At this time I would like to say a few words to the oil companies who operate in the county of Lacombe They have co-operated with the county in different ways, building some roads and plowing snow In the Bentley district, at the time of that bad snowfall and wind in January they did a good job snowplowing some heavily drifted roads which helped the county to clear away the road allowance and keep the schools operating

"The cost of snow removal during that storm cost the county for labor alone approximately $6,000.00 not including fuel and supplies as well We were thankful to our operators who worked almost around the clock to try to keep his routes open

I think we should show our appreciation for this as ratepayers and parents of school children, even if only to offer these men a cup of coffee when plowing the roads past our farms.

Taxes for 1962

We had received over one half of 1962 taxes by December 31 1962, which I believe is above average for taxes paid This is an indication of a better realization by the county, which I am sure we are all pleased to hear

In closing my report today, I would like to say a word of thanks to my fellow councillors They have helped me in many ways to carry on my duties as reeve of the Lacombe county I have needed this help and advice and still have much more to learn about this work

Also, we as councillors owe a considerable debt of praise and thanks to the secretary and staff They have done a good job in the task of preparing for them to do what adds greatly to the operation of a good county

Our farmers, at both county shop and school workshop are important figures in our work We must rely on the good judgment of these men as well as on the men under their guidance We are very pleased with the work they are doing to help make Lacombe county a good one

I have just returned from a trip through the Western States, as far south as Mexico We travelled through eight states and a province of B.C. and I can truthfully say that I am proud and happy to come back to Alberta and join Lacombe's county staff and work with them to make our county here one of the best

On this trip, I travelled over 4,000 miles of highways, and I am sure that Alberta doesn't have to take a back seat to any of them We should be proud of our Alberta highways"

Question-and-Answer Period

Problem of Road Allowance Weeds Causes Concern

Weeds and road conditions were the major topics at the question-and-answer period dealing with municipal affairs Some of the points brought up

Q When is responsible for weeds on road allowances?

A Alan Sebastiani: The farmer on the road adjacent to the road allowance is responsible under provincial act

Q How can a farmer with his equipment, spray a road allowance?

A Alan Sebastiani: It poses a problem. I know I have a sprayer which can do the work, but it takes three men to operate it. It would take at least five machines to do all road allowances in the county and it would be a great expense.

Q Oil company contract trucks often damage phone lines and road beams. Can nothing be done to make them responsible?

A (W Lee) Refer your complaint to police constable Ajax at Blackfalds. He will follow it up. The matter presents a real problem and has also been discussed at council meetings.

Q Shouldn't the oil company which holds the lease be responsible for such damage? The council should lay the law down and thumb some fine on—that company's officers—like.

Q What is being done to provide fire protection for county homes and buildings?

A Mr Lee) The county is now working on a solution to the problem. We want something that will work and that will truly give protection. If we go for anything we will see that it is a plan to cover the entire county. The council itself is not satisfied with what we have today.

Q There's a "forgotten corner" south of Clive where the road has showed up only twice all last year. There is one mile of road not gravelled yet it is a school bus route. Can't this be improved?

A (Mr Lee) Thanks for bringing up a matter like this. We would like ratepayers to let us know more about specific roads which need work. Then we can go out and look at them and if we decide they should be attended to this year it allows us a chance to work it into our summer road maintenance program.

A. Wigmore Gives County School Report

Arthur E. Wigmore chairman of the county school committee presented his report on the year's committee activities to the county ratepayers at the annual meeting held Monday His report, in full was as follows:

It is indeed a privilege to present for your approval the report of your education committee for the past year. Because a great deal of the school activity is governed by the report of the super intendent, this report will be supplemented with but few remarks. It is the purpose of this report to point out several problems which we have had to contend with during the past year.

The school enrollment continues to increase reaching an all-time high of 3,716 when school opened last September. A study of this trend indicates a larger percentage of the students to complete an education. More and more pressure is being put on our high school facilities in the county, and planning to meet this need is of major concern to your committee.

Last year a study of the facilities in high school was undertaken by the district secretary-treasurer and to supply us with basic information which, incidentally, gave the junior high and elementary schools also. We hope to have this study, opening and public inspection of this building in the near future.

During the present year we intend to improve the accommodations at Bentley and Clive and make a start on a system of playfields and playground equipment at Alix.

In addition to the town building projects we have followed a policy of improving play ground areas and there are plans for purchasing a good standard of school.

Conveyance of Students

There are now 53 buses operating in the county hauling 1,063 students daily. The county owns 40 of these buses and charters the remainder from private operators. As our studies show that uneconomical buses cost us less per pupil to operate we are presently taking over the contract buses

Total receipts during the year was $56,166, of which $13,135 was built up cash reserves from the preceding year. Receipts from taxation totalled $24,975 and rentals, subsidies and grants from service agreements totalled $12,419

Major item in the payment account was for education, which totalled $14,146. Capital expenditures totalled $8,897. A profit was shown on the operation of the community hall, with receipts of $1,766 and payments of $1,550 Operation of the rink showed a deficit though with costs of $726 and receipts of $1,000.

Uncollected current taxes totalled $4,162, while uncollected taxes from prior years totalled $8,104

Debenture charges of $2,136 were paid during the year against the total charge debenture debt of $33,217.

The financial statement will be among the topics of discussion at the annual meeting of ratepayers to be held next Monday evening at the town hall

"You will be interested to note in the financial statement that the school section shows a substantial operating surplus Last we be accused of poor budgeting, it may be well to point out that much of this is due to not being able to complete all the building projects planned for last year, and to a reduction in inventory of school supplies."

Physical Education Program

"We are now in our second year since engaging a physical education supervisor to promote and coordinate a balanced physical education program throughout the county This has entailed some increase in spending in order to provide adequate equipment and training for all schools to enable them to participate in the program. The [illegible] have arrived at our gym we have [illegible] this year. We have accomplished a great deal in this respect as evidenced by the successful participation [illegible] and [illegible]

As a result of the interest shown by [illegible] Mr. Reid has been asked to take a position as supervisor of physical education for the province. We wish him well in his broader field of work. The department of education has also indicated its interest in [illegible] to place [illegible] supervisor in each [illegible] section.

In conclusion I wish to thank my fellow committee members, our superintendent of schools, our staff and our maintenance engineer for their valuable co-operation and advice that have helped me greatly in my capacity as chairman.

Fine Musical Program at C.U.C. Faculty Banquet

Attend the Meetings

NEXT Monday, villages and towns throughout Alberta will hold their annual ratepayers meetings. Councils will give annual reports of their activities of the past year, and the financial situation of the individual centres will be discussed.

Ratepayers should remember that these meetings are held, by statute certainly, but strictly for the information and benefit of themselves. These meetings provide residents with the opportunity to discuss matters of mutual concern.

But one fact is definite. If ratepayers do not attend these meetings, they are valueless. If there are complaints, let them be aired at the annual meeting. If there are plans for the future to be discussed, let's hear about them at the annual meeting.

It is hoped that the ratepayers of the town of Lacombe and the villages in this area will turn out in force to take part in this once-a-year discussion on local administration. Only then can councils best assess relative merits of plans for the future.

Salary Negotiations Again

SALARY negotiations between the county of Lacombe and immediate area and the Alberta teachers' association local for this area are underway again this week. A committee from each of the two groups will negotiate an agreement to establish teachers' salaries for the 1963-64 school term.

Once more, of course, these meetings will be held behind closed doors. Details of the negotiations, whether or not the teachers are asking for a salary increase this year, whether or not county (elected) officials are agreeable to meeting the teachers' request, whatever may be, will not be known except in the most general way. Press releases, if any, will merely hint at agreement or lack of agreement between the two parties.

We submit that it might be a lot more pleasant for the two parties to carry on their negotiations in complete privacy. But we have always believed that an informed electorate is the basic need in the democratic process, even at the county level. More pleasantness, under any name, should not supersede voters' knowledge.

Canada's Pride?

TRAIL Smoke Eaters left Canada last week for Europe and a touring hockey schedule with European teams leading up to the international hockey championships next month where they will represent Canada. As is usual with teams sent to Europe in recent years, the Smoke Eaters could not be listed among the top 30 teams in Canada.

Consider the facts. The Smokies left no record of achievement behind them; they have been playing in no league, they played seven exhibition games en route and lost six of them — one to an all-star pick-up collegiate team in Montreal. The only team they managed to beat was the Edmonton Quakers, who had in turn been whomped by every senior team in Europe during a tour earlier this season.

And yet, the Canadian amateur hockey association officials have publicly stated their confidence in Trail as a proper representative for Canada.

What kind of thinking is this? We are told by Ottawa officials that Canada must develop its national pride in order to become an adult nation. What kind of pride can a young Canadian hockey player develop when his national team is taking its lumps from European squads?

If we send our best team, and lose, that is one thing. But to send a second-best team, label it as being top calibre, and have it badly licked is downright stupidity. Probably, within the next two weeks, there will be a shuttle of hockey players from Canada to bolster the Smoke Eaters. We will realize that the CAHA has finally awakened to the facts of hockey life. Canada no longer is supreme ... the hockey world, and to send one than our best is a disgrace to the country. Surely, some day, this fact will sink in.

Politics and T-V

ELECTION pundits are already casting predictions as to the result of the vote to be taken in early April. One soothsayer sees the Conservatives still ponderously strong in the west, with the Liberals unable to make up lost ground in Quebec against the Social Cassette brand of Social Credit.

But the pundits don't seem to take into account the hidden unknowns which can sway an electorate. One of these unknowns is the television screen which most Canadian voters watch with some degree of regularity. Herein lies the political danger.

Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson, for instance, will capture few votes if he makes a half-hour talk during the time normally allotted to "My Three Sons", no matter how he tries. Prime Minister Diefenbaker comes off second best to Garry Moore, and might easily lose good-will if he attempts to take over that program spot. Lester B. Pearson is no match for "Maverick", and even Tommy Douglas' agile tongue is a poor second for Lucille Ball's pirouettations.

It is extremely doubtful if Canadians really wanted an election at this time anyway. What they really wanted was a government and a budget. They got neither, and in their stead, they are going to have to put up with some eight weeks of political television programs which however educational, do not stand high on the popularity polls. When forecasting the results of the coming election, these factors must be considered!

Reflections of the Times . . .

Bureaucratic Government

Anyone who is not disturbed by the findings of the Alberta Section of the Canadian Bar Association at the growth of autocratic bureaucracy in Alberta cannot be very concerned with the preservation of the individual's basic rights and freedoms.

It is time to call a halt in that monstrous process — and take several steps backward.

Alberta now has 123 administrative [illegible] and Ministerials. If some. There is the far more populous and complex province of Ontario. Many of these enjoy far less much power — and it is in the nature of things that such power inevitably will be abused.

Particularly disturbing is the finding that the boards and superboards ... were taxes have usurped powers of the Legislature which [illegible] Voters of the people. No less disturbing is the deliberate policy of denying appeals ... [illegible] ... in the field of those who feel themselves injured by decisions of boards.

As society grows more complex the task of government grows heavier. But eternal vigilance is necessary to make sure that the basic rights inherent in the form of society we have chosen are not eroded. Otherwise, we are in danger of losing our way of life entirely.

In the past, Premier Manning has laudably expressed his concern over creeping socialism. He should be just as concerned with creeping bureaucracy. As premier and attorney-general has is the primary responsibility of taking a hard look at what has happened under his administration and making the necessary changes.

In this [illegible] democratic bureaucracy might become too much [illegible] than [illegible] bureaucrats. It [illegible] to abuse power.

Drilling Wells

Every year numerous wells are drilled on farms in the district, some of whom do not prove out to satisfactory.

Recently the water resources branch of the Alberta department of agriculture pointed out that all well drillers should make out a contract before commencing to drill. This contract should state that they will guarantee good free water of good quality, sanitary and free from contamination, fully developed with an adequate pump test. The contract should also guarantee the workmanship and material for one year.

Recommended Crop Varieties

Meetings on recommended crop varieties with Don McFadden agriculturist at the Lacombe experimental station, will take place at Bonnie na February 26, at Alix U.F.A. hall on February 27, and at Rimbey community hall on February 28.

These will be the second of a series of meetings on crop production being held at the three towns mentioned.

Varieties are always a main discussion topic coming from this time of year and a good turn out is expected at these meetings.

Machinery Bees

Often we find farmers mostly using some farm machinery and they would rather pay for the use of it rather than just borrowing it. The problem then is, how much should you pay for the use of it.

A schedule has been worked out by agricultural engineers and economists and can be obtained from our office. This schedule gives the rental on an hourly basis and also on an acre basis. Anyone wishing a copy of the schedule should contact our office.

Effect of Government Policies On Marketing Decisions

This will be the topic at the local marketing meeting to be held at the sales pavilion in Lacombe on Tuesday, February 26.

In this session the extent and application of the producer of government support prices and deficiency payments is discussed.

In addition, the effect that the European Common Market may have on farmers in Alberta is given some attention.

These meetings have been sponsored by the Alberta department of agriculture and coffee and doughnuts have been served by the Lacombe board of trade.

I have been asked by those attending these marketing meetings to extend their appreciation to the Lacombe board of trade for their support.

"THE SEA VENTURE"

By F. Van Wyck Mason

This tale wraps the history of the settlement of the Bermudas and the story of how the Jamestown colony almost failed, into a novel of gripping interest. The story is told through the eyes of the principal sea rake will drop from 6.5 mills to 6.1.

Art Holder, former chief of police of the town, died suddenly at the CBX radio transmitter last week at the age of 61 years.

Over 200 people attend the Lacombe seed fair held at the pavilion. An agricultural short course was held in conjunction with the fair.

Mrs D. R. McCormack is elected regent of the Lord Lascelles chapter, IODE. Vice regent is Mrs. Howard [illegible].

TO IMPROVE FACILITIES

Ponoka's long-discussed recreation-al grant of $30,000 from the Alberta government will be spent on timbering 42 existing sport facilities around the town. This decision was reached at Monday night's meeting of town council. It is in accordance with the views expressed by citizens in response to questionnaires sent out by the town some time ago. — Ponoka Herald

QUALIFIES FOR PFA

Farmers in the county of Vulcan whose crop lands last year produced less than eight bushels per acre due to hail or drouth, will receive payments under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act.

Drouth was again responsible last year for many low yields. In some cases entire townships have been declared eligible for the acreage payments, as others only certain sections in each township are eligible. — Vulcan Advocate

NEW AREA FORMED

Federal minister of agriculture Hon Alvin Hamilton signed an order on Jan 8 under the animal contagious diseases act constituting the county of Newell No 4 a brucellosis control area. The information was relayed by Ted Brandes, former MP, to The Bulletin. This means that in the near future veterinarians will blood test every female cow and bull (not steers) in the county of Newell, according to George Philpott, agricultural service board superintendent. — Hanna Herald

Agriculture Report Given

A comprehensive report of the activities of the agricultural service board was presented by field supervisor Jim Schaalan at the annual county of Lacombe rate payers meeting held on Monday. The report deals with all facets of the service board's activities and is reported here in full.

Albert Wagner of Clive has been appointed to farmers' representative to replace Ernest Lachance who served on the board for the past eleven years. Other than this above appointed there has been no change in the board.

Weeds and Chemicals

There was considerable improvement in the control of weeds on most cereal crops over the previous year due in part perhaps to better weather conditions for the application of chemicals and better moisture conditions for the most even germination of weed seeds. Even with the above improvements some fields failed to receive proper weed control measures with the result that it was found necessary to issue 13 notices to destroy weeds and also to issue notices to prohibit the seeding of land on 377 acres.

Considerable time was again spent on weed and brush control on roadsides. As in the past we have continued to urge the local flax and calf spring wheat that was found on road allowances. All of the 2456 permits issued [illegible] 230 pounds of seeds. Even with the above improvements some fields failed to receive proper weed control measures with the result that it was found necessary to issue 13 notices to destroy weeds and also to issue notices to prohibit the seeding of land on 377 acres.

Another arrangement for supervising farmers in the county continues to be in demand. During [illegible] these farms were treated for a total of 25 times. The life of these [illegible] materials limited the cost of these services at $7.00 made for those who can [illegible] enough to utilize it. Clive Residents Plagued By Fog, Street Lights Failure

CLIVE — Combine a dense fog with the failure of street lights at the height of a very black night. This happened in Clive on Tuesday evening, when the street lights failed to come on. It took one hour to the old days before electricity.

Perhaps the good old days were not as good after all. Most people will agree that lighting up the streets is a vast improvement over the darkness of flashlight which was necessary only a few short years ago.

Fog Good Omen?

Many old-timers say that to days after a misty fog there will be rain. If this proves correct then the month of April should be given the farmers nearly needed moisture to start the crops on their way, this spring. There has been plenty of fog recently.

Auditor's Certificate

We have examined the balance sheets of the Lacombe Municipal Hospital as at December 31, 1962, the Statement of Revenue Fund Income and the Statement of Revenue Fund Expense for the year ended on that date, and the supporting statements. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of the accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheets and statements of income and expense present fairly the financial position of the hospital as at December 31, 1962 and the results of its financial operations for the year ended on that date, as determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles

I hereby certify that to the best of my knowledge the data contained in this return represents a true statement of the financial operations of the hospital

BANK NIGHT DEPOSITORY PROVIDES CUSTOMER SERVICE
Burglars just can't make a decent living on Lacombe anymore — not since local residents and businessmen have started putting away their cash safely at night and week ends.
Much less money is being stowed away in "secret" hiding places — left around the house or in a till over night. Instead, it goes where it should — in the bank. It's deposited in the Bank of Montreal's dual-type "around the clock" depository vault.
There the cash or sales invade a special vault away from burglars' adhesive fingers.
The B of M's new depository unit allows both private and business customers to make deposits any hour of the day or night, seven days a week, whether the bank is open or not.
Why not drop in and ask Fred Pamenter the manager or one of his staff about this new service. It's worth the saving in peace of mind.

AWAKE NIGHTS ASLEEP DAYS
Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. Tired, hot, dry and sore are dull and aching throughout the day. All of which may be due to a temporary deficiency of vitamin B1. Ask for the aid of Dodd's Kidney Pills.
Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they are weak or diseased and allow these poisons to remain in the blood, backache, disturbed rest, tired feeling and headaches may result. If you don't rest well at night — if you haven't that vigorous feeling early in the daytime — see Dodd's Kidney Pills. Pills. You can depend on Dodd's.

The Rotary Club's '63 Calendar Campaign

In the past, there have been unfortunate instances where we have been missed, or occupants have been away when this canvasser called. Then people wishing to be listed on the Rotary Calendar have not had their listings taken.

To try and prevent this this year, we are providing for listing by mail if you wish. As before, however, Rotarians make their calls within the next few days

To be sure of inclusion of your listing on the calendar, please fill in a sheet with names and birthdays of all members of your immediate family along with your wedding anniversary date and send to The Secretary, Rotary Club of Lacombe, together with your remittance of $1.

This will ensure your receiving the calendar with your own personal listings on it.

The Rotary Club thanks the citizens of the district for the splendid post support you have given this "Project in Friendliness" and we look forward to meeting you again as we embark on our sixth annual Birthday Calendar project next week.

Calgary Here Next Friday Night

Pee Wee Champs

Lacombe Rockets meet Calgary Adderson Builders at jubilee stadium Friday night at 8:30. Both had a one-game holiday as their best-five series for the provincial senior hockey championship.

Rockets trampled the Addersons 9-2 in the opener at Calgary but Sunday after a one-day layoff in their first game of play-off action along the Allan cup trail. Third game was played at Calgary Monday and hasn't been set.

Winner of this set is scheduled to go against the Saskatchewan senior champions (likely Saskatoon Quakers) with the first two games in Saskatoon and the next two on Monday and Tuesday, March 25-26 April 2, and the deciding game if necessary back at Lacombe.

Rockets lashed good in the Calgary game Sunday and appear to be reaching peak form at the right time. "We could have broken it down to one name but after all, it's a team effort," said manager Merv Leslie.

After the game Sunday a meeting was held with Rockets' executive and players. Present were Mayor Ed Roberts, Jack Ferguson, Ken Ferguson, Merv Leslie, Ken Wilson, Ken Hall, Ken Hall, Ken Hall

Morality in Politics

DISTRICT residents are showing increasing concern over the present state of affairs in the Canadian government. There has been no election in recent years which has caused so many people to come into The Globe office to talk over, in general terms, the state of the nation.

This concern goes much deeper than mere politics. It gets right down to the morality of our government today, the apparent political-party belief that a candidate can be elected on pie-in-the-sky promises, and the even more serious belief that public morality has sunk to such a low ebb that these tongue-in-cheek promises are needed to catch votes.

The last government was a failure for its eight months of existence largely because its morality raised. Recent elections have seen all parties equally guilty of being sloppy with the truth and contemptuous of public intelligence. Such standards are poor bases on which to form a government.

Is it too much for Canadians to ask a return to truth, honesty and sincerity from our political leaders?

Muskeg Wealth

THE Financial Post reports that commercial development of Canada's muskeg resources is feasible and that the vast muskeg areas of this country might well become a source of near-limitless wealth. Both from several products as cellulose for textiles, fertilizers, resins, fungicides, dyes, high octane motor fuel, tar, coke and glycols are said to be obtainable from the muskeg after proper chemical treatment.

John E. Ingebrigtson, MLA for the Churchill constituency, sees the development of hydroelectric power and the commercial utilizations of muskeg developing into a great chemical complex across the northern part of Canada.

It was this type of advanced thinking which first developed western Canada. Aided by modern science with new horizons opened by the vision of men, Canada's potential wealth has expanded a thousandfold and more in the past decade. Technology marches on — and Canada's future marches hand in hand with it.

A Junior College

THERE is a great outcry from Red Deer recently as residents there plump for establishment of a junior college. Residents of that city are working hard to obtain such an institution; with the unanimous ed but implied hope that most of the money for its establishment will be forth coming from provincial government funds.

Red Deer has done very nicely in the last few years in receiving benefits from provincial funds. Next to Edmonton and Calgary, it has become the biggest single center for provincial government capital expenditures in recent years. Consider these. Many millions have been spent on the development of Dorchester, many millions more with more yet to come on the provincial training school, a million-plus on the new vocational school vast sums to make Red Deer the focal point for the Alberta Government Telephones in this area, new provincial department of highways district establishment of numerous government agencies for services in central Alberta.

If a junior college is being planned for this part of the province then, why in Red Deer? Why Red Deer instead of Lacombe? or instead of Innisfail or Olds, for that matter?

Lacombe already has the nucleus for a fine junior college in the Canadian Union College. Lacombe is even more central, highways-wise than is Red Deer to serve pupils east to the border. If a junior college is being contemplated for this part of the province, town of Lacombe residents should rise up in force equal to the voice being raised in Red Deer and proclaim that part of the province needs a junior college — and Lacombe is its logical centre!"

Reflections of the Times . . .

Women in Public Life

The courage and steadfastness of Alberta's pioneer political women is recalled by the announcement that Mrs. Irene Parlby last surviving member of the famous five recently celebrated her 80th birthday.

Mrs. Irene Parlby one of the first women ever to hold cabinet rank, was minister without portfolio in the United Farmers of Alberta government of 1921 and sat in the provincial legislature for the next 16 years, where she was always a strong advocate of women's rights. Mrs. Parlby's contemporaries in Alberta in the struggle for equal voting privileges for women were Mrs. Henrietta Edwards, Mrs. Nellie McClung, Mrs. Louise McKinney, and Mrs. Emily Murray, who, in 1916 became the first woman magistrate in the British Empire.

The varied talents of this small band of women were directed toward the general improvement of the woman and her family. All were highly vociferous and tenacious in their crusade, and their efforts, combined with those of other similar groups across the country, made it possible finally, for women to enjoy the same voting rights as men.

Judge Emily Murphy was the instigator of the now famous argument concerning the interpretation of the word persons as it applied to women. Her lengthy battle with the Supreme Court was resolved following an appeal to the Privy Council in London, and the subsequent ruling that women were "persons" made women eligible for appointment to the Senate.

In the 40 years since these indomitable women took up the cudgels on behalf of their sex, the opportunities for women in every field have undoubtably improved, but the modern Canadian woman, whose right to vote and hold public office has been taken for granted for many years now, has shown increasing reluctance in the last two decades to set foot in the political arena.

Many women across Canada have held, and are holding office at the municipal level, and literally thousands of women are in key positions in community organizations, but the number of women in provincial and national governments is pathetically small. Of 265 members in the present Parliament, only five are women in the 10 provincial Legislatures there are 13 women. Of the 97 members of the Senate only six are women and only one woman (Hon. Ellen Fairclough) has ever been appointed to the federal cabinet. These figures are an indictment against all Canadian women who have the vote.

The bright flame of enthusiasm kindled by the zeal and perception of women like Irene Parlby appears to have died to a dull glow and is now no more than a glimmer. While there is evidence that Canadian women are not disinterested in exercising their franchise when called upon to do so, the statistics on women on public life in Canada show a phenomenal indifference toward politics generally.

This political paralysis affecting women across the country presents a formidable challenge to the many organizations interested in promoting the status of women in public life. It is no less a challenge to the dutiful side of the political parties themselves.

Seek 'New Deal' For Villages

County School Committee Representation

Representatives of the village of Clive have changed [illegible] to a meeting with the County School Committee [illegible] Clive. The meeting proved successful. A resolution to this effect was passed at the Clive ratepayers meeting, last week, and is being sent to each village council within the county of Lacombe, as well as to the department of municipal affairs.

The resolution reads as follows:

Whereas the village of Clive feels that representation on the County School Committee would be beneficial to the village and district as a whole, and whereas we have no county representation on any of the committees of district affairs.

And whereas we only have one representative and residents of a village have the right to vote for a representative on the school committee of the county council.

Therefore be it resolved that we request the department of municipal affairs to give this matter their careful consideration and that a representative from the village of Clive be appointed to the County School Committee.

And further be it resolved that we request the department to draw the matter to the attention of the legislature for amendment.

In forwarding the resolution to the municipal affairs department, Clive secretary-treasurer added a few brief explanations as to the feeling of the ratepayers as following:

In the County of Lacombe we have an area known as villages [illegible] Clive, Bentley, Blackfalds, Tees, Alix, Mirrolagoda, Mirror, Chigwell, Joffre, Haynes. Each of these villages have an assessment of [illegible] but known that insurance covers only a small portion of it. Businesses of these community have rallied to help the many [illegible] A brief [illegible] spent by the C.O.F., is to be built [illegible] Each of these villages has a hall. A substantial sum to the hall has been spent.

Each and every one of these villages pay taxes out of all proportion to the value of [illegible] Each of these villages have no representation on the school committee. Therefore we feel that we are being discriminated against.

The following are some of the businesses in the above mentioned villages: Clive — Lee Hotel and Cafe, Bentley — Bentley Hotel, Blackfalds — Blackfalds Hotel, Tees — Tees Hotel, Alix — Alix Hotel, Mirrolagoda — Mirrolagoda Hotel, Mirror — Mirror Hotel, Chigwell — Chigwell Hotel, Joffre — Joffre Hotel, Haynes — Haynes Hotel.

Now we are asking for a certain number on the school committee. Such a letter from the resolution. One solution might be representative elected at large from the whole county. Another solution would be representatives elected at large from each village and one extra vote of either could be entered to three years the same as the present one.

Gull Lake Water Level Problems Discussed

Hunting — even maintaining — the present water level of Gull Lake could be a costly undertaking and no plan which promises complete success has yet been devised.

The two days news given last Wednesday evening at meeting of the Gull Lake water conservation met with government officials to discuss the lake water-level problem. Bob Bindman and Dee Bowman of the water resources branch of the provincial department of agriculture and Gordon Sterling, ARDA representative for the province, represented the government.

Mr. Bailey explained the work which had already been undertaken by the government in its investigations in frank and concise form to informed representatives from Red Deer, Bentley, Clive, Ponoka, Lacombe and Rimbey.

The idea of bringing surface water from the Blindman River into Gull Lake has been discussed for many years. It can be done, "but we're talking about a million dollar project and we're not even sure of accomplishing what we want to do, even if the project should be undertaken."

To raise the level of Gull Lake one foot it would require 20,000 acre-feet of water, enough to cover one acre with one foot of water. Or, to put it another way, enough to cover 40 square miles and the entire surface drainage area into the lake is only 45 square miles, "obviously not nearly enough drainage area to feed the lake in the broad cycle."

There is a buried pre-glacial channel in the vicinity of Gull Lake. Several holes have been drilled to check its exact location. We have several theories and Mr. Bailey stated, "but we believe that Gull Lake is largely fed from waters from this channel."

Considerable field work was done last year, and some money has been allocated for more research work in 1963 in an effort to gather more information on the water source Mr. Bailey stressed that even if studies confirm that this ground water-flow is Gull Lake's feeder, "remedial measures to tap this source for further water are still far from certain and could be very expensive."

General Discussion

The matter was then thrown open for general discussion. Questions were asked and answered; suggestions made and discussed. Information arising from this open discussion:

Why has the water level at Gull Lake dropped? We do know that levels of lakes fluctuate over long years, and a generation is not necessarily a long period of time in the broad cycle."

Another answer: It is believed possible that there has been some shift in flow of the underground channel. It might be that the lake basin is leaking water level and $50,000 in groundwater research into underground waters.

Private Fund, Too?

The suggestion was advanced by the government officials that maybe district residents could raise some money to demonstrate their good faith and sincerity" in the project ahead. In this way, it was suggested, government funds would go a lot further toward funding a solution.

This generated considerable talk. Was the Gull Lake problem a local one or a provincial one? Committee members, pointing to the wide use of lake facilities by people from all parts of the province, deemed it to be a provincial problem. Mr. Stirling however pointed out that it was local money so far as the local centres profited by the [illegible] last Centennial year [illegible] Mr. Stirling [illegible] wanted to allow lakeshore property owners to [illegible] Mr. Stirling [illegible] Mr. Bailey [illegible] Mr. Bailey [illegible] Mr. Bailey

Alix Senior Citizens Propose Alternative To Suggested Downtown Social Room

ALIX — Approximately 25 persons attended the senior citizens social afternoon in the Rebekah hall last week when they were guests of the Dr Irene Pattison Chapter of the IODE Rev and Mrs. Parks had secured films — a second hand trip through the Maritime provinces and a display of truly wonderful photographs taken taking pictures of "Life in a Woodlot"

Musical numbers by Marilyn and Janice Hodsworth songs by Elaine Nielson, Betty June Clemens and Joan Kuhrys followed by refreshments provided a nice afternoon

As representatives of the Lady Foresters Court, Mrs O Rebbeck and Mrs M Menage presented their plan to obtain and equip a senior citizens social room in town.

However, the group present did not feel that the probable use they would make of such a room would justify the effort to provide same — hence the plan to arrange for a general rent and convenience room such as the one in Olds, meets with everyone's approval and support

Public Apathy

DEMOCRACY — like charity — begins at home it is this fact which sometimes makes one concerned about the future of democracy in Canada. Annual town and village rate-payers meetings were held throughout Alberta on Monday evening of last week. At these meetings, mayors and councillors presented reports of the past year, discussed the financial statement and the general state of the town or village and gave an opportunity for the study of plans for future development.

But the ratepayers stayed away in droves. Ratepayers who might complain bitterly on a street corner about the high rate of taxation were not present, those who castigate the council about the dust problem each year were not present, those who have a beef about garbage, or dogs, were not in sight.

At Lacombe there were 50 ratepayers out, at Ponoka, 13, at Stettler, 20, at Bashaw 30, and so on down the line. It was a clear indication of indifference, apathy and lack of interest in affairs which are of prime importance in the lives of each resident.

Such attendance fairly shrieks too busy, let George do it." In straight words, ratepayers are asking for anything they get.

Beyond Medicare

MEDICARE is much in the news these days, and Canadians and Americans are being bombarded with arguments for and against the need for security against medical bills.

If excellent plans which provide full medical expense insurance coverage were not already available, a government medicare plan would no doubt receive the enthusiastic endorsation of all citizens. But medicare is already here, on a voluntary basis. There are excellent medical expense insurance plans already available. Some are better than others, some are more costly than others. But medicare, in our way of thinking, is merely another step toward government control at the expense of the individual's initiative.

Still, the idea of medicare appeals to theories for the future which are a challenge to the imagination. Almost all families spend more on food and clothing than on doctor's bills. Why not a food-plan and a clothing-care plan by 1970? Taxes have to be paid every year, where sometimes there are no doctors bills at all in a twelve-month period. How about a tax-care scheme to hedge and protect the individual against rising taxation.

With the ball rolling this far, it's a downhill run. There could be TV-care, washer-dryer care, car-care and so on down the line.

Why pretty soon, the government could set up some bureau to look after all individual expenses. We could hand over all the money we make to the government and they could guarantee us security. Security. Seems some such system is already being tried in the USSR.

How to Raise a Criminal

IT is often said, to the chagrin of some parents, that a child mirrors the homelife in which he has been raised. This is a broad and general statement, and open to argument because of the many exceptions to the rule, but deputy commissioner G B McClellan of the RCMP doesn't believe so. In a recent talk given in Toronto, the Mounted Police officer gave advice on "how to raise your child to be a criminal". He was not speaking in jest. His advice

Have no rules in the home for child behaviour or obedience. This will insure that the child has no clear concept of right or wrong.

If you have any rules, ignore them when you are in a good humour or kick the kids asily when you are out of sorts. This will confuse them and eventually they will resent discipline.

Air domestic disputes in front of the children, preferably with a little name-calling. This will insure a lack of respect for parents.

Never give a child regular chores or duties. This will convince him that you and the world owe him a living without effort on his part.

If he is disciplined at school, always lean a strip off the teacher in front of the child. This will create a lim contempt for authority at any level.

If he has trouble with the police haul out the officer and be sure to refer to dumb cops. This will earn him his diploma in contempt for authority.

When dining with the family, exceed the speed limit but slow down on sighting a policeman and speed up when it is out of view. This will demonstrate that the law is to be observed only if there is danger of being caught.

If you are speeding and are stopped by the police, always deny it belligerently. The child will then know that to cheat and lie is acceptable conduct.

If you cheat a few dollars on your income tax, boast of it to the children. This will teach them that stealing is all right if you can get away with it.

Never check up on with whom or where youngsters are in the evening or what time they get home. This is almost sure to help them get into trouble.

Deputy Commissioner McClellan supported these statistics in a recent year in Canada 35,000 young people from 16 to 24 years appeared in the courts, and more than half were charged with offences against the Criminal Code, 14,000 youngsters from seven to 15 years were in the courts, and four out of five were charged with criminal offences.

"I think the trouble begins in the home," he went on, "And ultimately it will have to be corrected in the home. The police, the courts, the overworked rehabilitation organizations, the boys and girls' clubs, useful though they are, can never substitute for the home, and the school and the church — but particularly for the home."

A Definition

THIS thought was advanced by an American novelist recently. It is worthwhile reading.

Communism is the ultimate and worst form of capitalism. It is one big monopoly which provides very special privileges for the leaders, including free and unlimited decapitation privileges for irritating citizens."

Reflections of the Times . . .

Buying Public Votes

At a time of trouble in Britain Sir Winston Churchill once remarked that nothing would be more dangerous than for the people to feel cheated because what had been led to expect attractive schemes which turn out to be economically impossible. Today in their own time of trouble the Canadian people will be wise to remember that warning.

For the last six years, since Mr Diefenbaker took over and remade the Conservative party in his image Canada has been deluged with attractive schemes and cheated of its hopes because they proved economically impossible. The Social Credit and New Democratic parties have been guilty of similar deception and the two older parties are far from innocent.

In this period the people have learned to distrust not only promises and the makers of promises but the political system itself. The resulting crisis of confidence in the mind of Canada is no more serious than the nation's present financial and economic crisis. By undermining Canada's faith in itself the politicians have committed the highest crime of democracy.

Crop Varieties

At the recent meetings on crop varieties with Don McFadden of Lacombe experimental station, the merits of different varieties of grain were discussed.

In the barley varieties tests throughout central Alberta has shown Husk and Jubilee to be the highest yielding feed barley. However these varieties are about two weeks later in maturity than Galaxy, which is the recommended early barley for this area.

Mr McFadden pointed out that if barley is going to be a crop where can be seeded early on clean land, or where Cache or Avedex are to be used for wild oat control, then Husky or a Jubilee would be the varieties to grow.

The variety Vega came up for discussion and it was pointed out that Vega yields about 10% less than Bill, but it matures 10 days earlier. Mr McFadden felt it would not better to grow Husk and Husk Vega because it may have all of the same characteristics only 20 better.

In the field varieties tests of peas Chancellor was the best in trial at Lacombe and Redwing was good but not as

Last Friday I w

I have been wondering for a long time why the opposition parties are so worried about Social Credit after all, it is the only party that has proved itself. Ever since Canada has had a government, it has been mismanaged by the Liberals and Conservatives and all they have ever done was pile more debt on the country.

I have been told that it is Alberta's oil that put Alberta on its feet. It helped, but what about Saskatchewan they have had the very famous and super smart Mr Douglas and his N.D.P. for seventeen years. When are they going to do something besides play the dictator? They now owe more money than Social Credit ever did, and how about B.C., also a debt free province?

And how about the richest province of them all (Ontario). They have always had Liberals and Conservatives and they owe more money than the rest of Canada added together.

And as regards Mr Aberhart's debt per month, the Liberals have a page out of Mr Aberhart's book and come up with the same allowance.

Many papers seem to think the old-line parties are the only thing, but when are they going to do something usefull besides raising their own pay??

There is no doubt about how to vote in the April election. What Social Credit has done for Alberta, it can do so much more for Canada. Of course, if you prefer to follow Manitoba and Ontario

Oh Boy! Mud

Young school children have been having a field day the last few days as above-freezing temperatures turn snow to slush, slush to water and then oh so to mud. Shown above Kath and Ken Lacey in the process of Mrs. Frank Lacey enjoys the first real good sight of mud since last fall. Frost is still in the ground, and so they can't really get real action out of it yet — but just wait a couple of days. Other six-year-olds all 'round the school grounds were enjoying the experimentation with the qualities of mud.

The Paradoxes of Packaging

Just lately I have read the article called the "Paradoxes of Packages" published by the Canadian Industries Limited which brought forth unforgivable educational buying. It has been proven that the colour, size, shape of a package influences the average consumer. I hope you are not one of the emotional purchasers.

The industry of packaging has realized the importance of appearance on our emotions, packages have been developed even before the product they will contain has been created.

Color has a great effect on us. To most of us red suggests heat, so it's a good color for canned soup, but a poor one for beer. Everybody, according to this article likes green, but many pitch ages avoid it because, as one agent said, "green is a revealing color — easy to pass by."

Let's be more aware of our emotional buying and pay more attention to the label and what it states.

The brand or trade-name of the product, the contents listed, as well as form, color, flavor, design, etc.

Plain or method of processing (cooked, powdered).

Origin (beef, moth chicken, etc.).

Kind (whole wheat, cornspun).

Net contents of the package or container in terms of weight, measure or number (According to common practice).

Get more for your money, and buy by weight rather than the shape and size of the package.

How old

We are always advertising that shoppers should do a little arithmetic and figure out just which size package of the product gives the most for your money. This is an excellent practice but as long as packages are 6 in. 6 oz., 7 in. 8 oz., 4½ oz. etc. this involves time, frustration, and a lot of rapid calculation.

A lady engineer in Hamilton has come to our aid and invented a point-size calculator which shows which of two size packages is the better buy.

The outer disc of plastic has the weight of the item and on this disc has the package sizes and the values. To the outer package size on the line with its price, then a number shows equal value for a large package.

I have just sent for one and will have it in the Farm of you wish to see what it is like.

HOW MANY ARE BANK CUSTOMERS?

A safe guess would be every one of them / That's because, in Canada, practically everybody has regular dealings with a chartered bank / Deposit accounts number more than 19½ million — or better than one for every adult. And on the books of the banks at any one time are 1,600,000 loans for just about every personal and commercial purpose / Through 5,000 branches, from one end of the country to the other, the chartered banks bring a full banking service within the reach of everyone.

Peters brothers are going to have to change the song entitled "June in January" June in February" Rain is covering the land with beneficial moisture, and the mild weather must have tinged the ground to some extent, and allowed the moisture to soak in.

Clive is not a busy place these days. On Tuesday Feb 26, in spite of the rain, 34 parents brought children to the baby clinic. Judging by the number of cars on town during the afternoon, it would appear that there was very good attendance.

So far, the curling season in Clive has been a short one. The season was late starting due to the flood washing out bridges and culverts, then about the only month that the weather was cold enough for curling. This is one of the disadvantages of natural ice, on which local small towns depend.

County Gives Go-Ahead School Building Program

The go-ahead signal for planned construction of schools at Bentley, Blackfalds and Alix has been given at the regular meeting of Red Deer County committee held on the county council chambers Tuesday.

Lacombe county architect was also present, discussing various minor matters with the committee.

Plans for the three schools have been submitted to the department of education and have been recommended for approval, subject to changes to permit system seats at three additional rooms in Bentley and Alix.

The present additions include two classrooms, a library, and a vocational unit to be completed at Blackfalds. Secretary-Treasurer George Reeves was instructed to inform the architects to proceed with plans, with a view to calling for tenders shortly.

The proposed two-room addition at the Alix school was also further discussed. The thought was expressed that there might be some delay in getting the plans at some time as cost estimates

Police Chief Criticized For Off-Duty Practices

Chief of police Orest Schur was severely criticized in a report handed to county Bylaw Committee when he was accused of certain activities during his off-duty hours.

Seven town ratepayers appeared at the council meeting to present the petition signed by 80 people They were in two parts, and read as follows

The fact that the chief of police of Lacombe has been actually soliciting for house building or an outside contractor, such an act being prejudicial to the good name of our police force as well as detrimental to the livelihood of local workers . we humbly submit that action should be taken in this matter by town council

Another paragraph included with the petition read as follows

We the undersigned, being resident and taxpayers of the town of Lacombe, do hereby petition the council of the town of Lacombe to investigate and act upon a matter of great importance to all business people working and interested parties.

This important matter being that an employee of the town of Lacombe, while his wages are being paid by the taxpayers of the town is duly and wilfully soliciting business for an Edmonton firm, in direct competition with already established businesses. This must be stopped."

The petition was presented to council by a delegation which included George Ray, Lloyd Wallace, Bill Stan, Rev. K. Sparrow, Walter Gillard, Mel Hallet and Don Pickett.

Council accepted the petition and in lore adjournment at 12:12 Tuesday morning, agreed to investigate the matters fully

Councillor Hittle stated that there had been a lot of talk about this We should meet in committee and investigate the matter until the accusations a proven or disproven."

It was finally left with the police committee members (councillors Wes Jackson, W. S. Hunt, and L. O Hittle) to investigate fully Other councillors will be notified of the meeting to attend if they wish

Council Passes New Business Tax Bylaw ... at Meeting

Tax rates will be going out shortly to local business establishments based on an assessment arrived at by the square-foot area of the business premises

Council members Monday evening gave three readings and passed the new business tax assessment by-law which puts Lacombe on the same basis as the majority of other centres in the province

In the past, business tax has been levied here on a "rental value basis" Under the new bylaw, a rate of 20 mills is assessed as computed on the area of floor space used for business premises Different rates are used to apply to warehouse space, office space, etc.

The new tax assessment figure will bring in slightly less money than heretofore from business tax revenue. Councillors agree that there will appear wide variances in computing some business taxes on individual firms in town, when compared with taxes paid last year Some are up, some are down. Passage of the new by-law completes a study which was started three years ago, and finalized in numerous committee meetings during the past winter.

Deputy-mayor Wilfred Hunt was chairman for the lengthy council meeting, which dealt with a wide range of routine topics Among these

- Report from councillor Jack Hunt, that a petition for a 30 mile per hour speed limit on the new north end 50-street have been completed with a view to obtaining the establishment of the new widening of 50 avenue west to the number two highway elevator. "We anticipate no difficulty in acquiring this strip for the purpose," he stated
- Councillor N J Miller reported on high tables to Mountain by public works committee personnel committee Hittle, foreman Orville Saunders and himself to look into prices of a new loader. It was agreed that council would accept the committee's recommendation, and purchase a two-yard bucket loader at a cost of $7,800 U.S funds ($10,212 fob Lacombe) Other loader prices run up as high as $22,000, and "we think this is a good buy," councillor Miller stated. A bylaw authorizing the purchase was passed
- Councillor Miller also reported on prices of a pre-fabricated machine shed for town mowers. It will cost us approximately $10,000 for a shed 40-ft. by 54-feet," he explained It was agreed that the expense of the new tools necessitated postponement of plans for the building
- Kinsmen president B. Selby and Don Hodgkinson appeared before council with a proposal to construct, at service club request, a wading pool for younger children, to be located alongside the swimming pool

Council liked the idea, but several points were brought up the first being that a wading pool alongside the swimming pool for construction of the wading pool Would the Kinsmen approach the county for the additional strip of land (about 16 or 18-feet), to locate this pool on the proposed site" Mr Selby stated this could be done.

Another matter come up. "Would the plans be submitted upon the department of health regulations" This, too, will be checked.

Mr Selby made it clear that the Kinsmen would build and pay for the wading pool, on the understanding that the town would provide supervision.

The matter was held over until answers to the several questions asked were received Proposed location of the pool approved by the parks and recreation committee at the southwest corner of the present swimming pool recently fenced by the Kinsmen.

- Councillor Hittle read a letter from James high school principal Mr Kerluk expressing pleasure with the [illegible] and commending the Lacombe fire brigade and the town chief for their work in fire prevention during 1962

Finance committee of the [illegible] was instructed to look into the cost of the required steel additional lockers and report at a regular meeting

- Report was received from the town's parks committee regarding an inspection made of the building which is rented by Macleod's on 50 street. The report states that the stability of the building is doubtful, and recommends that it be closed for its present usage Copy of this report is being sent to the owners and renters
- P J Beavis of the Red Deer planning commission was present to discuss plans with council regarding public reserve area land aside on the Pypow and Bruns sub-divisions. V. Pypow was also present. The reserve land has been set aside in one piece immediately north of 56 avenue, and is bounded on the west by 40

Reject Hospital Renovation Plan

Lacombe municipal hospital board members Tuesday evening turned down plans for proposed alterations which would cost an estimated $65,000

Board members carefully considered plans for house. Each room was checked another thought, "if we spend $65,000 now it might delay the time when we get a new addition."

The resolution from the directors was presented with the view that the present building should in the near future be replaced by a new hospital

Engineers Reports

Along with the architect's plans were reports from electrical and heating engineers The electrical report in particular brought the careful scrutiny of board members Thus report stated that in the northern wing (the original building) "the 35-year-old circuits are overloaded and potentially hazardous conditions prevail in this area"

Board members agreed that this situation is one which must be rectified immediately, and authorized expenditures to bring the wiring circuits and panels up to the standards of the Canadian electrical code.

Outside of the necessary expenditure board members will be left with the normal maintenance expenses this year Mean while they will continue to press for a larger allocation to bring the hospital up to standard which they feel must be raised

The Provincial Treasurer Hon. Ernest C. Manning, recalled that "Lacombe hospital was one of the very few — maybe the only one — between Calgary and Edmonton which has not had a major alterations or hospital extension in the past few years

Proving Their Worth

THERE is a large area in the central portion of Lacombe where the newly - constructed storm sewers and curbs-and-gutters are proving their worth in these areas one of the heaviest winter snowfalls in many years is gradually and quietly disappearing with maximum trouble and maximum efficiency.

On streets and sidewalks farther out, and beyond the area served by these new additions, the older and more familiar spring conditions exist. There are pools of water covering parts of streets to a depth of several inches. There are other pools formed where culverts have frozen up, and some sidewalks are also submerged by water backed up by surface blockages.

Town workmen are doing their best to keep these inconveniences down. But in spite of all their efforts, they are not able to provide the fine service being rendered by the storm sewer extension last year.

No Natural Growth

TO what extent to which the automobile has become a part and parcel of our way of life is well illustrated by a statement made recently by an American automotive executive, who explained "the small cars cannot remain stable for all time . . . they add inches, one year at a time".

This is too much, really! Car manufacturers talk about cars as if they are composed of flesh and blood — and metal nuts, bolts, screws and the like. Admittedly, the proud owner of a new car will exclaim, "How do you like that baby, eh?"—but let's try to keep our ownership pride on an even keel.

North American car manufacturers have long worked on the theory that bigness is better. It was the influx of European cars to make our companies aware of another philosophy "bigness, for bigness sake alone, is not better". Car bodies don't have to shrink and expand restlessly to fit the mood of the designers. Lots of people like small cars, and creeping obsolescence, like bulging midsections, should be shunned.

The Nuclear Argument

CANADA'S political crisis came to a head because of indecision about the use of nuclear weapons for defensive purposes. Since that time, there has been a great cloud of verbiage for and against the arming of Canada's defence forces with atomic warheads.

Those diametrically opposed to nuclear weapons consistently use the phrase that nuclear weapons are "immoral". This is a foolish argument. All weapons designed to kill our fellow man are immoral in the true sense of the word. Nuclear weapons are no more immoral than rifles. There were more people killed and maimed by conventional bombs in Europe during the last war than by the first atomic bomb at Hiroshima.

There may be sound reasons for not using nuclear weapons for our defensive armament. It might be an economic reason — maybe we can't afford them. It might be a technical reason — maybe the weapons won't provide the protection desired. But they are no moral issue involved.

A decision should be made, however, and it can only be made by those in full possession of all the facts. Either we need bombers to protect our cities or we don't need them. But to have bombers without proper armament is so to say to get the best of two worlds — appeasing the appeasers while giving lip service to defence.

India's Defence Budget

IT is both warming and sad to note that the Indian government has brought in a new wartime budget which calls for considerable self-sacrifice to meet a massive budget for national defence. It is warming to see any country rise to its own defence. It is sad to see events occur which make such measures necessary.

For there seems little doubt but that India is now at war with China. There was much too powerful an upsurge of nationalism after China's unprovoked attack on India's northern provinces for the government to ignore the message. As a result, a budget has been prepared calling for triple expenditure on defence. The budget has not yet been passed, but for the government to even propose such a step gives an indication of the strong feelings engendered among the people.

This act of India's will surely be carefully studied in Peking. By the mere expense, it is possible that a repeat of China's unwarranted invasion will not occur.

It is, however, a setback for a nation which is striving so desperately to raise its standard of living by peaceful means, when it feels it vital to spend so much on defence against a neighbor who, ironically enough, is striving to raise its own low level of existence.

A Good Regulation

EVERY now and then some group arises to bitterly criticize provincial regulations which breed construction of large advertising billboards along the highway rights-of-way of this province.

In spite of these complaints, the government's regulation is a good one. The esthetic value alone is worth the restriction, but the safety value is even more realistic and practical. A New York state throughway report recently indicates that on one section of the route where there are billboards, there have been nearly three times as many accidents as elsewhere on the expressway. This cannot be considered as all-conclusive evidence, but it gives strong statistical support to the worthiness of the government regulations here.

It might be fun reading those "Burma-Shave" signs in the States . . . but it doesn't lead to safe driving, nor does it add to the beauty of the countryside.

Reflections of the Times . . .

A Taxpayer's Credo

My town is the place where my home is found, where my business is situated and where my vote is cast.

It is where my children are educated, where my neighbors dwell, where my life is chiefly lived. It is the best spot for me

My town has the right to my civic loyalty. It supports me and I should support it

My town wants my citizenship, not my partisanship, my friendliness, not my dissension, my constructive suggestions, but not my destructive criticism, my intelligence not my indifference.

My town supplies me with protection, trade friends, education, churches, schools and the right to Intelligent citizenship. It has some things that are better than others The best things I should seek to make better, the worst things I should help to improve

Take it all-in-all, it is my town and it is entitled to the best there is in me

— Leona Gaiie (B.C.) Times

Fry The Oyster

Attracting sudden attention not to the human but to the oyster attention comes a report that many oysters, having "suffered" in the cold European winter will not be fit for human consumption Who, on reading this and pulling his own blanket a little tighter up under his chin, can doubt that the oyster's point of view is one of the most interesting problems ever to be served up on the philosophical half-shell!

Hay and Pasture Crops

It has been proven many times over that crop rotations of both timothy grasses and legumes is essential for maximum production of the soils in central Alberta Farmers in the Benalto, Alix and Rumbey districts will be given the opportunity this month to hear the latest information on the growing of hay and pasture crops.

Orland Brutvold, supervisor of crop improvement with the field crops branch of the Alberta department of agriculture, will be guest speaker at these meetings.

On March 18, at Benalto hall at 2:30 p. m., on March 20, at Alix UFA hall at 2:00 p. m., on March 21, at Rumbey hall at 2:00 p.m.

Little Royal at Olds

The big final event of the year at the Olds school of agriculture is the "Little Royal" On Wednesday, March 20, students will be given the opportunity to show the things they have learned or made during the year A dress review for the girls and a display of livestock fitting and training for the boys starts off at 10:00 a. m. During the afternoon the display of what have been made by the students is open to the public

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend This is a wonderful opportunity for the whole family to spend an enjoyable and educational day.

Paslby Creek Drainage System

An interesting meeting was held at Alix recently when the 10 project soil and water conservation was discussed About 60 farmers from the eastern portion of the Lacombe county met to discuss soil and water conservation

Henry Friesen, field husbandry specialist from the Lacombe experimental station discussed the different cropping practices which give maximum production and maintain soil fertility He mentioned that an acre of crested wheat grass will provide about two tons of cured hay to the acre as compared to one ton in an acre of brome

Another interesting fact which came up for discussion was the fact that a crop rotation containing grasses and legumes will produce as much grain as one with out them, and at the same time provide considerable forage for livestock

Glen Evans supervisor of PFRA at Red Deer was second speaker at the Alix meeting After explaining some of the working basis of P F R A Mr. Evans explained some of the facts revealed by a preliminary survey done a year ago on Paslby Creek which runs from Chain Lake down to Alix up through Mirror and out to Buffalo Head.

An interesting fact brought out in this discussion was that the Paslby Creek drains land extending just east of Lacombe all the way down to Buffalo Lake About 170 sections of land are involved in this drainage system

Mr Evans stated that from the preliminary survey done it would appear that a controlled flood irrigation system could be implemented in the Paslby Creek system. It would bring into full production about 1000 acres of land A conservative figure of a yield of 4 tons of hay to the acre on this type of program this area could yield 4,000 tons of feed In my opinion this would represent a real opportunity on which in the present time is unproductive and unprotectable

Special Meeting

In order to determine a further course of action on this project a special meeting has been called for March 21 at 2:00 p.m in the U F A hall in Alix All farmers who are directly or indirectly affected by the Paslby Creek drainage system should make a point of attending this important meeting

The Lacombe Globe
Dear Sir,

I wonder if "Social Creditor" did not sound off a few sour notes when he tuned his horn in the March 6 issue of your paper.

Had he played his tune to music he would have found a few accidentals which he failed to sound off.

Ill blame the Liberals and Conservatives for piling more debt on the country, but, fails to mention that the combined debt of Alberta and its municipalities is in the neighborhood of $600,000,000 and that it takes 24.3 per cent of our municipal expenditures to keep it going

And what about our property tax which will kill any incentive to own property if it goes any higher This only means that we have the highest per capita municipal debt in Canada. That is what Social Credit has done for Alberta and if we don't stop it, what is happen to Canada, let us vote for a party that will take us out of this mess.

Yours truly,
W. C. Bucher.

Dear Sirs:

How these years roll by. Just a few lines to give you the good news, that my subscription will be in by the end of March

Do you remember the old "expert witness" that used to be about Lacombe? Well his divining rod still works as good as ever! I had a trip about 10 miles north of Barrhead this month and proved I can still find water

I hope to have a record breaking year this year, the good Lord willing.

I don't want to miss any of my Lacombe Globes, so they are just like getting letters from home to me

Sir:

Our local editor, has copied your editorial "Majority Rarely Needed", and I maintain you dash your shoulder at his horn in that criticism you most strongly for not condemning the splinter parties which can truly be labelled "nuisance" parties.

Let me point out that I do not relate to any particular party or parties as there is no telling who will be the "nuisance" after April 8.

Why does not someone suggest a remedy for the present situation? One experienced student has suggested that every candidate be required to post $1,000 bond in addition to the deposit that he will yield a reasonable percentage of the running candidates vote say 40 or 50%

This would put a stop to wasting votes. I know of a candidate recently nominated who hasn't a Chanamans chance.

Ray Bagley's account of the early days, with names of former residents of the area, was very much enjoyed, and the items filed for re-reading in the future. So many names and incidents are well-remembered, as I and my family came to Clive area in 1901

I also remember so well the building of the Lethbrea church in the Westing district, and the

Fred McDonald, Former Mirror Mayor, Dies at 85

Of interest to many people in this area was the death on March 4, 1963, at Kelowna, B.C., of Fred McDonald, an early settler of the Gadsby Lake district, and later a resident for over 20 years of the town of Mirror.

Mr McDonald was born February 22 1878 at Shelburn, Indiana, and was taken by his parents in 1886 to Kansas, where Mr. McDonald grew up, taught school and farmed before immigrating to Canada.

He was married in 1900 to Viola Early of Eureka, Kansas, who predeceased him in February 1956.

After a year at Alix, the McDonald family moved to a homestead south of Gadsby Lake.

Through the efforts of Mr. McDonald and the few other settlers with families of school age, Gadsby Lake school district was formed and a school, still there was built on the property and was later of 1912-13 Mr McDonald served as secretary-treasurer for several years.

He was always active in public life and served on the municipal council and later after moving to Mirror in 1925, was mayor of the town for several terms.

He was one of the earliest members of the United Farmers of Alberta, and took part in the campaign which elected the first U F A government in 1921.

He helped organize pools for the marketing of wheat, livestock and dairy products, and after the formation, in 1923 of the Bulk Sales Lake Livestock Shipping Association, he became manager, a position he held until his retirement in 1946.

He travelled over much of central Alberta and assisted in organizing marketing pools. He also served for some time as vice-president of the Alberta Livestock Pool, and was a director of the western Canada marketing board.

On retiring from business in Alberta he moved to Kelowna.

Last summer, on the 84 travelled to Alberta to attend Mirror's golden anniversary celebration with other old timers, rode in the float that led the parade.

While in Alberta he became ill, and returned to Kelowna, where he spent his remaining months in hospital.

There are surviving two sons, Earl of Mirror, and Preston of North Star Alberta, four daughters Mrs E. Fawcett of Kelowna Mrs A W Ramona (Ethel) of Lacombe, Mrs R. A. Ireda of Rocky Mountain House and Mrs (Hildred) Pare of Kamloops. A son Alfred, died in 1941, and an infant daughter Edith in 1915.

There are ten grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Two brothers are living, one in Alberta and one in Kansas. Funeral services were held on Kelowna on March 6 with interment at the Okanagan cemetery.

To Sing Here

Shown above is a recent picture of members of the University of Alberta male chorus who will present a public concert at the Lacombe memorial centre on Thursday, March 14. The program here is sponsored by the Lacombe male chorus, and will include light classics, folk songs, spirituals and musical comedy. Allan Jones, publicity manager for the group, writes that "the male chorus is comprised of men who love to sing and are willing to work . . . it is essentially a glee club, and as such is quite informal." The chorus has sung in several programs in Edmonton, and draws high praise wherever it has appeared.

Health Unit Reports on '62

Annual report of the Red Deer health unit shows a continuing increase in services to a rapidly expanding population. In its report to the board of health, Dr. C. G. Mair noted a benefit of fewer included the following statistics:

- During 1962, a total of 366 office and child health clinics were held with an attendance of 10,193. This again represents an increase over the total for the previous 12 months.
- Regular school health services were again maintained at normal level. Student enrollment totalled 13,805, an increase of 779 pupils since 1961. Routine immunizations and vaccinations of eligible children were completed as scheduled and it is safe to say that this particular segment of the population is generally well protected by these procedures.
- With reference to tuberculosis control an extensive program of case-finding, particularly in the schools was undertaken during 1962. Altogether 17,836 tuberculin tests were performed as a result of which two pupils were subsequently admitted for observation and treatment of previously unsuspected early pulmonary tuberculosis.
- With reference to dental health it appears that orthodontic problems continue to be a major defect present in a large percentage of children. The absence of an orthodontist among the staff of the health unit continues a factor contributing to the fact that 20 of the children examined need some form of orthodontic treatment.

Burglars Baffled By B of M

Rumor has it that the Burglars Club is planning a protest raid on the B of M's first "around the clock" depository unit that went established. It used to be that cash taken after business hours in theatres and stores had to be put in drawers until the bank opened Monday morning.

But not anymore. Both private and business customers can now make after hours deposits.

The B of M now "around the clock" depository unit has a slot for ... envelopes or bags supplied by the bank. The customer ... deposit in the night safe ... bank officials open ... next working day.

Next day officials process the deposit and mail the customer the receipt. If the customer wishes, the bank will simply hold the envelope or bag until he calls to make the deposit in the usual way.

British Comedy at Lux Theatre Mon Tuesday, Wednesday

Inverness Quartet — a British comedy which chuckles with the quiet and subtle humor rarely seen in British films of this type — provides the main attraction at the Lux Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday March 26 and 27.

The setting is 1942 in wartime Britain. The target is a German long-range gun in occupied France. The plot is an hilarious episode of how four men plan to silence the big gun forever.

The film has its outright gaffaws, but there is a steady yuk-yuk-like from start to finish

Expect Big Building Year

"It looks like a good year in Lacombe for building," The Lacombe Globe was told this week when town officials and local building contractors were interviewed.

One of the larger contractors stated that "I can't remember when I've had so many enquiries about new house construction so early in the year."

Residential building here are also being sold or reserved in quantity. The Globe learned, although definite plans to build are apparently being held up to many cases pending arrangements for finances

In spite of that optimistic out look there has been little definite indication of it in the form of building permits taken out at the office

Total permits issued to date total only $1,075 — with the largest being for $4,000 for renovations to the Soley's Hardware and J & P Food Store entrances An even dozen permits have been issued to date, but all are for comparatively minor repairs or renovations to houses and business premises. Included among them:

Renovations to Hay's Men's Wear, $1,750, repairs to interior walls at Lacombe Hotel, $750, roof repairs alterations at St. Andrew's United church, $720; pumps from constructions at R. Chalmersh house, $260; small work shop construction for Harley Hand $600.

THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS— FREE ENTERPRISE ELECTRICITY!

It seems hard to believe that anyone would want to undermine the free enterprise spirit that built Alberta. Yet there is a small minority who wish to turn our vital electric utilities into a government monopoly.

It is claimed that they are monopolies of necessity – and might as well be government monopolies? Nothing could be more misleading.

Right now, Alberta has the best of two worlds – free enterprise initiative, plus judicious control by the present government. The operation of investor-owned utilities is closely scrutinized by government bodies, who regulate such matters as consumer rates and overall planning. Uncontrolled power monopolies simply don't exist.

Government-owned power would be such an uncontrolled monopoly. It would be called "public power", but the present right of appeal to the Public Utilities Board would be lost.

A few people might think this better than the present system of free enterprise initiative with judicious government control. Some might . . . but do you?

Candidates Express Their Views

- The Lacombe Globe has offered this space free of charge to all four candidates in the forthcoming election so that they may state their views, opinions and platforms for the benefit of our readers.

B. A. GORDON

The Progressive Conservative leader charges obstruction of his program, by the opposition party, levelling his largest salvo point-blank at the Liberals.

The campaign for the election from June 14, 1962 the date of last election until February 8, 1963 the date of this dissolution of government and administration a total of seven months and sixteen days. Of this total only 70 days

Well, considering it a fortune time and the limited time period, Parliament was not called it, the session after October 25 At unscheduled and unwarranted holiday of one month was taken at Christmas. There was periods of deep nothing, absolutely not an ugly and cunning administration but rather one in a semi paralysis state which reached final and complete paralysis and death in the first week in February

The Prime Minister asks sincerity. The future of the nation is important, vindication or the future of any politician is not With respect I am authorized that the re-election of a government in a state of present paralysis which left unreason and unjustified by has left the stronger half of the nation of its cabinet in the height of folly

The month—now June, 1962 have empty of substance of the national and opinion of the nation—plight to extremely serious, no one might have been in times seeking another parliament of nine days. The country days was hopeful of a new and purpose other in one office but the Liberal party to be the only substantial alternative to the present party in power, and that is the Liberal party.

The Liberal party offers hard work hard thought and reward. We offer to deal with the problems as we found. It's not many it's not that and they are difficult It was for a while a real hard work and to Apr. 8 the budget path for which was not to be and the Liberal party was to be.

We don't have them Think not of yourself but of Canada Vote Liberal and let's Get on the road with a clear majority

IVAN STONEBRIDGER

I would like to thank The Lacombe Globe for this opportunity to say a few words. I published an article in their paper As the Social Credit candidate for the Wetaskiwin constituency, I am pleased to accept the challenge and to present to you some of the things I had I consider to be the issues in this election

The main issue that has faced Canadians on April 8 is the financial chaos in Ottawa where deficit budgets and the increase in the national debt has turned for much worse. The provinces made by the other three parties for more welfare benefits and increased capital construction without a corresponding promise to increase taxation can only result in gigantic national debt

Social Credit at the only party which has a financial policy that will provide for the capital construction projects by using a "Social Credit Bank" which would be a branch of the Bank of Canada.

As Albertans you have seen the sound policies of efficient Social Credit government take this province from the brink of economic chaos in 1935 to the present position with Alberta recognized as the outstanding province in the Dominion

The Social Credit anti-credit is with its emphasis on private enterprise has attracted many industries to this province. Alberta is the record at Ottawa during the same period is in direct contrast due to the shifting policies of the old line parties with no policy except financial system of government with high taxation

History shows that when the control of taxes denies to suppress private enterprise that the state is in danger of economic collapse Now Social Credit is needed in Ottawa to put forward a positive policy to create a debt has been eliminated Let this record in the past be a guide and I ask for the Social Credit party which can do that for Canada

The lack of effective leadership in the 25th parliament was responsible for the PM and the Liberal parties

HARRY MOORE

It has been my pressure to represent you in Ottawa in the past and serve a full short twenty-fifth session of Parliament.

On leaving the speech from the throne we have all contained good agriculture designed to lure still the Canadian people Been we had 1 complete to be the source of the time but much of it is not to be passed because of the non-confidence vote on February 5 Our purpose in going to Ottawa was to pass that legislation. These are some of the measures we were able to get through

Tax relief was had been promised in the previous budget The basic exemption for a child was increased to $300 00 from $250 00 The Government had previously raised it from $150 00 to $250 00.

Major tax reductions were made to benefit farms engaged in scientific research.

Sales tax was removed from a large number of items used by farmers and fishermen.

The income tax act was amended to allow tax concessions to the business of manufacturing logging drilling and exploration production and marketing of petroleum and gasoline

The Export Credit Act was amended doubling the amount of money available to cover credits to Canadian Exporters

The Atlantic Provinces Development Board was created

The amended municipal grants Act Credit Loans was increased from $300 million to $600 million.

A national hospital insurance system was established to relieve Canada's welfare structure and aid into the government on moral questions parties

The legislation dying at the end of the session by the dissolution of parliament is now before the House of Commons for consideration and during perhaps to prohibit the sale of contraceptives and also the introduction of new drugs to the public.

There were through many issues — 31 in all — than another election at this time has delay of Shown above is the chorus choir of Concordia College of Edmonton, who will present a concert of sacred music at Lacombe United Church on Sunday, March 31 at 8 p.m. Conductor is Mr. Samuel Mauss. FOLLOWER OR LEADER?

Most Albertans would rather take the lead than "follow the flock."
Other provinces which have adopted government power monopolies have done so because of conditions which do not exist in Alberta. Those who want to see the same thing happen in Alberta say, "They've done it! So should we."
Does this political argument make sense? Does it mean we should "follow the flock" in other ways too? Because we have no provincial sales tax in Alberta, does this mean we should impose one?
Overseas, some of Canada's important trade competitors have realized that government owned electricity is a costly mistake, and are restoring free enterprise utilities. In the United States, with the world's highest standard of living, 80% of all electricity is supplied by investor-owned companies.
Let's take the lead in Canada, and keep free enterprise free!

Control of Parlby Creek Drainage System Is Fully Discussed at Meeting at Alix

Efforts to make better use of the water run-off and provide more efficient drainage in the Parlby Creek area were thoroughly explained and explored at a meeting of farmers held at Alix last Thursday afternoon.

Close to 100 were on hand to take part in the discussion and to meet with representatives of ARDA, PFRA, fish and wildlife service and the water resources branch of the provincial government.

Over the past years, this drainage area, which actually starts about four miles east of Lacombe, has caused numerous troubles to farms a living adjacent to it. Hay and pasture lands have often been flooded out and in other years the creek fails to provide adequate supply of water for livestock purposes.

The drainage area starts east of Lacombe where the Centre Channel that lands as it crosses the Chain Lakes north of Clive. Parlby Creek starts here. Lower Chain Lake and Lower Buffalo Lake to Alix before turning north where it drains into Spotted Lake, a swampy low land immediately by north and west of Mirror. From Spotted Lake other creeks feed the drainage water into Buffalo Lake.

Dredging Required

At the meeting last Thursday, a plan was advanced which would involve considerable dredging of Parlby Creek bottom, and the cleaning of a channel through to Spotted Lake. Several check dams and control dikes would be required at intervals along creek and between Chain Lakes and Buffalo Lake. These dams would be used to hold water for a sufficient length of time to give hay meadows a good soaking, before being opened to drain the water off. The result would be maximum hay yields in these areas.

Dam Sites Checked

Glen Evans, PFRA supervisor of Red Deer, in explaining the dam-dike plans reported that the creek has the necessary fall to... water concentration and drainage project. He also state that it had to be proven that no more than three low centre could have been found on the west basin of the creek suitable as storage reservoirs. They are...

He reported that lower Chain Lake could be dammed to raise its level by five to ten feet. This would control some of the run-off and offer considerable water storage.

Should the project materialize, it is estimated that about 2,000 acres of land would be brought into hay production and another 4,000 acres would be improved by better drainage.

Gordon Sterling, provincial coordinator of ARDA, stated that the purpose of ARDA was to assist rural people in development of their resources to the best advantage. In referring to the Parlby Creek improvement plans, Mr. Sterling stated that there is one of local benefit. ARDA could provide financial assistance only up to a third of the cost.

He suggested that two other possibilities of improvement will be explored. Surveys would be made to see if the drainage ditches along the main ... could be deepened. Surveys would be made to see if the drainage ditches along the main ... could be deepened.

Committee Appointed

After considerable discussion farmers present agreed to carry on further investigations, and a committee of five was named to ... Curt Smith of the provincial game branch was present to discuss the problem. He stated that the presence of beaver pelts is approaching a new high level, and possibly because of this more individuals would be interested in trapping beaver in this area.

He stated, however, that anyone along Parlby Creek having trouble with beaver dams should contact the district agriculturist and that information would be relayed to the games branch.

Mr. Smith also mentioned that his department is checking into the possibilities of long-term leasing of water and land for duck-... similar to programs developed in the States.

Rockets Lose to Saskatoon Quakers

Lacombe Rockets bowed out of the Allan Cup hockey running in the Quarter-of-Semi-finals 5-2 and 3-2 last Friday and Monday after losing the first two games, one game each and then Wednesday with a spectacular 7-3 win.

That's the way it goes all right, Art, but the town of Lacombe and the whole district is proud of the Rocket hockey team.

Saskatoon Quakers

Saskatoon Quakers now meet Winnipeg Maroons for the western Canadian senior title. The Manitoba champs ousted Port Arthur in four straight games, the last one by a 10-1 score, and would seem to be favored on this basis.

But coach Art says "No Saskatoon beat 'em earlier this year without their six imports so they should take them this time. We probably could, too."

Thanks again, Rockets for a good showing and a fine season for thousands of local hockey fans.

Teaching the teacher

EXPERTS TELL US that almost 90% of all automobile accidents are directly attributable to human failures of one kind or another.

Modern technology has succeeded in making todays cars and roads almost as safe as can be. It is time for drivers to catch up - through driver safety training. Only this type of training will teach young drivers the kind of "safety-thinking" so essential to safe driving. But training requires teachers, and teachers themselves must first be taught.

That's why the automobile insurance business, as a part of its national program of promoting safety education for the young drivers, pays the costs of the annual Driver Training Education Program conducted by the Canadian Highway Safety Council for teachers in many parts of Canada.

Regional School Board Members Elected At Home and School Meeting Held at Alix

ALIX — About 30 interested persons were present at the general meeting of the home and school association in the school Wednesday evening March 27. Regional school board members elected are Mrs. Carroll representing Sod Burritt, North Alix; Dr. Edgar Hewett, Stone by Alister McKenzie, Stanton by Stanley Loughrin, Alix by Dr. Gordon Jennings, who as chairman

Art Keeton county representative was on hand to answer questions from the floor and emphasized the value of the local board who have a real part in the county set up. Regionally, decisions of the county committee are based on representations from local boards or delegations from same.

The local board being close to the situation can endorse requests of local principals or present needs of their school in a realistic way — hence the local board is a much more important factor than other events apparent.

Question of vocational high school training and gymnasium for Alix were discussed. Fact that both Alix and Mirror have an enrollment of over 300 meet the requirements for a gym but the constructing of one is delayed by the uncertainty of the high school situation in this area.

Mr. Keeton assured the meeting that an additional two rooms would be built at Alix this year and expressed the desire that when this addition was completed the heating system would be changed to prevent rooms near the source of the heat becoming too hot while those further away were uncomfortably cool.

He also conveyed the good news that the county system of school management was proving much more satisfactory than the former municipal system had been.

We hope that Michael, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cooper, is able to be at home again before this issue of the paper is out. Michael underwent surgery in a Calgary hospital last Tuesday morning. Mrs. Cooper remained in Calgary for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Tessier and family moved to Alix from Lacombe last week. Mr. Tessier is employed at the Alix Co-op.

Mrs. Ken Tessier was hostess to the Alix Ladies Bridge club on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Connor took the younger boy to Calgary for a change of coat on Friday.

Mr. Ridge's topic was "Is there a real part in the farm and ranch family unit?" Mr. Mansen spoke on "Is there a real part in the farm and ranch family unit?" Mr. Purdy spoke on "Is there a real part in the farm and ranch family unit?" Mr. VanAlstyne spoke on "Is there a real part in the farm and ranch family unit?" Gold Timer Dies

Old timers in the village and district attended with sadness and a feeling of loss the passing of one whom they remembered first a pig ranchers on what is now the Johnston farm and on to be a farmer on the present Ron Burritt farm the late Frank Quiday. Since his wife passed away he resided with his daughter Mrs. Chris (Lottie) Beaumont of Calgary.

A number of residents were a member Mr. Beaumont as pallbearers at the funeral service held in the Alix cemetery on Wednesday afternoon Rev. Nakatsuka officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wasper of Calgary have been a recent guest of the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mr. and Mrs. H. Waiper and families also visited Lethbridge on Sunday during the time she was at the

Minister Resigns

Rev. and Mrs. Nakatsuka have with sincere regret that Rev. Nakatsuka has resigned as minister of the United church to take up work in Edmonton. Rev. Nakatsuka will preach his last sermon in the Alix church on April 14 and will leave for Edmonton on April 15. Mrs. Nakatsuka will remain here for a while.

Use of the Hall

As most of the people of the Alix district know, the community hall was destroyed by fire. In order to enable the children to play basketball and badminton. It has been used three days a week for this purpose during the winter and apparently the children have enjoyed themselves.

It has come to the attention of the hall board that a group of the school children are making use of the hall than the adults. Evidently the real intention of the hall was not known. Any means have been taken to prevent this from happening in the future. It does not wish to run the community hall but does wish to have the unauthorized use of the hall without supervision.

There have been occasions when the hall has been used for some function and has left behind quite a mess. Another thing children have been making use of the hall during the meantime. This is not to be encouraged as it is not in suitable condition and at the present time the board are trying to keep expenses to a minimum. Any help in this regard will be appreciated.

If you are a member of the group who are getting into the hall without permission you might warn them that the village constable will be dealing with them, but if your children are using the hall for their recreation, why not give your support to the Saturday night dances and help build up the new hall fund.

The winners in the April 15 Lucky Week's winners were as follows: Murray Weiger (2), Mrs. J. Cowan (2), Mrs. Len Lyle (2), Mrs. Filip Bartoli (4), Ralph Troyer, Dave Phillips (2), Mrs. Bottenhauer, Bill Rogers and Edwin Hennett.

Vote On Monday

NEXT Monday is election day

The results of this vote may well be one of the more important decisions of modern Canadian history for Canada cannot afford the luxury of another minority government. Matters of extreme importance are crying out for urgent and effective action, and if the last parliament is only as good as the people who elect it it must be borne in mind that the results of an election are final. It is useless, on April 9, to express regrets over personal action or inaction taken or not taken on April 8. Get out and vote. It is a right, but it is also a duty

There is an unfortunate feeling of uncertainty about this election. It's a plague on all your houses" expression which electors have shown and which they apparently feel can be best manifested by neglecting to vote at all. This type of thinking is democratically wrong. A government is only as good as the people who elect it. It must be borne in mind that the results of an election are final. It is useless, on April 9, to express regrets over personal action or inaction taken or not taken on April 8. Get out and vote. It is a right, but it is also a duty

Lacombe Rockets Win Hearts

HATS off to Czech Art Park and his Lacombe Rockets! Playing for the first time in senior "A" company, and against what practically amounts to an all-star team from Saskatchewan senior hockey league, the Rockets have not been out-matched.

Hockey fans have long felt that the Central Alberta hockey league has provided about the best hockey seen in western Canada. The Rockets proved it here last week with two tremendous performances against the Estevan Bruins in which they won one and lost one.

At time of writing, the Allan cup semi-finals for the west is still in doubt. But win or lose, the Rockets have enjoyed a wonderful season, and given fans of this area an opportunity to see top-notch hockey. Thanks to Art and his boys.

Too Close To Home

THE personalities of our party leaders in this forthcoming election are much more vividly registered in the electors than in elections past. Canadians at one time read a lot about Sir John A. McDonald or Wilfrid Laurier, but only a small percentage actually saw the men. Thus, political leaders of the past were visualized according to the ideas of the individual, and judged according to their platforms and plans for the nation.

What a change from today! Political leaders enter our individual homes via the T-V screen. They speak to us individually, and project an image which is at once personal — either of like, dislike or indifference. Thus the constant expressions, "I don't like that man Pearson", "isn't that Douglas a sharp cookie", "Diefenbaker can sure spout", "that man Thompson sounds decent" but Social Credit is a firebrand."

This personality cult tends to confuse the important issues before the electorate. It is too bad because platforms and plans are much more important than the manner in which a man parts his hair. Fine gifts often come wrapped in poor packages. Let's not confuse sound plans and unattractive personalities.

Security . . . . At Any Price

A recent news release from the national farm radio forum deals with comments from individual forum groups following discussion on the topic "Prospects for Farmers in Canada's Economy". We can't help but feel some concern over the comments on one farm forum group from Manitoba. It started out with this statement "To feel secure is all we aim for."

This penchant for security is one of the most prevalent changes in thinking which has arisen in this country since the war. "Security at any price" is merely a progression of this desire, and is a depressing thought.

Animals in zoos are secure. Household pets are secure. The bird in the gilded cage is secure. Inmates of our penitentiaries are secure. But we can think of no person who has both security and freedom. The two are just not compatible

Reflections of the Times . . .

Homework — No Pat Answer

That old bugbear of the educational system, homework, is being hashed around again in discussion. In particular the argument centres around elementary schools. The question seems to be how much should be assigned and when it should begin. There does not seem to be many people who seriously believe that there should be no homework at all.

There seems to be a good deal of fact to all those who contend that there is far too much homework assigned at the public school level, especially in the upper grades. This contention is supported by some high school teachers who say that they find grade 9 students ill-prepared to cope with work assigned for home research.

Perhaps, in part, the question resolves around the kind of work which should be assigned. Mere exercises repeating the day's work hardly arouse the child's interests. But work which develops the habit of private study and the ability to do research, would greatly assist the child in being able to cope with later high school work.

It is not an easy question, as childhood is a time for play. There must be enough work assigned to make it clear that life is not all play and take advantage of the child's natural aptitude to study, but not so much that childhood's right to innocent pleasure is jeopardized.

Opinions on such a matter are bound to differ. He would be foolhardy to spoke with rigid assurance

Beef Field Day

A field day in connection with performance testing on beef cattle will be held at the Lougheed farm, one mile south of Bentley on Monday April 15 at 1:30 p.m. Performance testing which is relatively new, is rapidly gaining momentum in popularity among cattle breeders Research in beef cattle breeding has shown that cattle vary significantly [illegible] rate of gain and feeding [illegible] beef cattle

Both these factors have proven to be highly heritable Accurate predictions of an animal's potential rate of growth is not possible by visual standards Rate of gain tests have shown that cattle of very similar type vary considerably in rate of growth A [illegible] method of measuring rate of growth and feed efficiency is by comparing the individual growth of an animal with other animals fed and managed under the same conditions

The objective of the beef weight performance is to offer a program of herd testing to breeders It is designed to assist breeders to identify and select within herd breeding stock of high calibre for both type and performance

If you have any degree of interest in this type of herd testing program and would want to learn more about it the field day's representative of the Lacombe branch department of agriculture will be in attendance You will have a look at a test in cattle just completing the test as they will be weighed out All 4-H beef club members are expected to be in attendance

"With gas you get service — no doubt about it"
"Any time I have had dealings with the Gas Company they have certainly made every effort to provide satisfactory service."
When you are the only Gas Company serving the residential customers in a community, the responsibility to give good service is great. Northwestern is very conscious of its responsibilities to give good service and extend service to new communities where it is economically practical.
We must also plan ahead so there will be plenty of natural gas for the future - and in all this, carefully control costs so we can continue to provide Alberta gas consumers - large and small, with the best possible gas service at the lowest possible cost.

Rotary Club is Entertained by Gifted Colloist

A child in the family with musical ability should be encouraged with the best teacher possible, stated Kurt Trautsel of Bismarkville at a meeting of the Lacombe Rotary club in the LMC last Friday noon.

Mr Trautsel's comment as a concerty in music as first relist with the Edmonton symphony orchestra and a member of the Calgary philharmonic.

He said that first lessons are most important with a child born with musical talent, since the student gets rid of bad habits while they are easy to break.

Mr Trautsel whose main occupation is that farming in the Blackfalds area has become a prominent musician in his leisure time in Canada since his studies in Switzerland during the 1930's.

It is hardly a question of leisure time he adds with a smile now he plays an average of 10 to 12 concerts in Calgary and Edmonton during the winter season. The area takes tremendous concentration.

Mr Trautsel played four numbers on the piano for Rotarians accompanied by Mrs Ernestine Bennett of Red Deer.

Canada faces the prospect of another parliament under a minority government.

The Liberal party holds 128 seats in the house of commons, five short of an absolute majority, as a result of the election held on Monday. Progressive Conservatives hold 96 seats, Social Credit, 24, and the New Democratic party, 17.

Some changes on a seat-by-seat basis where incumbents were beaten or returned to office and the normal house ballots which are counted this week-end may alter the present standings.

The turnout of voters across the country exceeded the mid-point 78.6% vote in 1958. In the Wetaskiwin constituency 2,000 more ballots were cast than in 1962.

Moore Re-Elected

Progressive Conservative candidate Herb Moore romped home with more than twice the total 11,180 votes compared to Social Credit Dave Dyer. Stonechocker of Lacombe upped the Social Credit vote slightly to 4,856 from the last year but still lagged far behind the winner.

Lacombe's mayor H A. Gordon saw his Liberal vote diminish from 2,718 in 1962 to 2,306. 2,500 votes more than total ballots cast in the Lacombe constituency.

Blindman MDP also lost ground, receiving 1,227 votes as against 1,644 last year. Both had their deposits.

The trend in the Wetaskiwin constituency was a solid one throughout the province Albert re-elected 14 Conservatives, two Social Crediters and one Liberal, a trend which was general throughout the three prairie provinces.

Most of the Liberal gains were chalked up in Quebec and Ontario. The Social Credit party in Quebec received a severe setback.

Liberals enjoyed a popular vote of 41%, and the Conservatives 32% Social Credit popular vote increased slightly from 11.8% to 13%, while the NDP increased its share from 13.5% to 14%.

"I'm proud to be an ALBERTAN"

"Proud to live in a province where individual rights are respected, and individual initiative is encouraged. A province where people still have the faith in themselves that made our first pioneers the men and women they were. Creeping socialism would have received short shrift from them, and that goes for me and my neighbours today!"

Alberta's electrical resources, like her farms and other businesses, were developed by individuals with faith in themselves and faith in the future. They took risks . . . and the risks were great . . . because they believed in a land that fostered individual effort.

This rugged individualism is still very much alive in the spirit of modern Alberta. We believe that most Albertans intend to keep it alive in this province of ours!

Clive Pioneers Back From Holiday

CLIVE — Mrs. John Vander-meulen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Reynolds, was a Clive visitor the early part of the week. Her parents, who have been absent from Clive since Christmas eve, arrived home from Mesa, Arizona, on Tuesday.

They spent a few days in Lacombe on the way up from the trip before coming to Clive. Mrs. Vandermeulen was glad to be home as that all was in readiness for her parents return.

They will be glad to be back home as they had to stay in Mesa because Mr. Reynolds was taken ill there He was hospitalized in Lacombe for a few days before coming to Clive.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Bogitz of Bodga park were recent visitors of the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McCormack Mr. and Mrs. Bogitz were Clive residents some years ago, when Mr. Bogitz was a grain buyer for the Alberta Pacific Grain Co.

An informal coffee party was held here Wednesday, sponsored by the Progressive Workers' Club party.

A tree planting demonstration was held in town Wednesday afternoon and attracted interested people.

Mail Trucks Late

The mail trucks were several hours late on Wednesday. The first truck did not arrive until 9:15 a.m. The days seem disorganized when the mail does not arrive on time. The delay was the upsetting to many business men's enrollment. Mail was late again on Saturday morning (about 1½ hours).

Now we can all relax, as the election campaign is over T-V, radio and daily newspapers have given the campaign precedence and consequently politics have been discussed to the extreme and practically every minute of the day.

Sorry that Lacombe Rockets lost out to Bashatoon Better luck next time Rockets!

Dandelions have put in an appearance, and although they are not flowering yet they are making their presence known.

We are given to understand that Mrs. A. Hesch, who has been visiting her daughter, son-in-law and family at Creston, B.C. is hospitalized there. She presently gained Mr. and Mrs. G. Nedohor back to Creston in early March.

It is too bad, that the long evenings cannot be spent outside doing work in the garden and around the house At present, the ground is too wet and too cold for cultivating or cleaning up. By the time work outside is in full swing, which is usually around the middle of May, there comes the disturbing thought that the longest day is only a week away and the evenings start to get shorter

It is wonderful to realize how so short a growing season can produce such terrific growth Many plants and some seeds cannot be safely set out before early June because of the danger of late frosts.

Winter Back

It was back to winter again as wet snow fell over Clive and district all day Saturday. The first snow was mixed with rain, and got points of moisture on the land As the day went on most of the snow was dropped and with mild it was a real wintry storm

In all it is estimated we have had inches of snow to date which is almost as much as had fallen all winter here.

Friday's temperature in the sun registered as high as 65 degrees and dropped to about 20 degrees Saturday (snow continued to fall on Sunday).

The weather man repeatedly gave the weather forecast, as some rain and snow flurries.

80 Enter Badminton Tournament

Lacombe county's first junior high school badminton tournament was held in Lacombe on April 6

Approximately eighty boys and girls from Bentley, Eckville, Alix and Lacombe kept six courts in constant action for five hours.

Strong Lacombe teams ran up impressive records in both boys and girls events, to win the pennant. Bentley and Eckville ended in a virtual tie for second place, with Alix's smaller team also scoring a fair number of points.

In the boys' singles, Bob Barnett beat out Randy Leach, a Lacombe to take the championship. Winner of the consolation event was Armstrong of Eckville

Lacombe's team of young grants, Bob Knvet and Bob Pountney (both well over six feet) were too strong for Bernard and Layton of Eckville, and won the final in two straight The Eckville boys, however very well and will be heard from in future competition. The consolation event was won by Kinley and Schilling of Lacombe

Sharon Lembke of Lacombe played a strong game in the girls singles, eventually winning the final over teammate Jeanne Salmondick E. Lenz, a very promising player from Bentley, won the consolation event.

In a butterly bought final, Sharon Blabbart and Barbara Boucher of Lacombe won the girls doubles event over a strong combination of Morris and Beech from Bentley

Stephenson and Wetsel won the consolation event. Those players are also from Bentley, a club that is particularly strong in girls events

It is hoped that the county will become an annual event A annual event County athletic director Jim Lavers was in charge of arrangements

Easter . . . a Religious Holiday

THE first holiday week end of the current year will be observed with the observance of Good Friday. In the midst of our holiday enjoyment, we should never lose sight of the fact that the Easter week end is one of the most deeply religious holidays of the calendar. At Christmas, we observe the anniversary of the birth of Jesus of Nazareth. At Easter we mark His crucifixion and resurrection, a powerful demonstration to all who will listen and see of the existence of life ever-lasting.

The teachings of Jesus are the cornerstones of the Christian faith, for He demonstrated to the [illegible] the power of faith. Living among men, He taught by example the need for belief in the Almighty.

Prior to His crucifixion He left [illegible] with His disciples, and the whole of Christendom, to ponder and remember "Let not your hearts be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me."

These words are a call for faith. They are of special importance at this time when faith is so sadly lacking, yet so desperately needed, in the hearts of men.

A happy Easter to all!

Street Signs Needed

WITH the advent of spring, now is a good time to once more bring up the question of the numbering of streets and avenues in Lacombe. Efforts by service clubs in the past have been temporarily satisfactory, but today there are few intersections where a person can find out on what corner he stands.

We would like to see town council take some more permanent street numbering scheme before the budget is brought down. Council might well be referred to the village of Bentley where street numbers have been purchased, at cost, from the city of Edmonton, and mounted on steel posts at intersections. The street numbering signs are of the reflector - type, which stand out in a car's lights to give strangers a bearing even after dark.

[illegible] addresses are a necessity in Lacombe not only by visitors, but also by newcomers to the town. It is easy enough to find out a person's residential address by referring to the telephone book, it is not always that easy to find out where the street or avenue is located.

Government and Private Enterprise

CHESTER Bowles, prominent foreign affairs specialist with the American government, stated in Ottawa the other day that after some 21 years in government service, he is becoming daily more aware of the limited capacities of government. He is quoted as saying: "I don't think that democratic socialism is immoral, I just think that it doesn't work very well."

Mr Bowles, who has spent many years of his life working with underdeveloped countries emphasizes that government is only one factor in the building of a nation. Labor unions, business [illegible] are equally important in the development of a national entity.

He admits, in his talk, that if private capital is unable or unwilling to do what is necessary, then government must step in. Thus, Mr. Bowles, by inference, states that government has far too many matters of concern in its exclusive field to enter areas which are already well served by other private, well-operated agencies.

Like power in Alberta, for in-[illegible]

The Silent Board

THE Alberta Liquor Control Board, responsible for the licensing of liquor outlets throughout the province, might well be called the provincial "silent servant." Year in and year out, the board operates behind a curtain of silence which is short on news releases and long on profits.

With justification or not, any public body which operates in such secrecy is suspect. So little is known about the power of liquor control board inspectors, for instance. How are licenses allotted, and what standards are set for liquor outlets. What power has an inspector in actual practice? Is he prosecutor, judge and jury combined in judging the operation of a liquor retail outlet?

Any government agency as affluent and influential as the Alberta Control Board should not clothe its operations in complete secrecy. This only leads to rumors and rumors from disgruntled applicants who have been refused licenses. Has such a person the right of appeals through the courts, for instance?

Thinking Albertans are interested in the operation of the numerous government agencies, but news of how they operate is, alas, sadly lacking.

Reflections of the Times . . .

Enforcement of Municipal By-Laws

It by-laws are flouted who [illegible] responsible?

A municipal by-law which are [illegible] flouted are those which govern building. Councils continually lament this and talk in terms of stiff [illegible] and "something must be done." But when was anybody taken into court in this province for violating a by-law affecting building?

Many townsite, for instance, [illegible] with people who start building first then seek a permit. This practice is not unknown in Trenton. Others get permits, but disregard provisions of [illegible] by-laws.

The results in disregard for safety standards, and other important matters related to zoning, health standards, and [illegible] associated matters.

Basing the possible penalty for failure to comply with by-laws may have some value. But if by-laws mean anything they are drawn up for the good of the public good. They must be enforced to be effective. Who enforces them? How often? Has anybody been stopped from building because he had no permit? Has any inspector ordered something altered because it failed to comply with regulations?

Municipal by-laws are too often flouted with impunity. They should either be enforced or thrown out. Anything else invites contempt and confusion.

Councils have nobody but themselves to blame if these by-laws are continually flouted. Strict enforcement would stop the practice. But generally, those who see that it is easy to get away with slipshod practices, and outright defiance of regulations, will have a try at it themselves. Only when by-laws have teeth which bite all violators impartially are they likely to be observed.

READY TO SERVE THE FARMER THIS SPRING

Some times, a machine shop has varied uses, too! For instance we do a considerable amount of welding — but there are old crankshafts to regrind, gears to be repaired on occasion, major repair parts to duplicate for farm machinery. When you come right down to it, there's nothing in machining that we don't do economically and efficiently and well. If you have a machine problem, see us!

The most dangerous part of an automobile

...IS THE DRIVER. Today's modern automobiles are soundly engineered, safe and remarkably reliable. Modern roads, too, are designed to prevent the maximum of hazards. Driving only becomes dangerous when fallible human beings come into the picture and, through their human failings, cause accidents.

In a determined effort to cut down the nation's accident toll, the automobile insurance business has dedicated itself to the promotion of highway safety programs and driver training education.

As a part of this extensive program of safety promotion, which includes several nation-wide projects, All Canada Insurance Federation sponsors the Alfred Campbell Memorial Awards, presented annually to Junior Chambers of Commerce conducting the best year-round safety programs in their communities throughout Canada.

Propose Changes in Local Traffic Signs, Patterns

Some changes in traffic signs and patterns for Lacombe are expected to be confirmed by town council in the near future.

The former "yield" signs for traffic east-and-west on 51st avenue at the 50th street intersection (by Mainline Motors) have been changed to "Stop" signs. Police chief constable Orest Bohay told The Globe Monday that "70% of our traffic accidents last year occurred at this corner under the 'yield' sign system, and we just have to do something at this point."

Another change under study is at the intersection of 50 street and 50 avenue (Royal Bank corner). Council is expected to propose left-hand turns from 50 street onto 50 avenue from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. on business days.

This is expected to speed the flow of traffic on 50 street on busy days.

School crossing walks and signs are also planned in the vicinity of the school. Under study are crossings on 50, 51, 52, and 53 streets, across 50 avenue in front of the schools. Signs are being prepared for these crossings at the present time, and proposed amendments to the by-law are being studied.

"When these new walks become effective," chief Bohay states, "the police plan to enforce these walk and school walk regulations very closely. We have been quite lenient in the past that someone hasn't been hit on downtown crosswalks, and we are going to have to strictly enforce the crosswalk by-laws."

G. Nelson Named NDP Provincial Candidate

Glen Nelson was chosen last Friday to contest the provincial riding of Lacombe for the New Democratic Party in the forthcoming provincial election. He won the nomination in a closely contested race with Cyril Lansdale, a Blackfalds farmer, and Herman Dorin, a Bentley teacher at a convention held in the Bentley community hall and attended by 150 delegates.

Mr. Nelson, 32, is a farmer. He is active in the F.U.A. and the co-operative movement, and has played in the Central Alberta hockey league. He is secretary of the NDP Lacombe provincial constituency association.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Grant Notley, provincial secretary of the party and himself a candidate in Edmonton Mc. Not-ley favors major gains for New Democratic Party in the forthcoming provincial election. He will be predicted for mid-June. He said that the NDP can be expected to form the official opposition on the next provincial legislature.

PIONEERS

These sunny Albertans live in a free enterprise climate. Their whole environment is one that encourages initiative and resourcefulness - whatever type of endeavor he undertakes. But this free environment should never be taken for granted. The greatest threat of all to the pioneer spirit is the trend to socialism. This threat is not entirely economic or monetary. A few are striving for it more.

Do those who advocate government take-over of electric utilities realize where a government power monopoly can lead? Once a start is made, where does it stop?

Even leading socialists now admit nationalizing an industry instead of making it a better servant of the public, may subject it to political pressures hostile to its efficiency.

More control is not the spirit of pioneer initiative that will continue to build Alberta. Let's keep free enterprise free!

Alix Horticulturists To Cancel Flower Show This Summer

ALIX Exotic members were hosts at the April meeting of the Alix horticultural club, held at the home of Mrs. M. Newton, on Thursday. Mrs. Mosterhaus and Mrs. Ball were co-hostesses.

It was decided not to attempt to hold the usual flower show this year due to the low enrollment in the club and the lack of room for storing the responsibility of the big undertaking.

In its stead members discussed the possibility of holding a floral tea with arrangements and perhaps other blossoms could be exhibited. Various phases of interest and concentration on less vigorous undertakings than those of a flower show will be undertaken.

May meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Joyce Ball for 3:00 p.m. tea and business. Members will then ad journ to the United church basement for the showing of the film Gardens of Britain. Other participants and local interest will also be shown. All invited members are invited to attend this film showing.

Has the career canvasser called on you yet? If not, remember to co-operate if you've already given your assistance. Thank you!

Farm Management Group Meets

An insight into the successful counseling reports of their affairs program of Alberta's leading farm management organization, the central Alberta farm business co-operative was granted to Red Deer Wednesday when nearly 100 members and their wives attended an exciting banquet in the Capri Hotel.

Introduced as a pioneer in the expanding field of proper analysis and recording of operations and representing leading farmers of the Red Deer, Lacombe, Ponoka and Innisfail area the group heard an address by Dr. E. Evans, President and Principal emeritus of the University of Alberta.

Prominent during the gourmet were chairman L. P. Diduk of Joffre, president of the association since its inception in 1961, Joseph Marshall, Innisfail, L. Cabelka, Bentley, G. Gunnarson, Bickville, O. H. Calverley, Penhold and John Rhee, were also district agricultural representatives.

Presides at Meeting

CHUCK DITELER

Dr. Evans' address was a sudden curtailment of credit can be just as disastrous as too much credit.

Praise for the concrete advantages of farm management programs came from Mr Holmes of the VLA. Farmers with good management records stood the best chance of obtaining VLA or PFC financing and the government agencies encouraged farmers to join organizations of this type.

Mr Price, reviewing the growth of the Central Alberta group, said it was the first to prepare analysis forms and publish reports, the first to form itself into a co-op and the first to set up a mail-in service.

Prize and assistant Gerald Purdy of Red Deer, co-ordinators for the affair. A. T. Peterson of the extension branch, department of agriculture, and Leonard Bauer also with the department.

Dr. Love, spoke on what he said was one of the most exciting developments in farm economics the gain theory. The was a mathematical formula which weighed all operations on a balanced theory and sums up with calculated answers. It could be applied to all types of farming, to credit, investment and other phases. He gave one example a study of net-growing in a bad area where costs and labor net were weighed against the basic dodger as explained over a long period. The result of the theory applications said was that the very safe should be planned to give quarter-of-a-acreage and the heavy-yielding lands only on one-quarter.

Dr Love departed a little from common viewpoints when he advised prospective borrowers to be sure and look into the panties of the lenders.

"Before anyone borrows," he urged, "be sure and investigate the lending agency and its policies."

Many Easter Week End Guests at Homes in Clive

CLIVE — The Clive 4-H Beef Club re-union banquet held at Clive community hall on Saturday.

R. L. Reynolds was able to be home from the hospital to spend Easter with his family.

The weather was all that could be desired for Easter week-end and everything went perfect with that Easter parade.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Pascal and Mrs. Pascal's daughter were guests to the Bert Sparks home during the Easter holidays.

The ladies auxiliary to the Canada Legion, Clive branch, will hold a May Day tea on the Legion hall on May 1 from 2 to 5 and 8 to 10 p.m. A cordial invitation is extended to anyone wishing to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Williams and wife were visitors to Gull Lake on Sunday. A report that golf tournaments would still be held at Gull Lake during the summer months should be pleasing to golf enthusiasts at Gull Lake and district.

Monday was a typical April day. Showers and sun with temperatures just periods. The warm day on Sunday revealed many green-awakening from their winter sleep, and green grass, robins, etc., told us spring is here. Moisture is enough at present.

Spring Work Underway

The farmers are getting anxious to get to work on the land. The months of mild weather had led them to hope they would be able to get an early start this year. The wet, heavy snowfall of a week ago (April 6) left the land too wet to work at the present time in southern Alberta, spring work is well underway, according to reports received here.

Callers to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gardner were her son Lorris of Mirror, her daughter, Mrs. Beamish of Mirror and her grandson, daughter Mrs. Ivan Draper of Sylvan Lake. Mrs. C. Kane and Mrs. Kane has visited here many times in recent years, and has made a number of friends.

The gulls seem to be flying around early this year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harrow were Red Deer visitors on Saturday.

Car Wash Project

The annual car wash by the Baptist church young people will be held on Saturday, April 20, at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bell in the rear of the western dirt and grime and help the worth-while project. All proceeds will go toward a building fund for a church at Fort St. John.

The Lacombe Girls' Choir will attend a church and Sunday school area at church and Sunday school in the Clive churches on Easter Sunday.

Technical Points to Unseat Mayor Gordon, Councillor I. Stonehocker?

...Lacombe's big town council Monday evening when nine members of the town council — Mayor R. A. Gordon and Councillors I. P. Stonehocker, ... — met in regular council meeting.

The five remaining council members, with deputy Mayor Keith Acton presiding, met in committee of the whole session. It was agreed that the committee meeting was the legal interpretation of the word "regular". Both the mayor and Councillor Stonehocker had attended a five o'clock meeting on the preceding week on March 25 — but since it began ...

...Councillor Stonehocker was there," the town solicitor replied. "There appears to be no alternative ...

...vacant under the terms of the town and village act."

Council members reverted to numerous queries ... Why wasn't a resolution of disapproval of the absentee-ism of three men members during the last general election campaign? "He was under answer Councillor Jackson thought the whole matter was "pretty unfair". He pointed out that when the two council members attended a meeting at 5:00 p.m. on March 25, "they came thinking they were attending a regular meeting of council."

In his preamble Mr. McCormick stated that he had been asked were questions about the absenteeism of the town council members in questions, and on town minutes had looked into the matter. The exact date from whom these questions had come, and he was not asked by council.

Following the passage of the resolution which appears alongside council decided with publication of excerpts from the legal red tape. With this in view they agreed that the member of municipal affairs should be informed of the entire chain of events for possible discretionary action or other refund from the ...

Council will set again at 6:30 Thursday evening, if no action has been taken by the department of municipal affairs on the resolution call for an election to fill the seat left vacant by councillor I. P. Stonehocker. The town and village act does not call for an election to fill the seat and mayor's chair unless ... the council shall forthwith elect ... such person from among its members to fill the position until the next annual election of officers."

Mr. Final result then is that while Councillors Bonnie Beck, Hugh Jackson and Ivan Stonehocker ... special meeting called to fill his seat, there is no provision ... for the Mayor to seek re-election ... unless such a special election ... the seat will be filled under the terms of the act by a present sitting council member.

Vol. LXII — No. 30 LACOMBE, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 24, 1963 Price — Ten Cents

To Widen No. 12 Highway to Clive

- Number 12 highway will be rebuilt and widened this year from the underpass west of Lacombe right through to Clive. This information was received by The Globe in a telephone interview with Hon. A. R. Patrick, who states that tenders for this work will be called "around May 23". It is planned to open tenders on May 31
- The ministerial order for this work includes grade widening, soil cement base course and stabilized gravel base course for 1963
- Included in the program will be curb-to-curb re-paving of 50th avenue through Lacombe.

I. Stonehocker to Seek Clarification

...evening that he is writing ... the department of municipal affairs ... asking for a ruling ... explanation as a regional meeting ...

As I see it," he stated, "the whole matter depends on an interpretation of the word 'regular' ... applied to the meeting called ... 6:00 p.m. on Monday March 25 ... I and members moved to ... and passed on April 1 ... a resolution ... to ... as a regular meeting."

He went on to say that the meeting held at eight o'clock was ... merely an adjournment of the ... meeting which started at five o'clock "If the meeting at five o'clock was not a regular meeting, then how can the meeting at eight be a regular meeting?"

With a chuckle, he amplified his thinking "and if the meeting at eight o'clock was not a regular meeting, and the meeting at eight o'clock was not a regular meeting, then I am not guilty of absenteeism because it was not a regular meeting which I didn't attend."

Mr. Stonehocker has filed a letter with the department and is awaiting their reply.

Mr. Stonehocker will not file nomination papers if his seat is declared vacant ... at least not to finish out my term," he informed The Globe.

New Feed Mill Site Decision in Abeyance

Council didn't say "no" and didn't say "yes" to a request to purchase two lots alongside the Red Head Service Station on highway 2A for the construction of a new feed mill. At the Monday evening meeting, councillors discussed sale of these lots for some time at length.

Some councillors were against sale of these town-owned lots for the purpose. Councillor Hunt stated that "we've had a lot of objections to the location of a feed mill alongside the Red Head Service Station."

Red Deer district planning commission representative John Beavis stated that "I feel it would be a real mistake if a feed plant mill adjacent to the newly subdivided residential area."

Deputy mayor Mike Kuriuk concurred with this thought. He stated that "tax-payers must also receive some consideration."

But other councillors had other ideas. Councillor Bonnie Beck pointed out that "we have few other alternative sites to offer if we say no to their request, maybe we must give them some alternative suitable site, and there is none ...

Councillor Lew Hinds stated that "I think we're going to drive the business out of town, and I don't want to see us turn-ed down new businesses."

Councillor Nels Miller expressed the view that dust and noise are not serious factors in objection to a moderately-designed mill. He admitted, though, that the height of building is a possible nuisance factor, and asked how high the building is.

This brought up the stark fact that council had not yet seen the plans for the proposed new mill The secretary was instructed to contact the applicant, Buy Klopstra, and ask him to submit complete plans for the building when he proposes to build on this site, at which time the sale of lots will be given consideration.

R. A. Gordon, Q.C., asked by The Globe if he had any comment in the light of proceedings at the council meeting Monday evening, stated he had "no comment."

"I will wait to see what happens at the adjourned meeting Thursday evening," he explained, "and ... what steps I may deem necessary as a result of that meeting's decisions."

100 Expected at Hospital Conference Here Tomorrow

A large number of hospital representatives and representatives of hospital women's auxiliaries will arrive in Lacombe Thursday to attend the annual spring meeting of the central Alberta hospitals' regional conference at the Legion hall.

A total of 22 hospitals in the central Alberta region already have signified their intentions to send representatives to the meeting. Close to 100 are expected to attend.

In addition to the normal business, the day-long sessions will give attention to the present functioning of hospital boards' auxiliaries and to the position of auxiliary hospitals and their relations to active hospitals.

Future of Rockets Hockey Club To Be Discussed Next Tuesday

Annual meeting of the Rockets hockey club will be held next Tuesday evening at 8:00 at the town recreation center, and attendance and the interest shown may well determine whether intermediate 'A' hockey will be offered in Lacombe another year.

The club is in dire financial straits, states president Alex Martin. "We've reached the point where we must find some way to make up this year's deficit (about $6,000) and make plans for next year," he said.

"With no support from the town and district, hockey in intermediate 'A' could well fold next year," Mr. Martin continued.

He and the other members of the executive would like to see a big turnout.

Important Board of Trade Meeting at Hotel Tonight

● An important general supper meeting of the Lacombe board of trade and agriculture will be held this evening (Wednesday) at the Lacombe Hotel. The meeting will start at 6:30 sharp.

Among the many matters to be discussed are plans for the coming bonanza days, and the farm-sign post project. A good turnout of members is especially requested.

Thought For the Week . . .

One may go wrong in many ways, but right in only one

The Law:

Town and Village Act, sec. 63, sub-section one, reads as follows "If after his election as a member of the council a person ... without being authorized by a resolution of the council to do so, absents himself from three consecutive regular meetings of the council ... his seat in the council becomes vacant and the council shall forthwith declare it vacated."

The Facts:

Mayor R. A. Gordon and Councillor I. Stonehocker, both of whom were candidates in the recent federal election, missed the regular evening council meetings on March 11, March 25 and April 8. On March 25 council members were all notified by phone or in person that the council meeting would start at five o'clock. Both the mayor and councillor Stonehocker were present at that meeting, but were not present when the meeting reconvened at the regular time of eight o'clock. This five o'clock meeting, town solicitor D. B. McCormick told council, cannot be called a "regular" meeting, as a resolution passed last October clearly states that regular council meetings will be held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month, and shall be called to order at eight o'clock.

The Technicality:

The town solicitor pointed out that "this is a highly technical point," but that since the town and village act is definite about absentee-ism from council, council must act on it. Failure to do so, he pointed out ... could lead to complications in the future as to the valid status of council" (and the consequent validity of any of its work).

The Result:

Council finally unanimously passed the following resolution "Whereas Mayor R. A. Gordon and Councillor I. P. Stonehocker, without being authorized by a resolution of the council to do so, absented themselves from three consecutive regular meetings of the council namely those regular meetings held March 11, 1963, March 25, 1963 and April 8, 1963, although the said mayor and the said councillor did attend a meeting of the council held at 5:00 p.m on March 25, 1963. "Now therefore, be it resolved that the seats of Mayor Gordon and Councillor Stonehocker on the council be declared to be vacant pursuant to Section 63 (1) (c) of the town and village act subject to a reference to the minister of municipal affairs for information as to possible discretionary or other relief from the provisions of the said section."

Annual Inspection For Cadets on Monday

Lacombe cadet corps annual inspection will be held at the Pine Lake stadium here on Monday April 29, commencing at 7:30 p.m. A cordial invitation to all parents and others interested is extended to attend this annual review and parade.

Twenty cadets have been training regularly for this parade in the winter cadet training program, under the direction of their leaders, Capt. Merle Hardman and Lieut. John Bauer and Dr. Neil Scott.

The parade and the march past will be led by cadet Lieut. Ron Asher, and the salute will be returned by Capt. F. S. Furman officer commanding the RCCR detachment at Red Deer.

Following the inspection, the cadets will give demonstrations in first aid, national survival, sig nals, and rifle range marksmanship. A social for parents, cadets and cadet corps members will follow in the Legion hall.

Local A.A.R.N. To Present Brief On Custodial Care

Local chapter of Alberta Association of Registered Nurses decided at their last meeting Tuesday evening to undertake the presentation of a brief to the provincial government regarding the need for custodial care and the ability to meet the need in this area.

Committee members appointed were Mrs. Norris Bhear, Mrs. Carl Ogilvie and Mrs. George DeCosse.

This committee will be pleased to meet with any interested group in order to provide a harmonious approach to the government

Power Interruption Planned Here Early Monday Morning

● There will be a power interruption in Lacombe on the early morning hours next Monday, April 29, according to local manager of Calgary Power Ltd. or Ltd.

The interruption applies to the town of Lacombe only, and will last from approximately 6:00 to 7:00 a.m. to allow completion of metering in the main sub-station

Town School Representative Seeks Opinions on Junior College Participation

Opinions of various groups in Lacombe regarding county school participation in the operation of a proposed junior college at Red Deer is being sought by the town's county educational committee representatives, J. B. McCormick, Q.C.

Mr. McCormick appeared before the county educational committee meeting and requested on proposals which a delegation from the Red Deer junior college organizational committee placed before county officials recently.

He reported that the Red Deer committee requests county participation and support for the junior college "Extent of the participation is a little vague right now," he explained, "but if the county of Lacombe participates, the county educational committee would have a right to a seat on the college board which would be similar to that of the college town."

"The committee is hoping that presumably for text apportionment to the junior college before Deer will be sought shortly," Mr. McCormick reported.

Some questions were asked by the council. How much will this cost? There are no definite figures at present as the Red Deer committee is having the figures examined by the auditors of the county educational committee.

Another question dealt with the Canadian Union College here and Mr. McCormick stated that the CUC has for some time been working toward accreditation and improving faculty staff qualifications in efforts to qualify for junior college status

At the present time, is not joining the group because of its present ... by the Lutheran college at Camrose

A request for a charter to operate a junior college at Red Deer will be sought shortly, Mr. McCormick reported

Mr McCormick explained the differences between the proposed junior college at Red Deer and the Canadian Union College. The Red Deer college would be non-sectarian and also would qualify for grants from the department of education which are not available to the CUC

Mr McCormick stated his reasons for appointing council "Representing as I do, the rural Lacombe school district as the county educational committee I didn't feel that I could speak for or against any party points in the college proposals without first getting the opinion of the people ... I represent."

Council, which was pressed with a number of problems at its meeting, left the matter over for discussion at its next meeting

READY TO SERVE THE FARMER THIS SPRING

Some times, a machine shop has varied uses, too! For instance, we do a considerable amount of welding, then there are odd jobs such as regrinding gears to make on order, or making repair parts to duplicate for farm machinery. When you come right down to it there's nothing in machining that we don't do economically efficiently and well. If you have a machine problem, see us!

To Make Home at Bassano

Former Lacombe Resident Married at Bassano

In the Knox Presbyterian church of Bassano a lovely afternoon wedding was recently performed before an ar[illegible] with pink carnations and white and yellow mums.

Rev. Hector Rose officiated at the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Carol Jean Schaffer, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs Ruben Schaffer of Bassano and Mr. Terence Walter Treleaven son of Mr and Mrs Charles Leroy Treleaven of Lacombe.

To the strains of the wedding march, played by the organist Miss Jeanette Jansbeweik, the bride was escorted down the aisle and given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a lovely street-length bridal gown of whispering white satin with lace appliques on the full skirt. A chantilly lace jacket [illegible] above the back featured long lily point sleeves and bateau neckline. A shoulder length veil of illusion net created from a headpiece of orang. blossoms. She carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses entwined with ivy, fern and white satin ribbon.

Bridal attendants were Miss Jo-Ann Thistlethwaite, former classmate of the bride and Miss Donna Fay Schaffer sister of the bride they were attired in identical full-skirted sheer net floor length gowns with an overlay of peacock blue organza. Complementing their ensemble they carried nosegay bouquets of open pink roses with circular net veils of the same peacock blue and bouquets of white carnations.

Mr. Richard Treleaven and Mr Allan Treleaven, brothers of the groom attended the groom and Mr. Dale Heryford, cousin of the bride, and Mr Norman Treleaven, brother of the groom, acted as ushers.

The mother of the bride chose a sheath and hat of powder blue with white accessories and a corsage of lovely white carnations. The groom's mother wore a two-piece petal pink lace dress with white and black accessories and a lovely white carnation corsage.

The reception was held in the Masonic hall where the bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake supported by swan pillars and topped with a bride and groom. Attractive cold plates were served.

The many telegrams received were ably read by the master of ceremonies, Mr William Cherwyk. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Ernest C. Coles of Strathmore and was responded to by the groom.

Following the reception, the guests enjoyed dancing.

For a honeymoon trip to the United States and northern Alberta the bride was radiant in a suit dress of navy blue. White accessories and a corsage of white [illegible] complemented her ensemble. Following the honeymoon trip the young couple will make their home in Bassano.

Oil to Settle Dust

If spring is here, can dust be far behind?

Housekeepers and merchants with outside goods hope that council members will keep the answer to this question in mind as they meet shortly to set a budget and estimate expenditures for the coming year. A sufficient sum allocated to oil the more heavily-trafficked streets in town will go a long way toward keeping the annual dust nuisance to a minimum.

Public works chairman R. J. Miller has stated that his department plans to ready more streets for paving this year, but does not visualize any actual hard-surfacing program for 1963. Paving, of course is the eventual answer to the dust problem, providing the streets are kept clean. But oiled streets can be a satisfactory substitute as far as keeping dust down is concerned.

It is hoped that council will allocate a sufficient sum for a street-oiling program this year, and that such oiling will be done at an early date — not late in the season when half the dust-months have gone.

A Nursing Home for Lacombe

It is encouraging to see that the provincial government has publicly asked for written submissions from individuals or groups regarding the need and operation of proposed custodial care hospitals in Alberta.

This interest is parallel to that shown by the Lacombe ministerial association which has taken up the study of the need for a nursing home in Lacombe.

These separate, independent actions emphasize the public concern for some type of institution to provide care for our permanently disabled. Active hospitals cannot provide satisfactory care for the chronically ill, indeed, they can barely find sufficient space for those who require urgent medical attention. Nor apparently do the proposed auxiliary hospitals plans provide for this definite care of the chronically ill.

Basically, what seems to be the crying need is a "nursing home" — call it a custodial care hospital if you will — where care may be given to those who are unable to look after themselves and who at the same time are not "sick" in the accepted medical sense of the word.

Clean-Up Time

SPRING-TIME is, by tradition and habit, clean-up time, and a drive around the town of Lacombe points out the numerous places where this habit might well be employed. Some of the winter snows have disappeared, the sun- and ornaments of last fall have come into untidy view.

Many front lawns and yards are in a sad mess, with papers, long grass, cans and general untidiness the apparent norm.

There are also the more permanent types of untidiness the vacant lots scattered with old cars and pieces of machinery, the long grass in ditches, the large car junk-yard alongside number 2A highway at the northern entrance to Lacombe.

Many of these eye-sores will be cleared up as soon as local residents are enabled by weather to get at their lawns and yards. There are others who might need a bit of prodding to get the clean-up job underway.

Certainly a clean, neat-looking town results in an increase in civic pride. Let all residents do their bit on their own properties so that the overall appearance of the town may be enhanced.

The Unemployment Nightmare

THERE are a few hard facts about available jobs in Canada which make grim reading and the government faces statistical nightmares in its proclaimed plans to stimulate the Canadian economy into aggressive new growth.

Population figures show that approximately 450,000 young people will reach working age in the five-year period from 1961 to 1966. This is as many as reached that age in the entire 15-year-period from 1946 to 1961. It is important to note that during this period of slow-growth Canada was still unable to create enough new jobs to keep unemployment from almost doubling between 1956 and 1962.

As The Financial Post points out: "A 2 per cent unemployment down to more acceptable levels, and to accommodate the big influx of new workers every year, business will have to produce at least 800,000 new jobs in the next four years. If it can create only 600,000, which is the number of new jobs created in the last four years, unemployment will be half again as high as it is now, and almost three times the level of the mid-1950's.

Unless concrete action is taken soon, this decade will combine discontent and disillusion among younger Canadians with anger and futility among the older workers as their jobs become vulnerable to the onslaughts of youth.

To solve this problem will take great intelligence and high political courage.

Double-knit fabrics are becoming very popular. They are available to the home-sewer in wool, cotton and some synthetics.

Choose patterns that are suitable for roomy or lightweight wools. Avoid bust cut skirts because of stretching. Skirts should be fully lined. Otherwise a straight taffeta petticoat or tricot slip should be worn. If not tucked are lined use a soft crepe de Chine silk. Choose a woven interfacing that is not too firm or bulky.

Knit fabrics require special knit patterns, as a nightgown cut out of knit material for the gown and will curved or bias edges should be slightly stitched. If you are making with this read your pattern carefully.

A stitch length of 12 to 15 in one is used for sewing the fabric. Seams should be stretched slightly when sewing. This keeps the stitches from popping later. The seam edges may be finished by zig-zagging.

Shoulder seams and waistline seams should be stitched with a seam banding on waistline or cut seam tape on cuffs to prevent stretching. The waist band should be cut double on the lengthwise of the knit. It should have a petticoat grosgrain boning or inside facing. Buttonholes may be tested in a scrap made it is best to reinforce them with organdy or muslin.

Sewing with Stretch Fabrics

There are 2 types of stretch fabrics available to the home-sewer, warp or lengthwise stretch generally used for ski pants or slacks, filling or crosswise stretch generally used on jackets, shirts, or dresses. 2-way stretch used at present to wear for bathing suits, most of the stretches on the retail market are the warp type.

The home-sewer should be careful to choose a pattern designed specifically for stretch fabrics and to use the type of stretch the pattern calls for. Do not attempt to use non-stretch patterns with these fabrics.

Care should be taken to prevent stretching the fabric when cutting or marking. Use sharp shears to cut. Stay-stitch all curved and bias edges before beginning construction. Stitch with a small zig-zag stitch to prevent seams stretch without thread breakage. Avoid pulling the fabric as stitching. You may use a synthetic thread or use mercerized thread.

The stretch fabrics served a great deal on you must use a secure finish overcast edges, use over attachment or machine zig-zag over the seam edge, or turn under and edge stitch.

Rapeseed Tests Taken At Experimental Farm

For central Alberta, Polish rape would seem preferable to the list ... or mustard, Argentine. That's the indication from a six year study at the Lacombe Experimental Farm ... by agronomist L. J. Anderson. Mr. Anderson stresses that this applies only to central and northern areas.

Polish and Argo are the varieties of Polish rape grown here. Among the Argentine types are Argentine and Golden. The Argentine types require 120 to 130 days from germination to maturity. The Polish types mature about 3 weeks earlier. That is one reason for higher yields of Polish in these areas the later maturing Argentine varieties are often caught by the fall frosts.

Average yields on presently recommended by Mr. Anderson in the Argentine types for central Alberta.

There is, however, one Argentine variety that will bear watching he says. This is Nugget. It was licensed only in 1961 and ... progressed for only 3 years. But in those three years Nugget has shown a higher average seed yield than Polish - Polish 1863 lbs. Nugget 1654 lbs. - and has had a higher yield per acre of oil Polish 383 Nugget 434.

Whether or not it will remain this way for a longer period remains to be seen. In the meantime, the Polish types would seem more profitable for ... area. To ensure a ... keep in mind the advisability ... sowing rape seed under ... Mr. Anderson suggests.

An Unfortunate Affair

THE unseating of Mayor R A Gordon and Councillor Ivan Bitterbuckler last week left residents of Lacombe bewildered or incensed, depending on the character. The paper views the proceedings only with sorrow, sadness that the town council has lost two of its good minds, sorrow that men who offer their time and talents in public service should be unwittingly the victims of such a highly technical legal point.

It seems shabby treatment for their efforts. With hindsight it is easy to comment on what might-have-been if a resolution had been presented to and passed by council authorizing both council members to be absent from three or less consecutive meetings. However this was not done, with the present depressing result.

Although both men have been deprived of office, there is certainly no stigma attached to the fact. Both men have been strong members of council both have contributed much to town affairs Both have earned and fully deserve the sincere thanks of town ratepayers for their fine services during the past few years

The Old - Fashioned "Arbor Day"

AN old school custom was brought to mind last week at a meeting of the Lacombe board of trade and agriculture when president Jack Stothart referred to the pre-war school custom of observing Arbor Day with a general school grounds clean-up

Arbor Day used to be observed early in May when all school children took an afternoon off to clean up the playgrounds Under the supervision of teachers, all papers, gum wrappers, large stones, sticks and the like were picked up and disposed of baseball diamonds were put into shape rakes used to recondition jumping pits All this took place during a half day of intense outdoor activity

Entirely apart from the immediate advantage of having clean school grounds such activity taught a good lesson It taught youngsters that clean grounds are a source of pride to those who work to keep them tidy, and inherent in the custom was the teaching of the individual responsibility of the student toward the well-being of school property

In this day and age, we are all too apt to leave school ground cleaning to help which is hired thereby missing an opportunity to teach our young people a good habit which cannot be learned from books

60 Days of Decision

PRIME Minister Lester Pearson's "60 days of decision," promised throughout his recent election campaign started last week as the Liberal leader took over the reins of his minority government His first few days of decision have moved quickly Plans to visit Prime Minister Macmillan and President Kennedy have already been announced Parliament will be called in mid-May, the earliest possible day following the election. The new cabinet has been sworn in and now planning for the future Such activity augurs well and is a relief from the indecision and apathy of the Diefenbaker government, which largely responsible for its rejection at the polls in April

It is the firm hope of all Canadians of every political belief that the activity shown in Ottawa these days results in equally stimulating parliamentary action designed to resolve the grave problems plaguing the country at this time

See Canada First

EVER since the last war footloose and affluent Canadians have been spending their leisure time and surplus cash journeying to almost every part of the world, with the surprising exception of other parts of Canada

The dominion automobile association recently issued statistics after research into the travel habits of Canadians Up until the devaluation of the Canadian dollar in 1962, an astonishing 25 of native Canadians had never been in another province in Canada, other than the one in which they lived Another 20 had lived in, or at some time visited only one province other than their current residence At the other end of the statistical survey it was found that 10 per cent of Canadian in five had visited two or more Canadian provinces in their lifetime

The U S and France will, it is pointed out in articles during the 1960's section of most affluent Canadians than a visit to a neighboring province Canadian funds poured into Florida with reckless abandon from easterners, into Las Vegas, Arizona and California from western Canadians. The result was a new stagnation of the Canadian tourist industry

The devaluation of the Canadian dollar, however, changed this picture The frantic moves by the finance department last year resulted in the Canadian traveller finding out that his dollar went farther in B C than in Washington, in Alberta than in Montana and in Quebec than in Vermont

For the first time in history Ontario and Quebec license plates outnumbered U S vehicles in the Maritimes, and Alberta and British Columbia tourist spots outdrew those in Washington and Oregon

There are, it seems, lessons in Canadian and tourists. So with the devaluation wasn't all bad. Now Canadians are discovering that it is just as much fun, and cheaper, to take a holiday in Canada as it is across the border and a lot more stable.

"Most Successful Year" Reported By Officials of Curling Club

Enjoying one of the most successful years in its history, Lacombe curling club has been able to reduce the bank loan against artificial ice from $14,500 to about $11,000.

This was the welcome report given by treasurer Don McFadden at last night's annual meeting of the veteran financial report.

Mr McFadden pointed out that interest on the bank loan paid during the year was $836.

Outgoing president Hans Baerugger in his report commended caretaker John Pikula on the good curling ice and on the operation of the rink particularly during the week end rental periods.

He recommended repairs to the roof over No 1 sheet, a matter that was left with the new executive Estimated cost of the repairs at $750 including labor other than volunteer.

Alex Martin thanked a vote of thanks to the outgoing executive when the nominating committee of Fred Stevens and Elmo Legate presented the new proposed slate.

Board of Trade Meeting Deals With Widely Varied Agenda

Over 20 members of the Lacombe and district board of trade gave the go-ahead for preparations already underway for the town-wide "Bonanza days" promotion to be held the First of July.

President J. C. Seminoff was in the chair for the business meeting which followed supper Monday and dealt with matters ranging from a report from secretary manager Rev. Bourgeon that the Gull Lake water communication committee is working public support to request that more funds be made available for research work on the Gull Lake water level problem, to a request from Fred Bray regarding the farm signs project. Mr. Bray reported that it appears $20 or $ 000 names would be required and that the minimum cost would be approximately $400. He referred to the wonderful farmer response all we are getting in lots of the names of farm residents - the only two resounding losers Lacombe. The names should be completed in about three weeks and members were to request [illegible] to assist the Board in this [illegible] Bray suggested that the Board could [illegible] the farmers in this area on seeing that the roads are kept open.

Several suggestions were advanced President Jack Stothart read a copy of a letter which had been forwarded some time ago to the department of public works requesting advertisers on the proposed road closure. To date, I have not had a reply to this letter," he reported.

It was finally decided that a further letter from the board of trade be sent to the department of highways, with a copy to the local MLA (Hon A R Patrick) requesting an opportunity to discuss this problem with a highways engineer.

Mr Elliott stated that the proposal to construct an access road on the east side of the traffic was not too satisfactory to the people who live to the east. Mr Stothart mentioned that there is money which could be taken up with the highways office should a decided up to discuss the complaint.

Bonanza Days

Harold Johnston chairman of the bonanza days committee reported on the work which has been undertaken to date. Various committee members gave reports. Don Verbeeten stated that two bands had already been retained for the parade on July 1, and "we expect the finest in [illegible] music."

CAHL Turns Down Bid From Kimberley

An application from the Kimberley Dynamiters to join the Central Alberta hockey league was rejected at a league meeting held at Red Deer on Sunday. All teams in the CAHL felt that travelling commitments in centers as far distant as Kimberley prohibited that town's admittance to the league.

Report on activities of the past year were discussed at the meeting, and tentative plans made for the 1963-64 season. Jack Ferris of Red Deer was re-elected governor of the league, and Fred Howard will again serve as secretary-manager. Drumheller Miners were fined $200 for failure to carry out league play-off commitments.

Alec Martin and Marv Leslie represented the Lacombe Rockets at the league gathering, and Mr. Martin told The Globe that "it appears that the CAHL will operate with the same teams as those which finished out the past season"

Penoka stampeders, who dropped out in mid-season last year, were not represented at the meeting.

Miss Pat Shaw, Former Home Economist Here, Honored at Shower

A miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Pat Shaw was held Friday afternoon at the Percy Thompson home with Mrs. Marwood Swain and Mrs. Jack McKinley as co-hostesses. The evening was spent in games and contests.

An interesting feature was the singing of a song, especially written for the honored guest, composed by Mrs. Swain and led by Mrs. Len McKinley in the tune of "The Sidewalks of New York".

Clues placed in blow-up balloons helped Miss Shaw get to the whereabouts of the many useful gifts, for which she thanked the givers. A delicious lunch brought to a close a most enjoyable evening.

CLIVE — A banquet will be held on Friday, May 10, in Clive. The board of trade are re-organizing and are holding this banquet for all Clive and district people. Those wishing to attend may purchase tickets from anyone on the following C. Clark, L. Justin S. Heald, L. O. Williams, H. Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Boden have returned and remodelled the interior of their house. Last year they had the exterior covered with attractive aluminum siding.

Three of the area residents — Mr and Mrs. Rod Danner have been receiving visitors. Mrs. Danner is usually a spring break-out.

Farmers are busy getting their land in shape for seeding. Moisture reserves appear to be very good at present.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. Emma Gerbrandtner have been Mrs. V. Westling and children of Mrs. A. Westling, Mrs. E. Parsons and Mrs. C. Kane.

Dies in Stettler

People of Clive district will be sorry to hear of the sudden death in the U.S. of Mrs. Cora Gerbrandtner's youngest brother Mr. Foster. Mrs. Gerbrandtner was a former Clive district resident. Her brother and his wife were en-route to visit in Canada when he died suddenly at Boise Idaho. Mrs. Cora Gerbrandtner left by air from Calgary to attend the funeral in Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr and Mrs. Peter Robertson spent two weeks recently at Castor with Mr and Mrs. John Robertson and family. On returning home they were called to Red Deer, as their son Robbie was hospitalized after surgery. He is recuperating very well

The weather turned cold, with biting wind and drizzling rain mixed with snow during the past week. This isn't too bad, yet considering what the weather has been in years past. On 1st of May 13 years ago Red Deer and district had eight inches of snow and only a year ago southern Alberta had a heavy wet blanket of snow on June 6. Snow on May 24 is not uncommon. So anything can happen this month.

Funeral at Clive

Mrs. R. R. Combs and son Minor of Big Valley spent Thursday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr and Mrs. A. H. Harrow. Mr. S. R. Crook called for her on his way back from Edmonton to take her back to Big Valley

Mrs. O. Westling, on Lacombe was an afternoon caller on Mrs. A. H. Harrow on Friday. Mrs. Westling left with her husband for a trip to England on Monday May 6, and is planning to visit with a sister of Mrs. Harrow's in England.

After the funeral of M. L. Brandman, Mrs. Brandman left with her daughters and will spend a little while with them in Edmonton.

With the fifth month of the year well underway it is still too cold and damp to get working on the garden yet. A few days sunshine is needed to warm up the soil as the temperatures the past few nights have been well below freezing.

Mr and Mrs. J. Vandermeulen of Edmonton were Sunday visitors to the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Reynolds. Accompanying them was Mr. MacAlister also of Edmonton.

Sharlene Mercer, who has been in Calgary, is in Clive together with snow during the past week. This isn't too bad, yet considering what the weather has been in years past. On 1st of May 13 years ago Red Deer and district had eight inches of snow and only a year ago southern Alberta had a heavy wet blanket of snow on June 6. Snow on May 24 is not uncommon. So anything can happen this month.

WHO

PLANS ALBERTA'S ELECTRICAL PROGRESS?

You may have heard it said that government-owned power would mean co-ordinated planning for the whole province.

In other words you are being asked to believe that such overall planning exist in effect now!

What are the facts?

The investor-owned electrical utilities work under such regulating bodies as the Alberta Power Commission and the Supervisor of Hydro-Electric Development.

This government overseeing and directing of investor-owned utilities is precisely to ensure planning in the best interests of the province. At the same time it avoids a government power monopoly, against whose ravings there is no right of appeal. The present system safeguards free-enterprise initiative. But, under this system, co-ordinated overall planning is a reality right now!

Large Number Attend Mirror Farewell Party

MIRROR, — A farewell party was held in the Legion hall on April 27 for Ida and Mrs. Bruce Taylor, popular village residents who will leave shortly for Edmonton. A number of friends and neighbors got together and had a real fine time. Ladies of the committee in charge under convener Mrs. Flewwelling did a real swell job, the results of which were much appreciated by the honored party.

Mrs. Gilbert did an excellent job as emcee and Mr. L. Clark added much both as a musician and as refreshment assistant.

Miss Kay Finch gave two solo items on her accordion as did a young lady, Terry Bell. Both items were much enjoyed, as was a solo item rendered by a member of the [illegible] about a Bonnet.

Miss Linda Swallow had the audience in stitches with her humorous reminiscences of the evening. It was a peach, and a humdinger!

Refreshments were served after which Grandpa Dutch presented a gift to the guests of the evening. Two prayer books were given by the Rector and Mrs Nakayama as a present from Mirror and the congregation.

The Rector spoke of the friendliness of Mirror as an offset to that of the church and Mr. Taylor, popular village resident, who will leave shortly for Edmonton. Experimental Farm Summarizes 1962 Activities in Report

Annual report of experimental farm operations covering work undertaken and advances made during 1962.

The Globe will publish portions of this report during the next few weeks to bring farmers of this area the latest developments in agricultural research work.

The opening paragraph in the review is as follows: "Agricultural research is an involved process. This statement is not made with the view to soliciting sympathy for the researcher but rather to emphasize the number of people and the [illegible] involved in new procedure, method, chemical or variety can be recommended for the farmer's use."

Livestock Studies

"Lacombe is the major centre for animal breeding research in Canada. For many years concentration was on swine breeding as it particular emphasis on the development of sound principles of selection, line breeding and crossbreeding. One of the tangible results of this work was the development of the Lacombe hog. "More recently (1956) we embarked on a large scale breeding research study with beef cattle and in the same year we undertook similar studies with poultry. Both more recently (1960) we expanded our research by establishing a small-scale dairy herd at which we are studying under strict control of environment, a variety of problems of major importance in animal breeding.

"Our work with small animals will not lead to any immediate solution of animal breeding problems but it does give us an opportunity to conduct basic studies that will aid in the development of sound and productive research with larger animals.

"One of the important problems facing the livestock industry is the improvement of carcass quality. In recognition of this problem, Lacombe has established a [illegible] laboratory. Studies are presently underway in this laboratory. Future work developed specifically to develop methods for reliably measuring the lean content of the pig carcass and of the living pig.

Swine Research

"By regarding of pigs at birth information on the number of ribs and vertebrae has been obtained for approximately 12,000 pigs born at the experimental farm since 1954. The results have shown that pigs show considerable variability in both traits. For example the Yorkshire and Lacombe have, on the average 16 pair of ribs and 20 vertebrae but rib number in both breeds ranges from 14 to 17 pairs and vertebrae number from 27 to 30. The Berkshire averaged 15 pair of ribs and 28 vertebrae. Both traits have proven to be highly heritable which means that they may be increased — or decreased — rapidly by selective breeding.

"The association between carcass length and number of ribs or vertebrae has also been examined in 2300 pigs. It has been established that, on the average each additional vertebrae increased length by approximately half an inch. Thus selection for increased length will produce pigs with a greater number of vertebrae — or conversely selection for more vertebrae will produce longer pigs. Rib number was not related with length except by virtue of the fact that number of ribs tends to be directly related to number of vertebrae.

Swine Research

"Feed costs are a major expense in pig production. Pigs fed balanced rations will require on the average approximately 600 pounds of feed to grow from weaning to market weight equivalent to 13 bushels of barley. However there is much variation in efficiency between strains of pigs. ROP records indicate that the feed requirement for some strains is less than 500 pounds while for others it is in excess of 700 pounds. Obviously, the opportunities from pig breeding appear will be largely determined by whether the producer has an efficient or an inefficient strain of pig.

Research has shown that differences in feed efficiency are inherited and that [illegible] breeder has careful attention to feed [illegible] choosing replacement breeding stock could do much to improve his pigs in this important trait. However feed efficiency is difficult to measure, still necessary and further [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

MALADY VOTES FOR INDEPENDENT ACTION

The ladies, bless 'em, have improved their lot a great deal since the days of the Modern woodstove Now, bright, white appliances stand ready for their comforts, frozen foods in the freezer, and little cans of pre-cooked goodies line the shelves

Actually, all these kitchen improvements are a good thing With fewer chores at the stove, milady has more time to enjoy life, and who can blame her for taking advantage of progress? Or should have independence; it makes for happiness all around

Nowadays, if the modern wife wants to visit in the next city she goes; if she feels a new hat coming on, she buys it without reference to the Master for every penny she wants to spend. That's financial independence A wife likes it; she hasn't lost all her independence to become "just a housewife"

You know, it's surprising how quickly this 'independent' feeling grows when she has her own bank of knowledge account. She deposits small amounts regularly, and when she wants ready cash for a new hat or a pair of shoes, it's there at the B of M, with 3% interest.

Why not visit the Lacombe branch of the B of M soon? The manager, Fred Pamenter, will be glad to show you how easy it is — and how profitable, to open a B of M savings account

On Loyalty

Linda Hudd, grade 11

HAVE you ever thought of what loyalty is? What it means? How important it is?

Loyalty is that illusive quality which keeps a mother fighting against impossible odds, which keeps a man from doing anything which goes against his principles, which keeps you and you and you from doing something to hurt the ones you love.

There are many types of loyalty. The soldier feels a loyalty to his leaders and his country patriotism. The man who will not sacrifice his principles has a loyalty to himself and to his conception of what is right. There is loyalty to your God, to your family, to your friends to your school clubs or business.

But all of these are only by-products of a true loyalty which springs from a sincere love of humanity and an earnest desire to keep from hurting anyone. Loyalty, in its purest sense, is a beautifully unselected emotion. It has moved mountains and accomplished miracles. And, as one sage remarked, "It is loyalty, not love that makes the world go round."

For loyalty is compounded of many things. It is a skillfully blended combination of all the best that is in man. The letters of the word itself tell us this. The L is for love which is the only seed from which true loyalty can grow. O suggests that loyalty must be offered freely, it can never be bought or taken. Y is for a yearning for happiness, not only for yourself and those close to you but also for the whole world. A signifies appreciation for the good qualities of others. L makes us think of liveability, for even such a fine emotion as loyalty must be able to withstand life's daily hatterings and still remain pure and shining. T reminds us that truth and trust are necessary for loyalty to survive. Y is for the years through which loyalty will grow and thrive.

Loyalty must be strong, yet flexible; constant but not condemning; pure and true and still not flaunt these qualities. Loyalty must be quiet, faithful, loving and ever-ready as a support in times of need. If it is all these, then loyalty is fulfilling its true purpose as the most beautiful of human emotions.

Truly, loyalty must be great, for it is born of man's love for his God and of his love for other men. And this bears out the truth of the Bible verse in Corinthians: And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

Our Shrinking World

Larry Walton, grade 11

PEOPLE may be getting larger but the world is getting smaller.

The shrinkage is noticeable in many things. A prime example of shrinkage is the space allotted to cars in parking lots. Thousands of people must spend the day trapped in their parked vehicles. They can get in the car all right in the narrow opening but the fit is so tight that it is impossible to open the doors more than a few inches. A triple-jointed person would have trouble squirming through the opening. Overweight people are simply out of luck unless they are able to roll down the windows and crawl out. If vehicles get wider and parking spaces get narrower, car doors will just have to go. The hole-in-the-roof model complete with sidepladder will enjoy booming sales. A country's industries are bound to suffer when a certain size portion of the working force remains trapped in parked cars.

Economic Satellite?

Wayne Hopp, grade 10

ANOTHER private American corporation has decided to build in Canada. The investment is a $8 million chemical plant to be constructed in central Saskatchewan. Manufactured at this plant will be "acid derivatives to be used by the potash and other chemical industries. This gigantic million-dollar complex of refineries and mines is largely under the control of foreign investors, headed by and supervised by foreign employees.

Can we stop foreign investment in Canada from taking a big bite out of our natural resources and economic growth? It is true that Canada should not have to depend so much on foreign investments. However, there was not a single Canadian enterprise prepared to invest in and construct this chemical plant near Saskatoon. Would the federal government have been prepared to finance the building of this plant, or would the provincial government make grants to start this huge undertaking?

As in past years, it has been shown that this development would not have the support of the federal or provincial governments, public funds could not be invested in such a risky project. Consequently, a few American corporations invested huge amounts of capital in projects which the Canadian government and the large Canadian corporations tell were too unstable and too expensive. In many cases the foreign investments were successes. As a result, much money was drained off into foreign pockets.

It has been repeatedly pointed out by this country's leading economists that our government and most governments, dare not risk major investments in new developments. Not until Canadian enterprises become larger more stable and have more ready capital, not until shortcomings in the Canadian monetary system have been overcome, not until the Canadian people are ready to pay a higher price for economic independence, will this problem of foreign investment and control be solved.

For the time being, if Canada is to retain her quickening pace of prosperity, she must depend upon foreign investment and yield to foreign control.

A Pint of Life

Jean E. Jefferson, grade 10

ON Wednesday, May 29, the citizens of Lacombe and district will again be given the opportunity to donate three-quarters of a pint of life as a gift to the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service.

In today's world there is a great demand for blood. Modern surgery requires blood to prepare the patient and also to speed his recovery. Combatting shock, controlling hemorrhage, assisting accident victims, and aiding in treatment of other conditions is made possible through blood transfusions or blood products. An estimated total of 550,000 bottles of blood per year are required in Canadian hospitals.

If so much blood is required, how can the hospitals be kept in supply, especially when whole blood can only be kept for three weeks? This can be done only if people, between 18 and 65 years of age, with average health, are willing to give blood donations at the blood donors' clinics. These blood donations are then distributed to the hospitals by the Red Cross, free of charge.

Come! Give a little of your lifestream at the Lacombe Blood Donors' clinic on May 29. The next person to need it may be you!

GREEN ACRES

By District Agriculturist Walter McNary

Agricultural Service Board Policy

At this time I feel that it might be a good time to outline some of the Lacombe county agricultural service board activities policies and what's help to promote better farming.

Roadside Grass Seeding

As most people in the county are aware all present day road building includes backsloping of roads. In order to get these backsloped roadsides down to grass the county will provide grass seed at ½ cent to farmers for roadside seeding up to 3 rods back from their fence lines.

Farmers planting trees 4 to 6 rods back from their fence line will be paid $20 per mile for the first year of planting, $20 for the second year and $10 for the third. This money is payable each fall providing the trees have been properly cared for during the summer months.

Pasture Fertilizer Experiment

As was mentioned last week the county has a machine which builds artificial prairie gopher burrows where pressure capsules are dropped. The gopher then eats across these in his daily travels and is poisoned. This machine fits a three point hitch tractor.

Any one wanting more information

Septic Tank Forms

Modern sewage disposal systems a [illegible] more common in rural homes every year. Among the tanks are a necessity for such systems. Six months has passed forms available which can be opened to make the pouring of concrete [illegible] relatively easy procedure.

Gully Repairing Assistance

Water erosion has always been one of our problems in the district. As a result we have some fairly good sized gullies washout running through them. In order to encourage the repairing and seeding down of these washouts the county ASB will provide fertilizer assistance along with some financial help.

Grass Seeder Available

In order to promote the seeding down of roadsides in the county and encourage to guarantee a good stand of grass the county has purchased a grass seeder. What can be used for the same of do [illegible] a home-made version of seeder box similar to a regular drill using a [illegible] set of brass paper. This ensures shallow seeding in a firm seedbed

Letters to The Editor

May 10 1963

Dear Sirs

In The Globe issue of May first the following figures were shown as the school requisition for the village of Gull Lake:

$4,800 00	$6,801 00	$5,250 00

This would indicate that our requisition had been sharply reduced and as the school requisition represents a large portion of taxes the property assessor was looking forward to a very welcome reduction in taxes for 1963

I don't know where you got your information but the fact is that our total requisition for 1963 is $4,672.91

FREE ENTERPRISE ELECTRICITY!

The price of the electricity you use every day is carefully controlled. Do you know that a Your free enterprise utilities are constantly working. They must strive to sell as many customers and as much power as possible to you. They have to compete with other sources of energy.

b Each new enterprise utilities must satisfy government bodies as well. These bodies carefully supervise such matters as rates, expansion plans, financing and policy for the protection of consumers.

Together these two factors ensure that you receive electricity at the lowest possible cost — but that is only from an uncontrolled, government-owned monopoly. Let's not settle free enterprise electricity. Let's keep it free in Alberta.

Haynes School Principal to Take Up New Post in September

August (Gus) Bruns, principal at the Bentley school for many years, will leave the post on September 1 to become assistant superintendent of schools. The appointment was made at a meeting of the county school committee held earlier this month.

Mr. Bruns will assist school superintendent Jim Bell in duties covering all schools in the county.

Early Morning Chase By Police Recovers Stolen Car

An early morning chase by police constable Ben Seaver resulted in the recovery of a car which had been stolen from Melvin Kirk of Alix.

Constable Seaver was on routine patrol when he noticed a car parked at the White Rose Service Station. As he turned around the 1955 Chevrolet, roared south and Constable Seeley gave chase. The pursued vehicle turned up into the lane behind Rodger's Home Furnishings and stopped. Two men left the car on the run, and the local policemen cornered one on the highway pavement.

The arrested man appeared before magistrate J. H. Galbraith of Ponoka in the Lacombe police court Tuesday afternoon and was sentenced to four months in jail. His partner has not been located.

Speeding Violations in Lacombe Show Big Drop in 3 Years

Chief constable Grant Schur pointed out this week that to date this year, 29 charges have been laid against drivers for speeding. Up to the same date in 1962, 79 speeding violations had been marked. This, in turn was way down from the 189 speeding tickets issued in the same period in 1961.

Police department officials first started to crack down on speeding in 1961.

Pour Footings This Week For New 22-Unit Motel on Highway

The new 22-unit motel planned on number two (divided) highway by Merv and Ruth of Lacombe, is expected to be completed early this fall.

Footings for the new motel unit will be poured within the next week, Mr. Swain told The Globe, and tenders for construction work will be called immediately. Plans and specifications have been completed and a contract should be let by the end of this month.

Meanwhile, work is being rushed on the two-bay service station being constructed on the same site, about four miles north of the cloverleaf west of town. This service station is expected to be open for business before the middle of July.

Breakdown of Town Mill Rate

Breakdown of the 1963 58-mill rate in Lacombe is as follow...

21.36 mills for school foundation fund
8.03 mills additional school requisition from County of Lacombe
2.06 mills for hospital act funds
90 mills Red Deer Health Unit requisition
7.05 mills for debenture debt charges

No Decision Yet On New Feed Mill Site

The matter of locating a new $60,000 feed mill plant at Lacombe drags on with no definite decision yet made.

At a special meeting of council held Monday evening, John Beaver of the Red Deer district planning commission stated that the applicant of planters a feed mill should not be constructed on number 2A highway alongside the Red Head Service Station.

The council, in a previous vote, had split three to three on whether or not to sell two town-owned lots to Roy Klopstra of Lacombe for the construction of this mill.

Mr. Beaver stated that his plan for zoning for the town of Lacombe would be completed shortly, and stated that Lacombe is not well situated for industrial expansion. "The town is unfortunately squeezed by contours," he stated, "as well as already established ventures.

"To the south and west are the experimental station lands and the golf course, to the east is low land which is subject to flooding conditions, to the north are hills which would be hard to service."

Councillor Stonebocker asked Mr. Beaver why a location on a main highway and right across from a railway line should be considered anything but ideal.

Mr. Beaver explained that from a planner's viewpoint, this location was unsuitable for a seed cleaning plant because of possible dust and noise to residential lots nearby.

Roy Klopstra, who first made application to construct the mill here six weeks or more ago, told The Globe that we would like to locate at this site because it is conveniently located to my present business (the Red Head Service Station).

At the present time Mr. Klopstra has 14 truckers operating out of Lacombe, and "if we get this feed mill here, we will have a total pay roll of about 20," he stated.

Mr. Klopstra also told The Globe that if he is not given permission to build, "I guess I'll have to move elsewhere, probably to Red Deer."

Thought For the Week . . .

Progress is the activity of today and the assurance of tomorrow.

ED D. TULLY

Ed Tully Honored Upon Retirement

Ed Tully well known CPR roadmaster stationed at Lacombe for the past six years was honored Last Friday evening at a retirement party held at the Lacombe Legion hall.

Mr. Tully's retirement from active service with the railway company actually becomes effective on July 1, but due to taking his annual vacation and holidays, he actually ceased work at Lacombe on Sunday, May 19.

The retiring roadmaster entered CPR employment at Dauphin, Manitoba on April 8, 1912, as a section labourer. He rose in employment to the position of permanent roadmaster in 1944 and was transferred to Coronation in 1956. The following spring, he transferred to Lacombe from which position he has now left to join the company's pension roll.

Since coming to Lacombe, Mr. Tully has become an ardent fisherman. "I sort of got dragged into fishing by people here," he grins.

Welcome To The Bull Sale

NEXT week, Lacombe again will play host to scores of cattlemen from all parts of the western provinces as the central Alberta agricultural society holds its 34th annual bull sale.

This year as in the past, a fine entry list of more than 600 purebred beef cattle will be sold through the ring at the pavilion in three days of auctioneering.

This sale has become one of the best bull sales in western Canada . . . as no accident that it has attained this status. The fact that the district around Lacombe boasts numerous high quality beef cattle herds makes Lacombe a logical center for such a sale. Adding to the success is an organization which ensures smooth administration and accounting of individual sales, together with proper facilities and care for the sale animals at the grounds.

We wish those in charge of the sale every success, and hope that the contributors and buyers may obtain the points they seek during the week.

A Fine Convention

THE TOWN of Lacombe is proud this week to play host to the annual convention of the Alberta Provincial Rifle Association. The convention which got underway yesterday morning continues until tomorrow. We wish the delegates well in their discussions and debates on rifle prevention and rifle fighting.

Fire Chief [illegible] and his firemen are also to be congratulated on their arrangements for visitors and their efforts in helping to line up a fine program.

An Important Job

THE internal gasoline combustion engine has been credited with transforming the face of this continent by making possible cheap production of millions of cars and trucks, and putting the people of this continent on wheels.

The same engine may be credited with the great change in the pattern of education in Canada.

The provincial government's publication, "Within Our Borders" reports recently that during 1962-63, 85,883 provincial school students were transported daily to and from school in 3,001 registered school buses which travelled 100,857 miles each day.

The growth of school centralization, through the transportation facilities of school buses may best be illustrated by straight statistics. In 1945 - 46 there were buses operated in Alberta. In 1950, this figure reached 1,431, by 1955 there the 2,313 and by 1960 2,856 buses operated daily.

This big jump in the number of school buses has been accompanied, of course, by a corresponding increase in costs. Many school systems estimate that cost of school bus transportation is equivalent to that of teachers salaries in bus operating costs. This is true in this county.

The facts also emphasize the importance of the school bus driver in the educational system which has been evolved today. The driver plays a big part in the education of our children. He bears a responsibility second to none in their safety, and plays a big part in training students in their associations with others. His is a job which, like many thousands of others, has come into being because of the development of the automotive industry of this country.

A Coming World Wheat Glut?

THE rejection by United States wheat growers of the price support program offered by their government is causing considerable concern among western Canadian wheat growers. The American farmers turned down a government proposal for a pegged two-dollar-a-bushel wheat price in return for farmer acceptance of government wheat acreage allotments. The probable result is that wheat production in the U.S will soar, which in turn will result in the depression of world prices and consequent lower incomes for Canadian wheat growers.

A. P. Elsaye, president of the National Farmers' Union, in a recent statement from Saskatoon sees other dangers ahead. Experience shows that at times of lower grain prices more grain is disposed of through feeding livestock this means increased production of animal products and lower prices in this field also," he states.

Whether this gloomy prediction is realized or not, it is evident that there are market troubles ahead for such a wheat-surplus country as Canada. International co-operation in distribution of food products might be a temporary answer to the problem. But until some economic system is devised whereby excessive food production in one country may be distributed to the food-poor nations, the pressing world problem of embarrassing riches contrasting with depressing poverty will continue as a paradox in a supposedly enlightened century.

Educational Facilities

CANADIAN foundation for educational development has just released a timely research study on the relatively new concept of operating universities on a twelve-month basis. The study points out that costly university and college facilities lie idle five months out of the year, with perhaps a six-week summer session using partial facilities in the interim.

The 72-page study on the year-round operation of universities is written against the background of the crisis of over-population which faces higher education facilities in Canada today. Many institutions are already having difficulty coping with the growing number of young men and women seeking university training. This situation is expected to be aggravated as the great wave of "war babies" reaches university age.

The study notes that the practice of closing universities in May originated in a rural economy where students were required to return to their farms for summer operations. It emphasizes that this practice has been long-outdated. The study also notes that year-round use of universities does not mean that the staff must teach all year. It does not mean that all students must study all year, but it does mean more room for more students, an increasing number taking graduate work greater economy of operation and better use of physical facilities.

The report describes theoretical and operating year-round calendar systems. It should be required reading for all educationalists who are concerned about providing the university facilities which will be required to meet the problems of the next decade.

Common Courtesy

We were surprised and disappointed recently when tenders were called for the construction of a school addition at Blairdale by a Red Deer architect's firm, that the advertisement for tenders was not sent to The Lacombe Globe which has the largest circulation of any periodical in this county.

The omission is not a slight against the paper as much as it is against tradesmen within the county of Lacombe. The school addition is being built with your tax funds . . . yet advertising for bids for the school addition appeared only in Edmonton and Red Deer papers.

Confident that with the action of an Edmonton architectural firm in charge of additions for the Bentley and Alix schools The Globe has planned notices for tenders in the daily papers, plus the local paper. This was a simple courtesy to district tradesmen who might wish to bid on contracts or sub-trade work. It was a courtesy which was not extended by the firm in Red Deer.

Canadian Centennial

CONSIDERABLE publicity is beginning to reach newspaper offices throughout the country as tentative plans are advanced for the proper observance of Canada's Centennial in 1967. The thought has even been advanced (from eastern Canada) that since the western provinces were not part of Canada at the time of confederation, interest in this country's 100th birthday celebrations is confined largely to the eastern provinces.

What balderdash! That is just the sagging that children in a family should show no interest in their parents' fiftieth wedding anniversary since they weren't present at the wedding ceremony.

Reflections of the Times . . .

The Negro Problem in The United States

It is increasingly clear that the American people are entering a new phase of the relations between Negroes and whites. The timetable is quickening. New techniques of protest are developing. Court actions and law enforcement are more final on both sides. But more than these the desire for change is increasingly becoming a demand for change and leadership is passing from one to many and is taking on the character of mass protest.

It is useful to stand aside for a moment to observe the trend as factually as possible, in order to seek a guide for conflicting policies and emotions.

The American scene is now becoming curiously a part of the world racial problem. Progress largely in the form of evolution within the United States has been confronted with the rollback of colonial control by white countries over countries of other races at something like revolutionary speed. The plight of the American Negro who has usually preferred orderly protest is overlooked by what happened when African students came to American Negro colleges and communities and said, "We have won our freedom. What are you doing about yours?"

At the same time there is a shift in what might be called the negotiating

Toronto Church Scene Of Wedding of Local Interest

St. Simon's Anglican church in Toronto, was the scene of a lovely wedding on April 27, when Miss Olive Elizabeth second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Grime of Clive, was united in marriage to Mr. Donald Alfred Woolley, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Woolley.

Rector H. Bedford Jones officiated at the double ring ceremony. Music was supplied by his church organist.

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride looked charming in a floor length gown of blue nylon over matching taffeta. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice and chiffon featuring bouffant skirt and a panel inset. A series of tucks and pearls held her shoulder length veil and she carried feather carnations and pink roses on a prayer book. Her jewelery were a tiny seed pearl necklace and matching earrings.

Miss Ruth Grime of Clive, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a gown of sea blue satin with matching head piece and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and white mums.

Mr. Jim Carter a friend of the groom, was best man.

The bride's mother chose a suit of dusty rose wool crepe with white accessories, complemented by a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Woolley the groom's mother wore a beige ensemble with fur stole and matching accessories. Her corsage was of yellow carnations.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Horner where a beautiful table flanked by lighted white tapers centered the bride's table.

Toast to the bride was proposed by Rector H. B. Jones to which the groom ably replied.

The bride changed to a shadow blue suit with accessories of platinum silverstone and a white carnation corsage.

Miss Sandra Burrows Honored at Trousseau Tea at Calgary

Mrs. E. W. Burrows of Calgary was hostess to a trousseau tea honouring her daughter Sandra Ann, prior to her marriage June 1.

The tea table was tastefully decorated with crystal bowls of feathered pink carnations and tapers.

Sharing pouring honours were Mrs. H. Strong, mother of the groom; Mrs. F. O. Vickerson of Lacombe, aunt of the bride, Mrs. F. Dixon and Mrs. A. H. McInnis Servitours were Mrs. H. Wood, Mrs. F. Pulton, Misses Bruce Moffatt, Rasmuck and Strong.

The bride-elect is a former resident of Lacombe, and is well known in town and district.

MOUTH TO MOUTH RESCUE BREATHING

... the approved easy method of artificial respiration

If victim is not breathing due to drowning, suffocation or electrocution, begin artificial respiration at once. Wipe out any foreign matter visible in the mouth, using your fingers or a cloth wrapped around your fingers.

Tilt victim's head back. Pull or push the jaw into a jutting-out position, thus creating direct air passage to the lungs. If the mouth (or jaw) will not open, seal the mouth and blow air into the victim's nose.

Open the victim's mouth, cover his mouth with your mouth, pinch his nostrils shut, and blow vigorously about 12 times a minute. If victim is a small child, place your mouth tightly over his mouth and nose and blow gently into his lungs about 20 times a minute.

If victim's chest does not rise, there may be foreign matter in his throat. If a small child, suspend him by the ankles or place the child in a jack-knife position with your arm under his stomach. Slap him sharply between the shoulder blades. Continue rescue breathing (mouth to mouth resuscitation.)

If victim is an adult lie him on the ground in a jack-knife position and slap him sharply between the shoulder blades. Continue with rescue breathing until help arrives.

EASY-TO-LEARN SURVIVAL FLOATING

Here is a proven method of staying afloat when in difficulty. It is easy to learn and takes advantage of your body's natural buoyancy to keep you afloat for hours. Practice these step-by-step instructions - they can save your life!

1. Take a deep breath and float vertically, chin forward close to chest. Relax completely and you will find you can hold your breath comfortably from 5 to 10 seconds. The back of your head will break the surface of the water.
2. Prepare for slow downward push by raising the arms to shoulder level, palms down, one leg extended forward the other backward. Begin exhaling through the mouth. Lift face gently out of water as you continue exhaling.
3. Eyes open, inhale through mouth as you push slowly downward with both hands. Do not waste energy by trying to raise shoulders above water.
4. When lungs are full, slide under water. As your head sinks under water continue slow downward movement of arms and/or legs to prevent sinking too deeply.

NEW
HARVESTS MORE CROP • PICKS UP FEWER STONES
Field-tested last year on the prairies, this remarkable new harvesting tooth is corrosion and brake pad-type has proven to be superior to conventional teeth. Flexi Tooth can be located closer to the ground. As a result less Loath harvests more crop per acre.
It picks up fewer stones — ensuring less pressure at market — less damage to cutting equipment. Mounted in rubber straps Flexi Tooth is quieter — maintains shape. It hasn't worn, and Lakehead as shown — if and doesn't "bind" as it does with conventional teeth.

Alix Boy Severely Mauled By Strange Dog at Eckville

ALIX — A little boy's love for and confidence in a dog lead to a tragedy on Sunday, May 26 when Ronnie two-year-old son of Mr and Mrs Harry Ketman was severely bitten and mauled about the face by a dog that he thought was a friendly animal he was accustomed to taking on his grandparents farm.

The big dog belonged to a resident of Eckville where the young boy was visiting. His sister was also bit by a local dog, but she was not immediately in the University hospital for further surgery that required more than two hours to perform. Glad to report that he is progressing nicely, and his parents regret him home next week end.

A good attendance of citizens responded for the political forum to be held in the UFA hall at 8 p.m. Monday evening June 3 when local candidates seeking election for provincial constituency for Lacombe will present their platforms.

Sympathy of neighbors and friends is offered Mr and Mrs A. Peterson and family who were bereaved last week by the death of a sister of Mr Belcher's father Mrs M. Pyrah and family of Edmonton.

June first winners were Wendy Lis, Mrs Tom Knight Sr 2, Mrs J. Cowan 2 Mrs J. Eberrett, Mrs T. Together 2, Mrs H. Elmo Sanderson 2, Mrs Filip Bartoli, Mrs A. Bartenbauer, Byron Wolger, Janet Chesney, Mrs. E. Ray, Mrs. Rottenhauser Sr. Bingo time is 8:00 p.m. in the community hall.

Regularity is the secret, as hundreds of thousands of the B of M's more than three million customers know. They're as much as they can spare each pay-day and their dreams are turning into reality

Ask Fred Parmenter manager at the Lacombe branch of the Bank of Montreal about it. He'll show you how easy it is — and how profitable — to open a savings account

Aspen Beach Elevator Being Torn Down

The United Grain Growers' elevator at Aspen Beach — is landmark at Gull Lake for the past 40 years is being dismantled this week.

Lack of business at the elevator has forced the abandonment of Aspen Beach as a grain elevator point. A new UGG elevator is being constructed at the village of Bentley and some of the material in the old elevator is being used in the construction of the new.

Crews of men are now busily engaged at the two points, a dismantling crew at Aspen Beach, and construction crew at Bentley.

Ronnie Hug, elevator agent at Aspen Beach, has been offered a similar elevator point in eastern Alberta, and is expected to leave within the next few days to take up his new duties there.

The elevator at Aspen Beach was a favorite landmark for boaters on Gull Lake, particularly sailing enthusiasts - and will be sadly missed as a visual homing point for lake traffic First grain was hauled to the Aspen Beach elevator in 1923 and its 25,000 bushel capacity was often filled to capacity during its 40 years of service

Bonanza Days Feature: "Lucky Bucks"

A new feature of Lacombe's Bonanza days July 2 to July 6 inclusive — will be the introduction of "Lucky Bucks"

Fifty one-dollar bills will be circulated through stores in town to be used in making change for shoppers Fifty of these bills will be redeemed at the conclusion of district board of trade for two dollars . . . a double-your-money proposition which will add an extra fillip to the town-wide promotion Full particulars of the manner in which the bills will be redeemed will be published shortly along with the serial numbers of the lucky bucks.

Plans for the 1963 Bonanza Days are well advanced. At least three bands will take part in the big parade on Thursday, July 4, starting at 11:00 a.m. Floats from many outside points will be entered, and a number of district 4-H clubs also plan floats

Other features of the big promotion will be the amateur of funny money and auction on July 6 the closing off of downtown streets where sales and booths will be operated a street dance on Friday July 5.

Coating For Dust

oil had been pressure-sprayed on residential streets He asked for and got permission to purchase another unit and started on the more widely-travelled streets in town. He strengthened his request by pointing out that although $1,300 had been spent on oiling so far ($1,200 was budgeted for) savings in other sections of the public works budget would meet the additional costs Council agreed to this addition to the oiling program The above picture was taken as the first application of oil was being applied

Vote Next Monday

NEXT Monday, June 17, electors of the province of Alberta will go to the polls to vote in a general provincial election. In this constituency three candidates will contest the seat which has been consistently held by the Social Credit party since 1935.

Liberal leader Dave Hunter, Progressive-Conservative leader Mel Harradence and NDP leader Neil Reimer all confidently expect to increase their representation in the next legislature. These parties don't need to be extremely successful at the polls to fulfill this hope. The Liberals and Conservatives hold but one seat each in the last house, the NDP none.

Even the most ardent anti-Social Crediter concedes the re-election of the government led by Premier Manning. It would be a sad state of affairs, though, if this government was returned to power with the overpowering majority which it received in 1959. Such a majority leads to a breakdown in the balance of power in the legislature which is the cornerstone of our democratic way of life.

Monday is election day. It is each elector's duty, including those who are 19 years of age and over, to vote and thereby share his choice.

A Good Question

THE request by the Lacombe ministerial association which asks each candidate to state his position relative to the securing of a custodial care institution for Lacombe and district is a good one.

Each elector should have a clear picture of the importance of the answer to this question, for a custodial care hospital in this area is urgently needed. Present facilities at the Lacombe municipal hospital are overtaxed to cope with the care required by older people who require "nursing home care", but do not necessarily need the much more expensive attention provided in an active hospital.

As this district becomes older in terms of settlement, so its population becomes older in terms of years. There are dozens of elderly residents — many of them pioneers of this district — who require personal nursing care. The few small private nursing homes which are already established in the area cannot hope to look after the numbers who require care which they cannot receive from their surviving relatives.

Old age is a and enough experience even when healthy. When it is combined with constant need of nursing care it becomes even more depressing.

Some provision must be made for the increasing number of oldsters to see that proper care for the chronically-ill is available for those who require it. Anything less is a gap in our social setup which cries out for attention. It will be interesting to hear the stand taken by the candidates on the question posed by the ministerial association.

No Coffee Parties?

STRICT enforcement of the Alberta Election Act is raising hob with political party coffee parties. Coffee parties enjoy prominence during the federal elections of the past few years. Electors were invited to sip coffee in large homes, on lawns, community centres and the like, at which time the candidate mingled with the guests, chatted about affairs of the day, and tried to impress all voters with his personality and worth as a representative. It has been a modern version of the "baby-kissing" practices of politicians of an earlier era.

But the Alberta Election Act reads that any candidate who serves free food and drink at a public gathering is guilty of a corrupt practice.

As a result, some planned coffee parties have been cancelled. Others are going ahead, but each guest will be charged ten cents for his or her own cup of coffee. Rules are not quite clear as to whether ten cents will be charged for the second cup.

It will be interesting to see how such a charge affects coffee party attendance. After these parties are over, candidates will be able to assess whether electors formerly attended only because of the free refreshments . . . or whether they feel that it's worth ten cents to meet their candidate.

The Highway Toll

THERE is some grim reading in figures recently released by the Alberta Safety Council which deal with traffic fatalities on Alberta highways and streets. Figures compiled up to the end of April show an increase of 13 in fatal accidents from those of one year ago. Injuries are up 8 accidents up 3% . In April 15 people met death on Alberta highways compared with 10 in April 1962. The year's total traffic toll reached 52 compared with 44 in the same date last year.

These are statistics, but they tell a tale of sadness and carelessness. There is no room, today, for drivers who are not aware that they control a machine which can be a harbinger of death.

As highway traffic mounts with summer vacation period ahead it becomes ever more important that car drivers drive with common sense. Excessive speed and impatience lead to most accidents. Don't let your name become a statistic.

Reflections of the Times . . .

A Talk on Bi-Culturism

H A Olson, member of parliament for Medicine Hat made a speech in the House of Commons on Tuesday, May 28, in which he dealt with his views on the bi-cultural issue in Canada and which will be of interest to our readers. His talk in part was as follows:

"In so far as the speech from the throne is concerned, first of all I should like to suggest that the preamble certainly does recognize the bi-cultural character of Canada. There are however, one or two commonly held thoughts which I believe are erroneous which are brought out in the speech from the throne. The first is the acceptance of Quebec from the rest of Canada. There is a reference to the French sector and the other nine provinces seem to be referred to as the English sector.

"Now, Mr Speaker in the past there existed the same division between eastern and western Canada. In that time the dividing line was somewhere west of Lake Superior. We had repeated references to the fact that there was a division some time I feel it would be unfortunate indeed if we were to now continue that line of thinking by moving the border to the Ottawa river.

"We have French communities in Alberta. We have French communities in many other parts of western Canada. In addition we have large numbers of people even in my own riding, with French ancestry I suggest too Mr. Speaker that we have a responsibility to all these people and that we should not be thinking in terms of dividing Canada into two sections.

I shall not labour the matter, enough except to point out I would like to see a division along the lines of separating Quebec from the rest of Canada in the so-called bicultural future of our country.

People come from Quebec to western Canada just as young people particular go to eastern Canada from Alberta, and there are social adjustments that have to be made in each case.

I shall not say more about that at this time except to state that I do not believe all the problems, in either English or French Canada, are going to be solved by bilingualism. People will learn other languages only when there is an economic need for them to do so. These language differences are not confined solely to Canada. Just a couple of years ago I noticed in the press where 1,500 people were demonstrating in Belgium with a view to separating Belgium into two countries one for those who speak French and the other for those who speak Flemish. Language difficulties are also present in many other major countries. India and China have a multiplicity of languages which divide them and make communication among their peoples almost impossible.

Aphids in Trees

Numerous enquiries have been coming into our office regarding the control of aphids appearing on maples, raspberries and other plants around the farmstead.

Aphids can be effectively controlled by spraying with a mixture of one teaspoon of Malathion in a gallon of water. Before spraying, however, we would recommend that a good look be taken at the situation. For example there may be many aphids in maple trees but at the same time there may be Lady Bugs present. Given the opportunity these Lady Bugs will take care of the aphids whereas spraying not only kills the aphids but also their natural enemies.

Save for the nuisance of the honey dew which drops from maple leaves attached by aphids very seldom is any permanent damage done. Given time, rain and Lady Bugs - the aphid problem on maple trees usually takes care of itself.

Spray For Weeds Now

Spraying for weeds while they are small pays big dividends. Spraying is most effective when weeds are very small. Not only do you get a good kill on the small but the chemical is done to the crop and subsequent crops is small.

The job of the chemical is to identify pests and give recommendations as to their control. This aids us for the benefit of farmers and gardeners in the province to get a use it.

Lacombe Globe
Dear Sir

Mr Aberhart's pre - election promises of $25 per month, a just price, interest-free loans and his endeavor to sell his scrip plan to the public ended in failure in 1937. In order to raise more money to spend, a system of licencing of traders and businesses came into effect which had to be renewed each year to boost the budget to almost double that of the last U.F.A. budget. This collection of licence fees continued for a good many years.

However, implementation of Social Credit was as far off as ever and the insurgents in the party at that time was a constant threat of defeat in the house. Premier Aberhart introduced a bill to appurtenant the Social Credit program providing for the appointment of a committee of five to study the bill could make Social Credit work.

This caused the insurgents to ... down their guns for a time and then passed the budget after a bout of 40 days. Now that the government has ... in its ... family again the Social Credit members voted themselves an additional $200 indemnity raising their pay from $1,600 to $2,000.

What connection the pay boost had with the sudden collapse of rebellion remains unexplained. The taxpayers regained themselves for another milking. However despite Premier Aberhart's pleading that they should be good boys and stop opening their ranks to the entry ... insurgents was still rampant among Social Credit M.L.A.'s who asked for his resignation.

Early in June 1937 J. J. Bowlen M.L.A. of Calgary moved for an inquiry into the cost of road construction carried on by the government. The Premier's rather ... explanation ... and funds went on week after week but when the Calgary city council asked to have the province assume its four share of relief ... unemployed, it was ... refused outright by the Alberta government supporting the government.

There is no insurrection today. Indemnities are about double what they used to be. Budgets are not delayed, but passed without much discussion due to lack of opposition. Taxes are higher than ever and debts have changed to dollars and taxes are at a peak and still climbing.

It is time for a change and you, the voters have the opportunity to do so on the 17th of June by voting Liberal.

Departing Resident Honored at Farewell Gathering at Alix

ALIX A number of members of the Senate, Citizens and W.I. gathered at the T. Ralston home Tuesday afternoon of last week when Mrs. J. Simpson was guest of honor as friends met to wish her happiness in her new home in Calgary. On behalf of the assembly group, Mrs. George Bell presented the departing guest with two cups and saucers and Presidents Mrs. Anne Phillips presented a W.I. pin as a token of the good wishes of that group.

All present enjoyed trying their luck at questions contributed by Mrs. J. Cowan, and hearing Mrs. M. Smith report "Mary had a Little Lamb" as it would be said in a language of different magnitude.

Mrs. Simpson thanked the ladies for the presents, and invited them all to visit her in Calgary.

Best wishes for success and contentment in her work to Tom Ralston who has been appointed village secretary-treasurer, succeeding Ralph Hornett, who has served the village well for many years.

Clearing Bee

A number of members of St. Peters W.A. gathered at the church for the annual cleaning bee Wednesday and invited that all the floors were thoroughly washed and other chores completed.

Mr and Mrs F Bell are home with the information that they have secured living accommodation in Saskatoon, which is to be their new home town. Alix ites almost hoped the Bells wouldn't find a new abode there as while they are glad for the sake of the Bells that Mr. Bell has such a job with the CNR, we are truly sorry to know that the family which has been such an active part of village life, are leaving.

H. Peters and family were glad to have A Allen from Lacombe as a Sunday visitor.

Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Brown, met with a serious painful accident Tuesday when he fell from the derrick of the oil drilling rig on which he was working in the Bashaw vicinity. In the fall he broke two vertebrae and injured his inner body. After receiving first aid, he was rushed to the University hospital in Edmonton, where surgery was performed. Paul's friends hope to hear favorable reports of his progress to recovery.

Kenneth Tingley visited his family in Alix last week end and reported that his new location, Grouard, on Lesser Slave Lake is a beautiful spot. He is looking forward with pleasure to making his home there for a while.

June meeting of the D. Irene Parish chapter of the IODE was held at the home of Mrs R. Hobart on Tuesday evening, June 4.

Business Needed

Congratulations of all who saw the camp kitchen as Diamond Lake is requested in making the place that will convey a favorable impression of the village, rather than then recently expressed when this was abandoned. Will some one kindly suggest a business that is needed in the camp and has had seen.

The provincial government constructed the kitchen for the use of anyone who wished outdoor facilities, but to date, local users have shown considerable interest in it, or to come up with any other plan. Such a remark does not include the AAAA, which did the only valuable clean-up job ever undertaken. Transient tenters and campers who are frequently seen during the summer certainly must pass on some uncomplimentary remarks concerning Alix. Perhaps we do when we clothe an unkempt spot!

Residents of village and district are glad that the seal coat of oil has been spread on main street. Mrs. Ralph Hornett and W.I. will improve satisfactory both as a dust, mud and roughness preventative.

A note from the postal inspectorial secretary in Penoka thanks all organizations for contributing of used magazines in the past. They do not, however, wish any more used magazines. Good used clothing for both men and women, and various small items that can be used for gifts is appreciated. As one of the magazine collectors, I wish to thank all who assisted in the project, and will again invite your co-operation if and when I find an outlet for magazines. Until then, no more please!

Mrs. R. Hornett's mother from Penhold, Alta. is a guest at the Hornett home.

Claire MacKenzie last week received his diploma as one of the graduates from the Sisters of Charity, commercial school at Hanna. His mother, Mrs. Hollie MacKenzie lives in Alix.

R. ROBERT PATRICK
Social Credit

I am proud to be the Liberal candidate in this election and to give the voters the opportunity to indicate that Albertans have not forgotten that Alberta was pioneered and built up by Canadians who supported the Liberal party.

The tone for a change has come — indeed it is overdue". One alarming indication of this "need for a change" is the fact that Social Credit have crammed 130 laws that make decisions which affect almost every level of our society. These laws are subject to the cabinet which, as we know is "ruled over" by Mr. Manning. The premier has created a climate where he seldom hears criticism and can never deal with it without resorting to scorn and sarcasm.

I remind you that it was the Liberals who started out as the governing body in the province in 1905 and with the help of the people they built the province out of the frontier. Their was imaginative planning gave us a University, Agricultural Colleges, school system, roads and railways and pointed the people of this province on the way to a promising future.

I now invite you to examine the 1963 Liberal program carefully. It represents a progressive and up-to-date assessment of what a provincial government should be doing for Albertans.

A few examples of the programs are:

- To reverse the trend to bureaucracy by reducing the number of boards, and providing an appeal to the courts from decisions of municipal and boards.
- Establish a veterinarian college in Alberta and negotiate V.H.A. benefits for farmers.
- Pass on a greater share of oil revenue to municipalities.
- Complete a second north south highway.
- Provide low cost power throughout Alberta.
- Create a provincial development fund to stimulate investment in Alberta by Albertans. Every Albertan will be able to buy shares and the money raised will be invested in Alberta industries to maintain the economy, provide jobs and to retain control of Alberta industry to a greater extent within the province.
- Base the property tax for education on a rate not to exceed 25 mills on an equalized assessment and to restore control to statutory levels of responsibility.

I pledge my personal effort to keep in close touch with and to work for the needs of all the people in this constituency. I solicit your support in this election and assure you that a Liberal vote is a vote to return Alberta to the political atmosphere which exists in the other major provinces of Canada.

In this campaign the unconstitutional use of "opposition" zone between this and the recent federal election has been granted out. It is essential for good government, then Alberta should be an excellent example that in Alberta we have a one-party government which has lost touch with the people and has become arrogant and impatient with the slow processes of the legislature. Proof of this lies in the fact that last year 2,000 orders-in-council were passed by the cabinet. The balance in the legislature must be restored.

The New Democrats Party offers a sound alternative to the present government program Our programs includes health insurance extended to all, comprehensive automobile insurance, crop insurance, and reductions in the property tax which finances education.

However we realize that a great deal of money is needed to implement a program such as this. We feel that great savings could be made in government spending, especially in the high wages Department of Government alone are advised by competent engineers that at least 5 to 10 million dollars could be saved without restricting expansion in any way.

We of the New Democratic Party believe that the government of Alberta should receive larger revenues from the oil companies. At present there is no consideration given to the oil which is pumped from beneath roadways. Several allowances occupy 2% of the land area a 2% tax should be levied on oil at the well head. This tax would net approximately 12 million dollars.

On a long term basis Alberta has the largest oil reserves in the world in the Athabasca oil sands. These sands contain over 2 billion barrels of oil. At a net profit of $5 per barrel this would amount to 25 billion dollars or enough to meet Alberta's present budget for seven hundred years. The present government has already leased over 2½ million acres of the sands to foreign oil companies. This is not necessary and will be replaced by a crown corporation development to pay to the province for the people of Alberta.

In the last eight years of 20 years to carry out the business of government but it does require hard work and a real desire to serve the people of Alberta. The New Democratic Party is ready to do this for you.

I wish to compliment The Lacombe Globe and to express my appreciation for this opportunity to place before the readers my reasons for asking for a renewed mandate for your Social Credit Government. I believe that government has demonstrated to you through its unparalleled achievements that it has furthered your interests to the point that Alberta has become the leading province in Canada.

We enjoy the highest standard of social services and our roads, schools hospitals and homes for the aged are unsurpassed. Our Queen Elizabeth scholarships, recreational facilities programs, street and sidewalk paving, urban foundations program and the Alberta Medical Plan which gives relief on October 1st, are all firsts on this continent. Little wonder that we lead all provinces in rate of population increase and economic progress.

I am confident you recognize the importance of keeping our economic climate healthy by resisting all efforts to nationalize industry or develop public ownership, thereby frightening away investment in our industrial development. At the same time we have retained the ownership of our natural resources and, from their development in the interests of all our people have obtained the highest rate of return of any area on this continent.

We are now completing the five-year development program you approved in 1959 and have prepared another comprehensive program for the years immediately ahead. May I remind you of a few important facts:

2 By far the greatest portion of municipal debt is borrowed from the province at low interest rates for services such as water and sewer whose revenue more than pays the principal and their rate is not a tax burden.

3 While other provinces have been adding new taxes Alberta is the only one reducing them. Gasoline tax is one which have been used, but ours is the lowest in Canada. We are now the only province without a sales tax.

In initiating such a record your Social Credit government under the leadership of Premier Manning has gained valuable experience in the administration of your public affairs which I pledge I use to further advance your interests I ask you to make sure to return a stable Social Credit government on June 18th.

Under the watchful eyes of coaches Tom Johnston and Don Gustafson, the boys have been hoisting regular practices, and are looking better with every outing. Team manager is Orest Schur.

Come on out to the ball park and see these baseball games. You'll enjoy them!

THE COST OF LIVING AND THE PRICE OF ELECTRICITY

Many things have contributed to the rise in our cost of living, but electricity is the exception.

PRICE OF ELECTRICITY TODAY 78% OF 1949

Electricity is 'cheaper by the dozen'. Because you're using more electricity today to save time, labour and money, the average cost per KWHr is 39% less than in 1949.

Instrumental and vocal selections together with prizes were also presented.

Good Rainfall Required Throughout District — Right Now

Rain is badly needed throughout the district — particularly in the Clive-Tees-Mirror-Alix areas — if the growing crop is to escape damage.

No sign of any consequence was recorded at the experimental farm here during the week, and with temperatures ranging daily up into the nineties, surface moisture has all but disappeared.

Blackfalds Tax Rate Drops 5 Mills

From our own correspondent

[illegible] the year was set at 34 mills, a reduction of 5 mills from last year, at a recent council meeting.

The volunteer fire brigade has been re-organized with 24 members under the leadership of Frank Ravis and Doug McNeil is acting as secretary of the group.

The council is negotiating the possibility of acquiring a more powerful watering unit and a new fire truck. Councillor Ben Gunn, who has represented Blackfalds on the Red Deer planning commission for several years, was re-appointed. Councillor Gunn is acting as civil defence director for the village and is hoping to organize first aid courses in the near future.

New system of lighting on the main streets is a definite asset. It is planned to extend this type of lighting to the whole village during the next few years. Oiling of the streets will continue during the summer as old bottoms unsuitable.

The Mayor and council wish to congratulate those residents who are improving the appearance of these property. There are some attractive gardens to be seen around the village.

It is also noted that more children are now using "Tayles Park", and it is hoped that parents will encourage their children to make use of this pleasant playground during the summer holidays.

"Funny Money" Use Starts Next Monday

"Funny Money"—a face-runner of the Bonanza Days promotion which starts on July 1 — will be distributed through Lacombe stores starting next Monday. A full week of funny money distribution will thus give shoppers a chance to collect the auction-purchasing bills before the actual start of Bonanza Days the following week.

This year's funny money promotion is a spot for the individual shopper's signature. The store-by-store will fill in the value of the funny money "Bill" — and the customer will sign it in his presence. These bills are not transferable and no sale will be completed from any of the big wind-up auction sale on July 6 unless all funny money bills tendered are signed by the same, bona fide purchaser.

Re-paving of 50th Avenue

It is good news that the provincial government will this year widen and pave number twelve highway from the cloverleaf west of Lacombe right through to Clive. The highway, to the east has long been in need of widening, and the addition of shoulders to this thoroughfare will make travel much safer. It is presumed that this widening will be continued through to Stettler within the next year or two.

The highway project is of especial interest to town residents since it will entail the re-paving of 50th avenue, from gutter to gutter.

Since this street was first paved 10 years ago, it has suffered nothing but indignities. Sewer line connections have caused many breaks in its original surface, and in its present condition it must surely be one of the roughest paved streets in the province.

Short, To The Point

It is the democratic right of any citizen to express himself freely on regulations which are designed to govern his conduct. Nowhere in the world is this right exercised more by the common man than in Great Britain, where individual rights were hardly won and are jealously guarded.

It was with a great deal of pleasure therefore, that we read in the Readers' Digest about the irritated Briton who took exception to new traffic restrictions, one-way streets and no-parking signs alongside British highways. This Briton fired off a telegram to the transport minister which was simple, direct and to the point. It read "To hell with you. Offensive letter follows."

The Battle For Efficiency

SUPPORTERS of socialism must find the results of economic planning in the communist countries a profound disappointment. Nowhere in the world was the theory of Marxist socialism embraced with greater fervor than by the leaders of the USSR. After some 40 years of government, the communists conception of socialism has yet to show that it is a workable system of government which brings more happiness and contentment to its people.

It is interesting to contrast the difficulties of trading in the communist countries of east Europe with the successes of the European common market in western Europe. Surely if ever there was an opportunity for successful application of the efficiency of complete government control on trade, the Russian-inspired Council for Mutual Economic Assistance, embracing eight countries, should provide it.

Formed in 1949, eight years before the western Common Market the communist counterpart is limping badly in comparison with successes attained in western Europe. Communist officials admit it will be another 15 to 20 years before their trading area reaches the state of integration already attained by common market countries.

Why? It is generally believed that political pressures rather than economic sense have entered into planning for the future. In western Europe, competition sets the standard for consumer purchases and prices, in the east these standards are set by bureaucrats. The relative merits of the two systems are plainly evident both in the prosperity of the workers and in the quality of the products.

Reflections of the Times . . .

Need For Water Conservation

Advanced civilization dating back to Babylon and before died in the dust because they failed to manage the water resources.

Today, some 60 million citizens of the United States, the most advanced nation on earth, face a serious water shortage.

Two-thirds of the world's population goes to bed hungry each night, and much of this problem traces directly to the fact that these people are either wasting their precious water or have not learned to manage and control it.

The contrast is sharp. In India, where thirst kills more people each year than cancer and tuberculosis combined, the per capita consumption of water for all purposes is five gallons per day. In the United States, we use, 1,500 gallons of water per person per day for all purposes.

With such abundance what is the problem?

Simply, this. Americans use 300 billion gallons of water a day. By 1980 this demand will double, and the resulting total is more water than is even now available in our nation.

Man is slowly learning some costly lessons in utilizing and conserving our vital water resources. But man still has not learned to fully control [illegible]

In South Dakota man has harnessed [illegible] and reduced disastrous flood damages, but man continues to relentlessly drain wetlands destroying nature's own catch basins and adding to the flood crests every season.

Man plans vast water conservation projects in the state but has ignored the problem of salination which may in a century, render our huge water supply unusable for human consumption or irrigation.

Man is becoming aware of the tremendous importance of clean water in recreation but continues to allow destruction of our lakes and streams by a wide assortment of pollutants.

Man, in semi-arid South Dakota knows the value of clean water for human consumption. Yet communities continue to vote against proper treatment of sewage, thus jeopardizing the welfare of their downstream neighbors and mortgaging the future of their children.

We cannot continue to squander or poison our waters if we are to survive.

What will it profit humanity to put intricate machinery into orbit, only to circle a dead earth which has died of thirst? — South Dakota Conservation Highlights

Parking Meter Debate

Parking meters are causing considerable indecision within the ranks of Drumheller city council although the subject was supposedly dealt with months ago.

Over two months ago Drumheller city fathers passed a resolution calling for the installation of meters on 1st St W between 3rd and Railway Avenues. However, the installation never took place and Monday night a petition signed by four businessmen in the block requested the meters not be placed in the area. Early in the year many of these same businessmen petitioned council to have the meters installed.

Livestock Survey Completed

A survey was conducted earlier this year to assess livestock resections to antibiotics. Reports disclosed that approximately 1,200 cattle have reacted in varying degrees over the past few years. [illegible] Penicillin and long-[illegible] long-term accounted for the majority of the reactions, according to Dr. Wilson Hudson, supervisor of bruce-lease control functions and sugar deaths were also reported from some of these attendees. Deaths occurred in animals with severe reactions soon after the drugs had been administered. Usually there was not time to give appropriate antidote treatment.

A mild reaction lasting about half an hour and causing shivers, [illegible] foot to the animal was reported with no after effects. However, a prolonged feeding of an antibiotic was diagnosed as the reason to blood and chemical changes in two groups of feedlot cattle says Dr. Brisbane. The possibility of the antibiotics destroying the normal rumen bacteria essential for proper digestion, was thought to be [illegible] of benefits.

Although the value of antibiotics for liver-rot diseases far outweighs the small percentage of unfavorable reactions it is very important to pay attention to the potential hazards associated with wide-spread and careless use of these drugs. So far the number of reactions [illegible] seem to significant but the [illegible] and antibiotics in livestock operations will doubtless bring more.

Dr. Brisbane point out that most antibiotics are only effective against certain bacteria. Thus an accurate diagnosis should always precede their use.

New Road Construction In Meadowbrook Area

MEADOWBROOK — The stretch of road from the Meadowbrook church corner east to the Key corner is now under construction.

It is with mixed feelings that people view road work going down along the roads. Trees are one of nature's most beautiful pieces of handiwork, but when they have no place along roads.

So to compensate for the beauty of the trees we must be happy that we can travel these roads come rain, shine or blizzard.

Squirrel-Chase Features Youngsters' Week at Clive

CLIVE — A squirrel in town caused interest and excitement when several small boys tried to catch it. When last seen, it was on top of the big electric light pole and the boys with sacks were ready to catch it when it came down. Knowing what was best for it, the squirrel stayed on top of the pole and well out of reach. It was still up the pole at the time the boys gave up and went home.

The children's gift to their parents was a silver tea service. Lenus Cubelka, on behalf of the community, presented the guests of honor with a gift of silverware and a tray. There were many other gifts and cards from relatives and friends.

Ladies of the district served a delicious lunch, including a wedding cake beautifully decorated by Mrs. K. Gienapp.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyon were married near Edmonton and lived there till 1946, when they moved to this district with their four children: Ken, now married and living at Alix; Jean, Mrs. Norman Archibald of Wolfville; Glen and Donnie at home. They have one grandchild.

Week-Long Vacation Bible School Is Planned at Alix To Start Monday, July 8

ALIX — Non-denominational vacation Bible school, sponsored by the United and Anglican churches at Alix, will be conducted in the United Church July 8 to 12 inclusive. Classes will meet at 9 a.m. and finished by the day at 12 noon except on Friday when there will be a final rally in the afternoon.

Mrs. Robertson will lead the sessions, assisted by Rev. Wayne Valentine; adult and junior teachers are needed. Please report at the worthwhile project.

Get well wishes to Robert (Bobbie) Marryat who underwent emergency surgery for appendicitis on Wednesday morning in Lacombe hospital.

We are glad to report that P. Marryat and Mr. C. Thomas are both home after being patients in Lacombe and University hospitals respectively.

Sincere sympathy is offered Mrs. M. R. Nadeau and family on their bereavement last Saturday in the death of a loved husband and father.

Congratulations to the IODE and Rebekahs on the nice job of cleaning up their playground. It really looks nice and is now a credit to the persons who fixed it up.

The welcome rain has veen— about 2.7 inches up to 6 p.m. Saturday and with it an unwelcome wind that has made perennials look as if a steam roller had flattened them. Despite regrets for the penny blossoms that the wind whipped off, we will be glad to have grass green again, as water pressure recently has made watering a slow process.

Water Safety Program

Interested persons are notified that registration forms for the water safety program sponsored by the Canadian Legion and to be conducted at Art Mahir's pool from July 22 to August 2 are available at the barber shop and the P.O. Adult and junior classes will be arranged if enrollment warrants same.

Legion members will assist at a work bee to assist in some preparatory work for this project.

Mrs. C. Kirby's sister, Mrs. Laura McGarry of Vancouver, is visiting Mrs. Kirby and other relatives in the vicinity.

Lismerton parishioners offer sympathy to a former rector, Rev. Mayor, who was bereaved recently by the death of his mother. Mrs. Mayor in their parish village of Wolseley, Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmitten and family, Mr. and Mrs. Allardson and several week-end parties returned home recently from planned swing in wet weather last week end.

Mrs. Barbara Foster motored to Bentley Sunday to attend the confirmation service there. Her daughter and son-in-law were confirmed into the Anglican church.

Mrs. I. Pinsoll was hostess for St. Pancras W.A. on Tuesday of last week when Mrs. M. Smith read an inspirational article stressing the value of looking backward and forward but remembering the important time is Now. Financial assistance for the vacation Bible school, and contributions to Camp Kananaskis expenditures were favored. Mrs. E. Beardsell, sick committee convener, asked to be relieved of her duties as she expects to be away for the next year or thereabouts. Mrs. M. Smith volunteered to carry on that work. A tea on for July and August was approved.

Miss Freda Becker is spending most of her annual holiday at home. Mrs. Flora Wilton is watching full time while Miss Becker is on holiday.

Mrs. Jock Weis entertained at a Sunday tea at the home of her mother Mrs. M. Horne on Thursday afternoon.

O.E.S. served a strawberry tea on Mrs. I. Pinsoll's lawn on Wednesday afternoon. All who attended thoroughly enjoyed very large piece of strawberry shortcake and the accompanying beverage.

Mrs. Dorothy Heidman and family of Spruce Grove are guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Mann.

Mrs. Ray Ball motored on Friday to Calgary to meet her husband, Raymond, who is home after a winter's work period in Ontario.

Bingo Almost Rained Out

It's too bad more people didn't attend the Saturday night bingo in the community hall. They would have easily seen the need for a new hall. Both fans and wash tubs were the order of the evening as they were needed to try and catch the rain that was leaking in through the roof. They would have had some difficulty in seeing this, as it being a cool evening there was a necessity for a fire and the way the furnace smokes there were times when it was difficult to see across the room. The regulars were brave enough to come out despite the rain and took home cash prizes as follows: Mrs. Les Lyle, Mrs. Bt. Elmo Sanderson (2), Mrs. Ray and Bartley (4), Mrs. J. Cheyne, T. Knight Sr. (2), Mrs. E. Jamieson (3), Mrs. E. Forsyth (2), and Mrs. H. Walper (2).

The Government of Alberta announces
THE ALBERTA MEDICAL PLAN

WHAT IS THE ALBERTA MEDICAL PLAN?
The Alberta Medical Plan is a measure to provide a pre-paymont medical plan covering the costs of medical, surgical and obstetrical services for all residents of Alberta, regardless of health, age, or financial circumstances. The Alberta Medical Plan provides for equal contributions toward premiums, payments for those in defined income levels.

HOW IS IT OPERATED?
Sponsored by the Government of Alberta and endorsed by the College of Physicians and Surgeons, this coverage is made available through the approved insurance companies in Alberta, members of the Canada Health Insurance Association and Medical Services (Alberta) Incorporated.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS?
Benefits under the Alberta Medical Plan provide for the payment of medical, surgical and obstetrical services (when connection occurs subsequent to the date of coverage) of any physician when required for preventive, diagnostic or therapeutic treatment and care, specialist and consultant services, anesthetic services, radiological and pathological services, and necessary laboratory services and diagnostic aids including X-rays when ordered and or provided by a medical practitioner.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?
This pre-payment plan is available in three categories on an individual basis—one person two persons
family of three or more persons.
As well, it is available on a group basis through your employer.

IS THE PREMIUM FIXED?
The Alberta government has fixed a maximum premium for all insurance companies and before this maximum premium is made more payable with the company of your choice, thus maintaining the regulation of this market place and the force of competition to the benefit of the insured.

IS THE PLAN LIMITED IN COVERAGE?
Enrollees under the Alberta Medical Plan are at liberty to combine the basic benefits available under the plan with additional benefits as they may choose in consultation with their insurance company. However, the premium charged for the combined coverage may not exceed the maximum rate established under the Alberta Medical Plan. Any extra fee additional to benefits must be the responsibility of the insured.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR PREMIUM SUBSIDY?
The Alberta Government will pay a portion of the premium for those residents of Alberta in the defined income levels. A resident to receive subsidy must be a person who has resided in Alberta for 12 months at the preceding 24 months.

Alberta residents whose taxable income is below the taxable level according to federal government tax regulations, will benefit from provincial government contribution toward premium rates on the following basis—one person $18.00 a year
two persons $42.00 a year
family of three or more $72.00 a year
In most cases those already covered under a group plan will benefit by the same contributions from the provincial government.

B.
Alberta residents whose taxable income is below $500 according to federal government tax regulations, will benefit from provincial government contribution toward premium costs on the following basis—
one person $9.00 a year
two persons $21.00 a year
family of three or more $36.00 a year
In most cases those already covered under a group plan will benefit by the same contributions from the provincial government.

WHEN IS THE PLAN EFFECTIVE?
The starting date for benefits under the Alberta Medical Plan will be October 1st, 1963.
Enrolment under the Alberta Medical Plan commences July 1st, 1963.

All persons who enrol prior to October 1st, 1963, will be eligible for benefits commencing October 1st. Enrolments after this date will become insured from the first day of the month after the month of application. No premium will be charged for this waiting period.

HOW DO I ENROLL?
Those applying for non-subsidized enrolment under the Alberta Medical Plan may enrol directly with the insurance company of their choice. Subsidized residents must complete and forward to the insurance company of their choice a government contribution application form which is available through the insurance company. A list of health insurance firms is included on the Alberta government information folder, available at Alberta government offices, any health unit, insurance office, or the office of your physician.

WHAT ADDITIONAL BENEFITS DOES THE ALBERTA MEDICAL PLAN OFFER?
1. Waiver of Premium
If a person, single or the head of a family, covered continuously under the Alberta Medical Plan for at least two years becomes totally disabled prior to age 65 as the result of an accident, injury or disease so as to be prevented from engaging in any gainful occupation, he will not be required to pay his monthly premium for a period of up to six months, starting the third month after his disability.
2. Health Check-up
After a contract holder has been covered by the Alberta Medical Plan for a continuous period of two years, he and his spouse shall be entitled annually to a routine examination to ensure their continuing good health.
3. Non-Cancellability of Coverage except for gross misuse, or non-payment of premium.

DOES THE PLAN OPERATE OUTSIDE ALBERTA?
In cases where a covered person obtains services as provided under the Alberta Medical Plan from a physician outside the Province of Alberta, the company carrying his insurance will pay the physician the same fee as if such services had been given in Alberta and the fee charged by the physician, whichever is the lesser. The insured person will be responsible for any additional fees the attending physician may charge.

ARE THERE EXCLUSIONS TO THE PLAN?
The following diseases, conditions and services are excluded from coverage:
All services not rendered by, or under the supervision or direction of, a physician; standard laboratory services and diagnostic aids, including X-rays while the insured person is in-patient in a recognized hospital; preventive procedures, and treatment of diseases and conditions for which the insured is the responsibility of the Workmen's Compensation Board; sterilization for reasons other than health, treatment for conditions or injuries resulting from actively engaging in war or riot; drugs, medicines and appliances; the examination of eyes for the purpose of eyeglasses; eyeglasses, hearing aids; care for the purpose of eyeglasses; eyeglasses, hearing aids; care for the purpose; physiotherapy and osteopathy; hospital fees or nursing services; ambulance service (when a fee is charged); services of a practitioner in travelling; all examinations by a physician or may be required for the use of a third party; services or supplies for which a claim under the contract, and at the time the claim arises has been paid or may be payable under any government plan or coverage, the liability of the approved carrier shall in no event exceed the difference between the amount of the claim and the amount payable under the other medical services insurance or coverage.

ARE THERE ANY SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS?
The head of a family who receives government contribution under the Alberta Medical Plan must cover himself and family. Any member of the family, under the age of 19 years, shall be entitled upon attaining the age of 19 years, to enrol as a covered person. Any working family shall be calculated from the effective date of the original family contract, provided application is made and the appropriate subscription is paid within 30 days of attaining the age of 19 years.
